fundamentals of teaching and learning geography Why we teach and what to teach Understanding and planning the curriculum Effective pedagogy Assessment Developing and using resources Fieldwork and outdoor learning Values in school geography Professional development Intended as a core textbook and written with university and school based initial teacher education in mind Learning to Teach Geography in the Secondary school is essential reading for all those who aspire to become effective reflective teachers Praise for previous editions of Learning to Teach Geography in the Secondary School This is a practical and visionary book as well as being superbly optimistic It has as much to offer the experienced teacher as the novice and could be used to reinvigorate geography departments everywhere Practical activities and ideas are set within a carefully worked out authoritative conceptual framework The Times Educational Supplement This is a modern powerful relevant and comprehensive work a standard reference for many beginning teachers on geography initial teacher training courses Educational Review

Sessional Papers Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons,1968 An Introduction to Educational Psychology Edgar Stones,2012 This book introduces students of education to the elements of educational psychology It also relates as closely as possible the findings of research to classroom practice In order to make clear the fundamental processes involved in psychological development the book starts with a study of the way in which the young child adapts its behaviour to its environment This study considers some of the key aspects of physical development mainly the central nervous system At the same time the way physical growth and psychological development are influenced by the experience of the individual is also discussed This discussion of development is followed by an examination of the processes of learning with particular attention paid to the works of Piaget The salient points of each chapter are brought together in a summary which may be used by the reader to obtain a preliminary overview of the content of the chapter and as an aid to revision

GCE 'O' Level Regional Geography Minerva Publications,1979 School Subjects and Curriculum Change Ivor F. Goodson,2013-04-03 The process of curriculum development is highly practical as Goodson shows in this enlarged anniversary third edition of his seminal work The position of subjects and their development within the curriculum is illustrated by looking at how school subjects in particular geography and biology gained academic and intellectual respectability within the whole curriculum during the late 1960s and early 1970s He highlights how subjects owe their formation and accreditation to competing status and their power to compete in the provision of worthwhile knowledge and considers subjects as continually changing sub groups of information Such subjects from the framework of the society in which individuals live and over which they have influence This volume questions the basis on which subject disciplines are developed and formulates new possibilities for curriculum development and reform in a post modernist age

Assessing Students Derek Rowntree,2015-11-30 Assessment methods can largely determine what and how students learn so it is vital that our assessment methods are appropriate to our true educational purposes This book examines the issues underlying assessment procedures such as truth fairness trust humanity and social justice and goes on to consider the five key
