LMF Lexical Markup Framework Gil Francopoulo, 2013-05-06 The community responsible for developing lexicons for Natural Language Processing NLP and Machine Readable Dictionaries MRDs started their ISO standardization activities in 2003 These activities resulted in the ISO standard Lexical Markup Framework LMF After selecting and defining a common terminology the LMF team had to identify the common notions shared by all lexicons in order to specify a common skeleton called the core model and understand the various requirements coming from different groups of users The goals of LMF are to provide a common model for the creation and use of lexical resources to manage the exchange of data between and among these resources and to enable the merging of a large number of individual electronic resources to form extensive global electronic resources The various types of individual instantiations of LMF can include monolingual bilingual or multilingual lexical resources The same specifications can be used for small and large lexicons both simple and complex as well as for both written and spoken lexical representations The descriptions range from morphology syntax and computational semantics to computer assisted translation The languages covered are not restricted to European languages but apply to all natural languages The LMF specification is now a success and numerous lexicon managers currently use LMF in different languages and contexts This book starts with the historical context of LMF before providing an overview of the LMF model and the Data Category Registry which provides a flexible means for applying constants like grammatical gender in a variety of different settings It then presents concrete applications and experiments on real data which are important for developers who want to learn about the use of LMF

Front Page Economics Gerald D. Suttles, Mark D. Jacobs, 2011-02-15 In an age when pundits constantly decry overt political bias in the media we have naturally become skeptical of the news But the bluntness of such critiques masks the highly sophisticated ways in which the media frame important stories In Front Page Economics Gerald Suttles delves deep into the archives to examine coverage of two major economic crashes in 1929 and 1987 in order to systematically break down the way newspapers normalize crises Poring over the articles generated by the crashes as well as the people in them the writers who wrote them and the cartoons that ran alongside them Suttles uncovers dramatic changes between the ways the first and second crashes were reported In the intervening half century an entire new economic language had arisen and the practice of business journalism had been completely altered Both of these transformations Suttles demonstrates allowed journalists to describe the 1987 crash in a vocabulary that was normal and familiar to readers rendering it routine A subtle and probing look at how ideologies are packaged and transmitted to the casual newspaper reader Front Page Economics brims with important insights that shed light on our own economically tumultuous times

Writing the Mountains Jens Klenner, 2024-05-16 Writing the Mountains reconsiders the role of mountains in German language fiction from 1800 to the present and argues that in a range of texts from E T A Hoffmann's Die Bergwerke zu Falun 1819 to Elfriede Jelinek's Die Kinder der Toten 1995 and beyond mountains serve as dynamic spaces of material change that generate aesthetic and narrative innovation In contrast to dominant critical approaches to the Alpine landscape in literature in which mountain ranges often features as passive settings or which trace the influence of geographical and geological sciences in literary productions this study argues for the dynamic role in literature of presumably rigid mineral structures In German language fiction after 1800 the counter intuitive topology of rocky mountain ranges and unfathomable subterranean depths of the Alpine imaginary functions as a space of exception which appears to reconfirm and radically challenge the foundations of Enlightenment thought Writing the Mountains reads the mountain range as a rigid yet permeable liminal space Within this zone semiotic orders are unsettled as is the division between organic and inorganic between the human and the other The Vocabulary Miracle Pasquale De Marco,2025-07-16 breaking collection of essays You Are Here James Pollock gives his answer that where we are as a literary culture has a great deal to do with our relationship to elsewhere For far too long Canadians have refused to read our poetry in the larger international context of poetry as an art leaving our poets isolated and ignored Pollock sets out to situate our verse on the map of world poetry a map which like one of those incomplete globes from the sixteenth century still leaves Canada largely uncharted Acutely intelligent and unflinchingly honest in its judgements You Are Here is an eye opening guide to the new world of Canadian poetry sensitively exploring the work of such poets as Anne Carson Daryl Hine Jeffery Donaldson Karen Solie and Eric Ormsby The collection ends with a witty treatise on good criticism and a passionate and learned reconsideration of poetic values making You Are Here an essential companion for students and lovers of Canadian poetry
