Writing Ethnographic Fieldnotes Chicago Guides To Writing Editing And Publishing 2nd Second Edition:

Writing Ethnographic Fieldnotes, Second Edition Robert M. Emerson, Rachel I. Fretz, Linda L. Shaw, 2011-12-25 In Writing Ethnographic Fieldnotes Robert M Emerson Rachel I Fretz and Linda L Shaw present a series of guidelines suggestions and practical advice for creating useful fieldnotes in a variety of settings demystifying a process that is often assumed to be intuitive and impossible to teach Using actual unfinished notes as examples the authors illustrate options for composing reviewing and working fieldnotes into finished texts They discuss different organizational and descriptive strategies and show how transforming direct observations into vivid descriptions results not simply from good memory but from learning to envision scenes as written A good ethnographer they demonstrate must learn to remember dialogue and movement like an actor to see colors and shapes like a painter and to sense moods and rhythms like a poet This new edition reflects the extensive feedback the authors have received from students and instructors since the first edition was published in 1995 As a result they have updated the race class and gender section created new sections on coding programs and revising first drafts and provided new examples of working notes An essential tool for budding social scientists the second edition of Writing Ethnographic Fieldnotes will be invaluable for a new generation of researchers entering the field The Craft of Research, 2nd edition Wayne C. Booth, Gregory G. Colomb, Joseph M. Williams, 2008-04-15 Since 1995 more than 150 000 students and researchers have turned to The Craft of Research for clear and helpful guidance on how to conduct research and report it effectively Now master teachers Wayne C Booth Gregory G Colomb and Joseph M Williams present a completely revised and updated version of their classic handbook Like its predecessor this new edition reflects the way researchers actually work in a complex circuit of thinking writing revising and rethinking It shows how each part of this process influences the others and how a successful research report is an orchestrated conversation between a researcher and a reader Along with many other topics The Craft of Research explains how to build an argument that motivates readers to accept a claim how to anticipate the reservations of thoughtful yet critical readers and to respond to them appropriately and how to create introductions and conclusions that answer that most demanding question So what Celebrated by reviewers for its logic and clarity this popular book retains its five part structure Part 1 provides an orientation to the research process and begins the discussion of what motivates researchers and their readers Part 2 focuses on finding a topic planning the project and locating appropriate sources This section is brought up to date with new information on the role of the Internet in research including how to find and evaluate sources avoid their misuse and test their reliability Part 3 explains the art of making an argument and supporting it The authors have extensively revised this section to present the structure of an argument in clearer and more accessible terms than in the first edition New distinctions are made among reasons evidence and reports of evidence The concepts of qualifications and rebuttals are recast as acknowledgment and response Part 4 covers drafting and revising and offers new information on the visual representation of data Part 5 concludes the book with an updated discussion of the ethics of research as well as an expanded bibliography that includes many electronic sources The new edition retains the accessibility insights and directness that have made The Craft of Research an indispensable guide for anyone doing research from students in high school through advanced graduate study to businesspeople and government employees The authors demonstrate convincingly that researching and reporting skills can be learned and used by all who undertake research projects New to this edition Extensive coverage of how to do research on the internet including how to evaluate and test the reliability of sources New information on the visual representation of data Expanded bibliography with many electronic sources

Writing for Social Scientists Howard S. Becker, 2008-11-15 Students and researchers all write under pressure and those pressures most lamentably the desire to impress your audience rather than to communicate with them often lead to pretentious prose academic posturing and not infrequently writer's block Sociologist Howard S. Becker has written the classic book on how to conquer these pressures and simply write First published nearly twenty years ago Writing for Social Scientists has become a lifesaver for writers in all fields from beginning students to published authors Becker's message is clear in order to learn how to write take a deep breath and then begin writing Revise Repeat It is not always an easy process as Becker wryly relates Decades of teaching researching and writing have given him plenty of material and Becker neatly exposes the foibles of academia and its publish or perish atmosphere Wordiness the passive voice inserting a the way in which when a simple how will do all these mechanisms are a part of the social structure of academic writing By shrugging off such impediments or at the very least putting them aside for a few hours we can reform our work habits and start writing lucidly without worrying about grades peer approval or the literature In this new edition Becker takes account of major changes in the computer tools available to writers today and also substantially expands his analysis of how academic institutions create problems for them As competition in academia grows increasingly heated Writing for Social Scientists will provide solace to a new generation of frazzled would be writers

Digital Culture & Society (DCS) Annika Richterich, Karin Wenz, Pablo Abend, Mathias Fuchs, Ramón Reichert, 2017-06-15 Digital Culture Society is a refereed international journal fostering discussion about the ways in which digital technologies platforms and applications reconfigure daily lives and practices It offers a forum for inquiries into digital media theory methodologies and socio technological developments The fourth issue Making and Hacking sheds light on the communities and spaces of hackers makers DIY enthusiasts and fabbers Academics artists and hackerspace members examine the meanings and entanglements of maker and hacker cultures from conceptual methodological as well as empirical perspectives With contributions by Sabine Hiescher Jeremy Hunsinger Kat Braybrooke Tim Jordan among others and an interview with Sebastian Kubitschko

