ASIA'S MEGACITIES Andrea Pistolessi, Massimo Morello, 2014-11-17 According to many observers the 21st century will see the centre of global power shift from West to East The Asian megacities presented in this book form the heart of this new centre where economic indicators often hit double digit figures The book is not a guide to these cities It is a nonfiction journalistic account that aims to provide a very personal in the eyes of the writer and photographer outlook on this new world through its most powerful symbols It may be a useful tool for those wanting to do business start a new career or even a new life For those wanting to distance themselves from a Euro centric vision and understand how the world could be changing For better or worse Subcreation: Fictional-World Construction from J.R.R. Tolkien to Terry Pratchett and Tad Williams Stefanie Schult, 2017-01-26 The doctoral thesis argues that the term Subcreation with its revised and broadened definition in part differing from J R R Tolkien's original term sub creation may be used for the discussion of the making of fictional worlds in literary discourse The successful conception of a fictional world depends on the reader's willing suspension of disbelief This depends both on the author and his skilled composition of the world and all its aspects as well as on the reader's acceptance of this invented fictional world The author needs to create a narrative with an inner consistency which is crucial to achieving the effect of the reader's immersion in the fictional world The fundamental aspects that an author needs to realize to achieve successful Subcreation have been structured into and analysed in four categories Language and Linguistic Variation Physiopoeia Anthropoeia and Mythopoeia Furthermore this thesis shows that as contemporary examples of fantastic literature both Tad Williams's and Terry Pratchett's fictional worlds are successfully created through the realization of these aspects of Subcreation Apart from commenting on the success of the subcreative process this thesis also remarks upon the cultural influences both authors include in their writings While both may be considered Anglophone in a general categorization Pratchett's Discworld retains a feeling of Britishness that is not to be found in Williams's Otherland The thesis proposes several approaches to Subcreation that may be studied subsequently So for example it may be possible to determine the success of an author's Subcreation by collecting empirical data Apart from

Torrente, 2014-09-09 This is a story about two people but I'm the only one telling it Many authors have wrestled with the death of a father in their writing but few have grappled with the subject as fiercely or as powerfully as the brilliant Spanish writer Marcos Giralt Torrente does in Father and Son the mesmerizing and discomfiting memoir that won him Spain's highest literary award the Spanish National Book Award Giralt Torrente is best known for his fiction but it is in this often savage memoir that he demonstrates the full measure of his gifts In the months following his father's death from cancer Giralt Torrente could not write until he began to write about his father In many ways they were strangers to each other after his parents relationship ended when he was quite young Giralt Torrente's father remained in contact with him but held himself at a distance Silences began to linger prompted by Giralt Torrente's anger at his father's lies and absences and perpetuated by their inability to speak about the sources of the conflicts between them But despite their differences they had a strong bond and in the months leading up to his father's death from cancer they groped toward reconciliation Here the author commits to exploring it all sparing neither his father nor himself conscious of their flaws but also understanding of them Weaving together history and personal narrative Giralt Torrente crafts a startlingly honest account of a complex relationship and an indelible portrait of both father and son Beautifully translated by Natasha Wimmer the award winning translator of Roberto Bolaño and as lyrical and clear eyed on mourning as Joan Didion's The Year of Magical Thinking Father and Son is an uncommonly gripping memoir by an uncommonly talented writer 21st Century Japan Trevor Harrison, 2008
