Foucault's Pendulum Umberto Eco:

Foucault's Pendulum Umberto Eco, 2014-08-29 Three book editors jaded by reading far too many crackpot manuscripts on the mystic and the occult are inspired by an extraordinary conspiracy story told to them by a strange colonel to have some fun They start feeding random bits of information into a powerful computer capable of inventing connections between the entries thinking they are creating nothing more than an amusing game but then their game starts to take over the deaths start mounting and they are forced into a frantic search for the truth

The Dustbin of History Greil Marcus, 1995 How much history can be communicated by pressure on a guitar string Robert Palmer wondered in Deep Blues Greil Marcus answers here more than we will ever know It is the history in the riff in the movie or novel or photograph in the actor's pose or critic's posturing in short the history in cultural happenstance that Marcus reveals here exposing along the way the distortions and denials that keep us oblivious if not immune to its lessons Whether writing about the Beat Generation or Umberto Eco Picasso's Guernica or the massacre in Tiananmen Square The Manchurian Candidate or John Wayne's acting Eric Ambler's antifascist thrillers or Camille Paglia Marcus uncovers the histories embedded in our cultural moments and acts and shows how through our reading of the truths our culture tells and those it twists and conceals we situate ourselves in that history and in the world Rarely has a history lesson been so exhilarating With the startling insights and electric style that have made him our foremost writer on American music Marcus brings back to life the cultural events that have defined us and our time the social milieu in which they took place and the individuals engaged in them As he does so we see that these cultural instances as lofty as The Book of J as humble as a TV movie about Jan and Dean as fleeting as a few words spoken at the height of the Berkeley Free Speech Movement as enduring as a Paleolithic painting often have more to tell us than the master narratives so often passed off as faultless representations of the past Again and again Marcus skewers the widespread assumption that history exists only in the past that it is behind us relegated to the dustbin Here we see instead that history is very much with us being made and unmade every day and unless we recognize it our future will be as cramped and impoverished as our present sense of the past representation Biographies and Autobiographies in Modern Italy: a Festschrift for John Woodhouse Martin McLaughlin, 2017-12-02 Critical interest in biography and autobiography has never been higher However while life writing flourishes in the UK in Italy it is a less prominent genre The twelve essays collected here are written against this backdrop and address issues in biographical and autobiographical writing in Italy from the later nineteenth century to the present with a particular emphasis on the interplay between individual lives and life writing and the wider social and political history of Italy The majority of essays focus on well known writers D Annunzio Svevo Bontempelli Montale Levi Calvino Eco and Fallaci and their varying anxieties about autobiographical writing in their work This picture is rounded out by a series of studies of similar themes in lesser known figures the critic Enrico Nencioni the Welsh Italian painter Llewellyn Lloyd and Italian writers and journalists covering the Spanish Civil War The contributors all specialists in their fields are Antonella Braida Charles Burdett Jane Everson John Gatt Rutter Robert Gordon Gwyn Griffith Peter Hainsworth Martin McLaughlin Gianni Oliva Giuliana Pieri and Jon Usher The volume is dedicated to John Woodhouse on his seventieth birthday and concludes with a bibliography of his writings Researching Human Geography Anna Davies, Keith Hoggart, Loretta Lees, 2014-04-04 Researching Human Geography is an essential new text for any geography student about to embark on a research project An understanding of how different theories of knowledge have influenced research methodologies is crucial in planning and designing effective research this book makes this link clear and explores how various philosophical positions from positivism to post structuralism have become associated with particular methodologies The book gives an overview of a wide range of methods and data collection both quantitative and qualitative and explores their strengths and weaknesses for different kinds of research Researching Human Geography also looks at the various techniques available for the analysis of data which is presented as an integral and ongoing part of the research process Clearly written with extensive use of examples from previous research to show methodology in action this new text is an invaluable addition to both the theory and method of research in human geography The Rotarian , 1990-02 Established in 1911 The Rotarian is the official magazine of Rotary International and is circulated worldwide Each issue contains feature articles columns and departments about or of interest to Rotarians Seventeen Nobel Prize winners and 19 Pulitzer Prize winners from Mahatma Gandhi to Kurt Vonnegut Jr have written for the magazine The Alchemist in Literature Theodore Ziolkowski, 2015 Unlike most other studies of alchemy and literature which focus on alchemical imagery in poetry of specific periods or writers this book traces the figure of the alchemist in Western literature from its first appearance in the Eighth Circle of Dante s Inferno down to the present From the beginning alchemy has had two aspects exoteric or operative the transmutation of baser metals into gold and esoteric or speculative the spiritual transformation of the alchemist himself From Dante to Ben Jonson during the centuries when the belief in exoteric alchemy was still strong and exploited by many charlatans to deceive the gullible writers in major works of many literatures treated alchemists with ridicule in an effort to expose their tricks From the Renaissance to the

Enlightenment as that belief weakened the figure of the alchemist disappeared even though Protestant poets in England and Germany were still fond of alchemical images But when eighteenth century science almost wholly undermined alchemy the figure of the alchemist began to emerge again in literature now as a humanitarian hero or as a spirit striving for sublimation Following these esoteric romanticizations as scholarly interest in alchemy intensified writers were attracted to the figure of the alchemist and his quest for power The fin de siècle saw a further transformation as poets saw in the alchemist a symbol for the poet per se and others influenced by the prevailing spiritism as a manifestation of the religious spirit During the interwar years as writers sought surrogates for the widespread loss of religious faith esoteric alchemy underwent a pronounced revival and many writers turned to the figure of the alchemist as a spiritual model or in the case of Paracelsus in Germany as a national figurehead This tendency theorized by C G Jung in several major studies inspired after World War II a vast popularization of the figure in novels historical set in the present or juxtaposing past and present in England France Germany Italy Brazil and the United States The inevitable result of this popularization was the trivialization of the figure in advertisements for healing and cooking or in articles about scientists and economists In sum the figure of the alchemist in literature provides a seismograph for major shifts in intellectual and cultural history