Territorial Change and Conflict in Indonesia Ratri Istanita, 2022-12-30 This book focuses on Indonesia and investigates why competition between various identity affiliated groups to claim a new province increases conflict severity It includes a quantitative study along with complementary case studies of provinces in Indonesia which provide evidence that group fragmentation plays a role in determining conflict during a new province's struggle. Against the background of the Indonesian government's territorial autonomy (TA) strategy, regional proliferation or pemekaran, the author examines the long-term decentralization project in Indonesia, which has an ethnically and religiously divided population. The book provides answers to the questions of how the new province claim increases conflict in the supporting districts and how competition among diverse elites in districts pursuing a new province precipitate conflict within the region. Based on extensive field research, the four case studies of districts with varying degrees of conflict reveal that the campaign for a new province proliferation increases the probability of conflict at the district level and conflict can escalate during the initiation of a new province stage. The author argues that more provinces may be necessary to ensure the fair distribution of wealth that would enable the whole population to enjoy a similar quality of life and that the Indonesian government needs to wisely and strategically uphold its unity if a federal arrangement is not an option. Offering a novel contribution to the study of the relationship between territorial change and conflict in Indonesia, this book will be of interest to academics studying Indonesian politics, Southeast Asian politics, as well as identity and ethnic politics.

Environmental Communication and Community Tarla Rai Peterson, Hanna Ljunggren Bergeå, Andrea M. Feldpausch-Parker, Kaisa Raitio, 2016-04-28 As society has become increasingly aware of environmental issues, the challenge of structuring public participation opportunities that strengthen democracy while promoting more sustainable communities has become crucial for many natural resource agencies, industries, interest groups, and publics. The processes of negotiating between the often disparate values held by these diverse groups and formulating and implementing policies that enable people to fulfil goals associated with these values can strengthen communities as well as tear them apart. This book provides a critical examination of the role communication plays in social transition through both construction and destruction of community. The authors examine the processes and practices put in play when people who may or may not have previously seen themselves as interconnected communicate with each other, often in situations where they are competing for the same resources. Drawing upon a diverse selection of case studies on the American, Asian, and European continents, the chapters chart a range of approaches to environmental communication, including symbolic construction, modes of organising, and agonistic politics of communication. This volume will be of great interest to researchers, teachers, and practitioners of environmental communication, environmental conflict, community development, and natural resource management.

Naked Fieldnotes Denielle Elliott, Matthew J. Wolf-Meyer, 2024-02-20 Creative and diverse approaches to ethnographic knowledge production and writing. Ethnographic research has long been cloaked in mystery around what fieldwork is really like for researchers, how they collect data, and how it is analyzed within the social sciences. Naked Fieldnotes, a unique compendium of actual fieldnotes from contemporary ethnographic researchers from various modalities and research traditions, unpacks how this research works, its challenges, and its possibilities. The volume pairs fieldnotes based on observations, interviews, drawings, photographs soundscapes and other contemporary modes of recording research encounters with short reflective essays offering rich examples of how fieldnotes are composed and shaped by research experiences These essays unlock the experience of conducting qualitative research in the social sciences providing clear examples of the benefits and difficulties of ethnographic research and how it differs from other forms of writing such as reporting and travelogue By granting access to these personal archives Naked Fieldnotes unsettles taboos about the privacy of ethnographic writing and gives scholars a diverse multimodal approach to conceptualizing and doing ethnographic fieldwork Contributors Courtney Addison Te Herenga Waka Victoria U of Wellington Patricia Alvarez Astacio Brandeis U Sareeta Amrute The New School Barbara Andersen Massey U Auckland New Zealand Adia Benton Northwestern U Letizia Bonanno U of Kent Alexandrine Boudreault Fournier U of Victoria Michael Cepek U of Texas at San Antonio Michelle Charette York U Tom s Criado Humboldt U of Berlin John Dale George Mason U Elsa Fan Webster U Kelly Fayard U of Denver Michele Friedner U of Chicago Susan Frohlick U of British Columbia Okanagan Syilx Territory Angela Garcia Stanford U Danielle Gendron U of British Columbia Mascha Gugganig Technical U Munich Natalia Gutkowski Hebrew U of Jerusalem T S Harvey Vanderbilt U Saida Hod ic Cornell U K G Hutchins Oberlin College Basit Kareem Iqbal McMaster U Emma Kowal Deakin U in Melbourne Mathangi Krishnamurthy IIT Madras Shyam Kunwar Margaret MacDonald York U in Toronto Stephanie McCallum U Nacional de San Mart n and U de San Andr s Argentina Diana Ojeda Cider U de los Andes in Bogot Colombia Valerie Olson U of California Irvine Patrick Mbullo Owuor Northwestern U Stacy Leigh Pigg Fraser U Jason Pine Purchase College State U of New York Chiara Pussetti U of Lisbon Tom Rice U of Exeter Leslie A Robertson U of British Columbia Vancouver Yana Stainova McMaster U Richard Vokes U of Western Australia Russell Westhaver Saint Mary s U in Nova Scotia Paul White U of Nevada Reno

