Badi H. Baltagi, 2009-06-22 This book is a companion to Baltagi's 2008 leading graduate econometrics textbook on panel data entitled Econometric Analysis of Panel Data 4th Edition. The book guides the student of panel data econometrics by solving exercises in a logical and pedagogical manner helping the reader understand, learn and apply panel data methods. It is also a helpful tool for those who like to learn by solving exercises and running software to replicate empirical studies. It works as a complementary study guide to Baltagi 2008 and also as a stand alone book that builds up the reader's confidence in working out difficult exercises in panel data econometrics and applying these methods to empirical work. The exercises start by providing some background information on partitioned regressions and the Frisch-Waugh-Lovell theorem. Then it goes through the basic material on fixed and random effects models in a one-way and two-way error components models, basic estimation, test of hypotheses and prediction. This includes maximum likelihood estimation, testing for poolability of the data, testing for the significance of individual and time effects as well as Hausman's test for correlated effects. It also provides extensions of panel data techniques to serial correlation, spatial correlation, heteroskedasticity, seemingly unrelated regressions, simultaneous equations, dynamic panel models, incomplete panels, measurement error, count panels, rotating panels, limited dependent variables and non-stationary panels. Econometric Analysis of Panel Data Badi

Baltagi, 2008-06-30 Written by one of the world's leading researchers and writers in the field, Econometric Analysis of Panel Data has become established as the leading textbook for postgraduate courses in panel data. This new edition reflects the rapid developments in the field, covering the vast research that has been conducted on panel data since its initial publication. Featuring the most recent empirical examples from panel data literature, data sets are also provided as well as the programs to implement the estimation and testing procedures described in the book. These programs will be made available via an accompanying website which will also contain solutions to end-of-chapter exercises that will appear in the book. The text has been fully updated with new material on dynamic panel data models and recent results on non-linear panel models and in particular work on limited dependent variables panel data models. Panel Data Econometrics Mike Tsionas, 2019-06-20

Time Series and Panel Data Econometrics M. Hashem Pesaran, 2015-10-01 This book is concerned with recent developments in time series and panel data techniques for the analysis of macroeconomic and financial data It provides a rigorous nevertheless user friendly account of the time series techniques dealing with univariate and multivariate time series models as well as panel data models It is distinct from other time series texts in the sense that it also covers panel data models and attempts at a more coherent integration of time series multivariate analysis and panel data models. It builds on the author's extensive research in the areas of time series and panel data analysis and covers a wide variety of topics in one volume. Different parts of the book can be used as teaching material for a variety of courses in econometrics. It can also be used as reference manual. It begins with an overview of basic econometric and statistical techniques and provides an account of stochastic processes, univariate and multivariate time series tests for unit roots, cointegration, impulse response analysis, autoregressive conditional heteroskedasticity models, simultaneous equation models, vector autoregressions, causality, forecasting, multivariate volatility models, panel data models, aggregation and global vector autoregressive models, GVAR. The techniques are illustrated using Microfit 5. Pesaran and Pesaran 2009 OUP with applications to real output, inflation, interest rates, exchange rates and stock prices.

The Oxford Handbook of Panel Data Badi Hani Baltagi, 2015. The Oxford Handbook of Panel Data examines new developments in the theory and applications of panel data. It includes basic topics like non-stationary panels, cointegration in panels, multifactor panel models, panel unit roots, measurement error in panels, incidental parameters and dynamic panels, spatial panels, nonparametric panel data, random coefficients, treatment effects, sample selection, count panel data, limited dependent variable panel models, unbalanced panel models with interactive effects and influential observations in panel data. Panel Methods for Finance Marno Verbeek, 2021-10-25. Financial data are typically characterised by a time series and cross-sectional dimension. Accordingly, econometric modelling in finance requires appropriate attention to these two or occasionally more than two dimensions of the data. Panel data techniques are developed to do exactly this. This book provides an overview of commonly applied panel methods for financial applications including popular techniques such as Fama-MacBeth estimation, one-way two-way and interactive fixed effects, clustered standard errors, instrumental variables and difference-in-differences. Panel Methods for Finance: A Guide to Panel Data Econometrics for Financial Applications by Marno Verbeek offers the reader focus on panel methods where the time dimension is relatively small. A clear and intuitive exposition with a focus on implementation and practical relevance. Concise presentation with many references to financial applications and other sources Focus on techniques that are relevant for and popular in empirical work in finance and accounting Critical discussion of key assumptions robustness and other issues related to practical implementation
