Paradigm Shift in Technologies and Innovation Systems John Cantwell, Takabumi Hayashi, 2019-11-02 This book provides some new ideas on the conceptualization of a shift in technological paradigm and it explores in depth the relevance of this concept for research on innovation systems. It examines text mining software and analyzes patent data as well as academic and business journals to illustrate the paradigm shift of newly emerging technologies such as the all solid state battery and automatic driving for electric vehicles and surgical robots. It also explores the critical role of emerging software technologies by examining US, EU and Japanese patent statistics. Highlighting the paradigm shift of technologies since the 1990s and the geographical dispersion of innovative capabilities, it identifies essential trends toward new innovation systems as well as the concentration and dispersion of national and corporate R D capabilities that have taken place as a result In this new paradigm the competitiveness of a company is decisively determined by other innovations in systems and management Since the 1990s when a network economy began to be established and technological know how came to be easily transferred across borders the changing structure of technological activities has required organizations with traditional integral and closed architecture models to move toward open innovation or modular architectures These changes involve wider technological areas and cognitive diversity among international inter firm and intra firm R D networks This book is highly recommended not only to academicians but also to business people seeking an in depth and up to date overview of the paradigm shift of technologies and new innovation systems

A Development Strategy for Hybrid Products Takeyasu Ichikohji, 2021-10-31 This is the first book that deals with technological innovation in Japanese animation industry from a management perspective In reviewing prior research and explaining the history of the technology the author raises the difficulty of dealing with new technologies In particular the focus is on systems that combine analog technology drawing by hand and digital technology 3D computer graphics or 3DCG to create a product This combined technology is referred to as hybrid technology in this book and the development and management of hybrid products using this technology are studied The study was conducted in two stages The first stage was to determine the engineers animators perception of hybrid technology The results showed that in terms of potential the hybrid technology of hand drawn animation combined with 3DCG was rated more highly by engineers than hand drawn alone However in terms of the assessment at that time hybrid technology was rated higher than 3DCG alone but lower than hand drawn Therefore it was assumed that hybrid technology while useful would pose challenges with respect to systematic implementation The second stage was the development management of hybrid products The results showed that the adaptive engineer who openly accepts other new technologies in the early stages of their emergence contributed to the integration of new and existing technologies