Writing Ethnographic Fieldnotes Robert M. Emerson, Rachel I. Fretz, Linda L. Shaw, 1995-01 In this companion volume John van Maanen s Tales of the Field three scholars reveal how the ethnographer turns direct experience and observation into written fieldnotes upon which an ethnography is based Drawing on years of teaching and field research experience the authors develop a series of guidelines suggestions and practical advice about how to write useful fieldnotes in a variety of settings both cultural and institutional Using actual unfinished working notes as examples they illustrate options for composing reviewing and working fieldnotes into finished texts They discuss different organizational and descriptive strategies including evocation of sensory detail synthesis of complete scenes the value of partial versus omniscient perspectives and of first person versus third person accounts Of particular interest is the author s discussion of notetaking as a mindset They show how transforming direct observations into vivid descriptions results not simply from good memory but more crucially from learning to envision scenes as written A good ethnographer they demonstrate must learn to remember dialogue and movement like an actor to see colors and shapes like a painter and to sense moods and rhythms like a poet The authors also emphasize the ethnographer s core interest in presenting the perceptions and meanings which the people studied attach to their own actions They demonstrate the subtle ways that writers can make the voices of people heard in the texts they produce Finally they analyze the processing of fieldnotes the practice of coding notes to identify themes and methods for selecting and weaving together fieldnote excerpts to write a polished ethnography This book however is more than a how to manual The authors examine writing fieldnotes as an interactive and interpretive process in which the researcher's own commitments and relationships with those in the field inevitably shape the character and content of those fieldnotes They explore the conscious and unconscious writing choices that produce fieldnote accounts And they show how the character and content of these fieldnotes inevitably influence the arguments and analyses the ethnographer can make in the final ethnographic tale This book shows that note taking is a craft that can be taught Along with Tales of the Field and George Marcus and Michael Fisher's Anthropology as Cultural Criticism Writing Ethnographic Fieldnotes is an essential tool for students and social scientists alike including manuals bibliographies indexes databases literature surveys and reviews dissertations book reviews conference proceedings awards and employment and grant sources The organization closely follows that of the 1st edition with some much needed additions relating to online resources and new areas of interest within the field such as forensic anthropology environmental anthropology and Lesbian Bisexual Gay and Transgendered Anthropology Separate sections focus on individual subfields as well as emerging concerns such as ethical issues in cultural heritage preservation For academic and research library collections as well as faculty members in anthropology area studies and intercultural studies Missional

Life in Practice and Theory Christopher L. Flanders, Greg McKinzie, 2024-01-19 Few missiologists have impacted mission theory and practice among Churches of Christ as significantly as has Dr Gailyn Van Rheenen yet his global missiological influence has extended far beyond the boundaries of his denominational heritage This Festschrift in honor of Gailyn Van Rheenen contains original missiological contributions from colleagues and former students Most chapters were presentations at the inaugural Gailyn Van Rheenen Sessions in Mission and World Christianity at the 2021 Christian Scholars Conference in Nashville Tennessee The volume is organized to parallel the phases of Van Rheenen s career Africa academic missiology and Mission Alive a North American church planting organization His legacy is one that wonderfully embodies critical theory and robust practice Tales of the Field John Van Maanen, 2011-07

Once upon a time ethnographers returning from the field simply sat down shuffled their note cards and wrote up their descriptions of the exotic and quaint customs they had observed Today scholars in all disciplines are realizing how their research is presented is at least as important as what is presented Questions of voice style and audience the classic issues of rhetoric have come to the forefront in academic circles John Van Maanen an experienced ethnographer of modern organizational structures is one who believes that the real work begins when he returns to his office with cartons of notes and tapes In Tales of the Field he offers readers a survey of the narrative conventions associated with writing about culture and an analysis of the strengths and weaknesses of various styles He introduces first the matter of fact realistic report of classical ethnography then the self absorbed confessional tale of the participant observer and finally the dramatic vignette of the new impressionistic style He also considers more briefly literary tales jointly told tales and the theoretically focused formal and critical tales Van Maanen illustrates his discussion of each style with excerpts from his own work on the police Tales of the Field offers an informal readable and lighthearted treatment of the rhetorical devices used to present the results of fieldwork Though Van Maanen argues ultimately for the validity of revealing the self while representing a culture he is sensitive to the differing methods and aims of sociology and anthropology His goal is not to establish one true way to write ethnography but rather to make ethnographers of all varieties examine their assumptions about what constitutes a truthful cultural portrait and select consciously and carefully the voice most appropriate for their tales Written with grace and humor Tales of the Field will be an invaluable introduction to novices just learning the fieldwork trade and provocative stimulant to veteran ethnographers Engaging and well written H
