Tone Orthography and Literacy David Roberts, Stephen L. Walter, 2021-07-15 This book presents the results of a series of literacy experiments in ten Niger Congo languages representing four language families and spanning five countries It asks the research question To what extent does full tone marking contribute to oral reading fluency comprehension and writing accuracy and does that contribution vary from language to language One of the main findings is that the ethno literacy profile of the language community and the social profile of the individual are stronger predictors of reading and writing performance than are the linguistic and orthographic profiles of the language Our data also suggest that full tone marking may be more beneficial for less educated readers and those with less experience of L1 literacy The book will bring practical help to linguists and literacy specialists in Africa and beyond who are helping to develop orthographies for tone languages It will also be of interest to cognitive psychologists exploring the reading process and researchers investigating writing systems

Long-Distance Nationalism in the Global City Bennett Eason Cross, 2022-08-15 Focusing on migration within the global south Bennett Eason Cross uses the example of the Malian trade diaspora in Lagos to argue that aspects of the original model of the transmigrant were based on labor migrations from global south to global north that are not representative of their south to south counterparts In Long Distance Nationalism in the Global City A Cultural History of the Malian Diaspora in Lagos Nigeria Cross notes that the cultural and racial differences between migrant communities and their host societies in Europe and the U S are often narrower or even nonexistent in south to south migrations which shapes different outcomes As this multi site case study reveals however these differences in outcome can seem counterintuitive as immigrants in the north typically develop loyalties to both origin and host nations whereas among the Malians in Lagos affinity for the host nation was virtually nonexistent despite a common regional culture He complicates the standard bilateral struggle for belonging between host and origin societies by examining the role of Islam both as a parallel transnational movement and as a competing localized form This book analyzes the deep historical structure of each society to explain the Malians failure to develop the multiple national identities observed in other diasporas

An Ethos of Transdisciplinarity Sanya Osha, 2025-04-01 Toyin Falola s astounding intellectual production must be one of the mysteries in the intellectual world It has transcended the confined world of historical research into broader horizons that include the role of the public intellectual The present study would undertake a rigorous analysis of the origins continuities and discontinuities of this transformation This means we have to recast the debates regarding who is a public intellectual from a multiplicity of discursive situations and historical and cultural contexts We have to employ methodological parallels from North Atlantic intellectual traditions How did the role of the public intellectual emerge in the first place in world intellectual history Addressing this question would enrich this research endeavour immensely In interrogating comparative discursive formations we shall re evaluate the roles functions and achievements of continental intellectuals such as Bertrand Russell Jean Paul Sartre Andre Malraux Albert Camus Michel Foucault Edward Said Wole Soyinka and Pierre Bourdieu Again this discursive element will give this study a global appeal and range

The Good, the Bad, and the Beautiful Barry Hallen, 2000-12-22 The Good the Bad and the Beautiful Discourse about Values in Yoruba Culture Barry Hallen Reveals everyday language as the key to understanding morals and ethics in Yoruba culture This contrasts with any suggestion that in Yoruba or more generally African society moral thinking manifests nothing much more than a supine acquiescence in long established communal values Hallen renders a great service to African philosophy Kwasi Wiredu In Yoruba culture morality and moral values are intimately linked to aesthetics The purest expression of beauty at least for human beings is to possess good moral character But how is moral character judged How do actions and especially words reveal good moral character in a culture that is still significantly based on oral tradition In this original and intimate look at Yoruba culture Barry Hallen asks the Yoruba onisekun the wisest and most accomplished herbalists or traditional healers individuals justly reputed to be well versed in Yoruba thought and expression what it means to be good and beautiful Posed as an outsider wanting to gain understanding of how to speak Yoruba correctly Hallen engages the onisekun and has them explain the subtleties and intricacies of Yoruba language use and the philosophy behind particular word choices Their instructions reveal a striking and profound depiction of Yoruba aesthetic and ethical thought The detailed interpretations of everyday language that Hallen supplies challenge prevailing Western views that African thought is nothing more than acquiescence to long established religious or communal values The philosophy of ordinary language reveals that moral reflection is indeed individual and that evaluations of action and character take place on the basis of clearly and logically delineated criteria With the onisegun as his guides Hallen identifies the priorities of Yoruba philosophy and culture through everyday expression and shows that there are rational pathways to both truth and beauty Barry Hallen has taught philosophy at the Obafemi Awolowo University formerly University of Ife in Nigeria He is a Fellow at the W E B DuBois Institute for Afro American Research at Harvard University and Visiting Professor of Philosophy at Morehouse College He is coauthor with J Olubi Sodipo of Knowledge Belief and Witchcraft Analytic Experiments in African Philosophy Contents Ordinary Language and African Philosophy Moral Epistemology Me My Self and My Destiny The Good and the Bad The Beautiful Rationality Individuality Secularity and the Proverbial Appendix of Yoruba Language Quotations Glossary of Yoruba Terms Igbo-English, English-Igbo Dictionary and Phrasebook Nicholas Awde, Onyekachi Wambu, 1999 Offers five thousand vocabulary entries arranged in thirty four sections dealing with aspects of daily life
