Older People Siân Wade, 2006-02-22 Intermediate care has become a buzzword within health and social care over the last few years. Seen as the panacea for a number of woes, particularly for older people, intermediate care has been held up as a way forward within contemporary health and social care. This text explores in detail what is understood by the concept of intermediate care and in particular ways in which the needs of older people can be best met by this new range of services. Initial discussion centres on the concept of intermediate care and the motives for its development. This is followed by a summary of the range of intermediate care services that have been developed with a discussion of some of the confusion that surrounds the concept. The debate then moves on to centre on older people, discussing first why older people have come to be perceived as one of the main client groups that may benefit from intermediate care and then how intermediate care could be developed to better serve their needs. An overview of ageing and the uniqueness of older people is then provided, followed by an exploration of some of the challenges faced by older people within society and how this has extended into the delivery of health and social care.

A Comprehensive Guide to Rehabilitation of the Older Patient E-Book Shane O'Hanlon, Marie Smith, 2020-11-17 This book will help all health professionals involved in the rehabilitation of older people to provide their patients with the highest possible quality of life and autonomy. Expanded and rewritten by a diverse team of authors, the text is suitable for doctors in all specialties that see older patients as well as nurses, physiotherapists, occupational therapists, psychologists, dietitians, speech and language therapists, pathologists, physician associates, assistants, healthcare assistants and many others, including patients, family members and students. The book is written in an accessible, no jargon style and provides a patient-centred perspective on recent advances in the field of rehabilitation, an increasingly important aspect of care for older people. Clear explanations of relevant concepts: ageing, frailty, comprehensive assessment, rehabilitation. Broad coverage of all aspects of rehabilitation, including different settings. Explanations of input from multiple health professionals. Problem-based section that highlights solutions to common issues during rehabilitation. Specialty-specific areas of rehabilitation such as stroke rehabilitation, cancer rehabilitation, post-operative rehabilitation, trauma rehabilitation in the community. Practical section explaining how to plan discharge safely, run a care planning meeting, organize home supports, continue rehabilitation at home. Evidence-based but accessible writing, complemented by practical clinical wisdom. Aimed at a broader audience, applicable to all health professionals who see older patients. Resources for patients and their caregivers. Multiple choice questions to test knowledge.

Oxford Handbook of Orthopaedic and Trauma Nursing Rebecca Jester, Julie Santy, Jean Rogers, 2011-04-07 Providing busy practitioners with the information they need to deliver care and nursing students with a clear overview of the field, this handbook is an easily accessible, practical and comprehensive guide to all aspects of practice.

astute commentary on a topic that is of importance to anyone working in the health and social care field today Capturing key policies concepts and perspectives across the fields of adult and children s services the book distils a complex subject into 70 pivotal ideas Cross references cleverly aid navigation and help the reader see how ideas connect up This flexible source book makes sense of current policy explains the latest terminology and engages with the evidence base for what is happening on the ground It is also packed with excellent recommendations for further reading This is an ideal starting point for students needing to get to grips with current debates and a perfect point of reference for practitioners and policy makers engaged in collaboration and partnership day to day

Developing Healthcare Skills through Simulation Matthew Aldridge, Stephen Wanless, 2012-03-22 This book provides an essential resource for educators of clinical skills who want to utilise simulation based education to provide optimal learning opportunities for their students Andrew Bland University of Huddersfield In this book a team of experienced authors have put together a much needed text that takes an evidence based practical approach to skills development Lauren Mawson University of Cumbria A really exciting new text Sarah Burden Leeds Metropolitan University Practice educators and mentors are now expected to have the skills and techniques needed to implement a learning skills through simulation programme into established curricula yet using simulation to teach while of huge importance requires careful and time consuming planning This valuable resource takes away some of that burden by providing clear ready made activities and guidance from leading practitioners in a range of fields which healthcare and practice educators and mentors can use to enhance their teaching of all the essential and commonly taught clinical and management skills and knowledge Dedicated chapters which all follow a defined step by step format provide simulation scenarios alongside facilitator guidance which will help develop confidence in the teaching of key skills such as Drug administration Conflict management Infection control Breaking bad news Catheter and bowel care These scenarios and accompanying guidance can be used as a framework for teaching promoting a greater understanding of the skill being taught and providing a risk free opportunity for the student to practice their clinical and managerial skills and judgement

Community Care Practice and the Law Michael Mandelstam, 2008-10-15 This fourth edition of Community Care Practice and the Law has been fully updated to reflect the rapid and continuing legal policy and practice changes affecting community care It provides comprehensive and jargon free explanations of community care legislation as well as other areas of law directly relevant to practitioners

The Health and Social Care Divide Glasby, Jon, Littlechild, Rosemary, 2004-05-12 By focusing specifically on the experiences of older people an especially vulnerable group when divisions emerge between health and social care providers the authors are able to highlight in detail issues and recommendations that are applicable in a wide range of settings

Nursing Practice Ian Peate, Karen Wild, 2018-02-05 The second edition of the successful and definitive nursing textbook Nursing Practice is designed to support the student throughout the entire nursing degree Structured around the latest Nursing and Midwifery Council Code of Conduct it explores a range of clinical and professional issues that the student will need to know in one complete and accessible volume Thoroughly updated and with full colour high quality illustrations throughout this new edition features an additional chapter on the principles of supporting families and carers in practice advice on revalidation as well as a number of learning features and activities to help consolidate learning Nursing Practice provides invaluable information to enable not just student nurses but also those who are qualified and members of the extended nursing family to develop a deeper understanding of their patients needs and to ensure that they are practicing safely and effectively Anti-Oppressive Practice Jane Dalrymple, Beverley Burke, 2006-12-16 Praise for the new edition This revised text should be read by all practitioners in health and social care settings who supports people with complex needs and who aim to promote anti oppressive and person centred practice A variety of activities is presented in each chapter to stimulate readers to reflect on the cases and concepts under discussion This text represents a valuable companion for professionals involved in learning disability practice Learning Disability Practice This new edition proves to be a substantial updating of the 1995 edition The coverage is analytical and clearly related to anti oppressive practice It is important to persuade students of the necessity of action to put their values into practice this book is a real boon and should be required reading up and down the country Mark Baldwin University of Bath In the new edition of this bestselling text the authors challenge the notion that anti oppressive practice has lost its potency or become commodified into a professional response to inequalities Retaining a commitment to the principles and values of anti oppressive practice discussion about contemporary practice is guided by a critical understanding of personal values and the context of practice Some key questions are explored How is anti oppressive practice relevant in contemporary practice How can the law be used as an empowering tool How can the law be used to develop and inform anti oppressive practice The second edition is substantially revised and updated to take account of policy and legislative changes with a new chapter addressing critical practice in social work as well as additional activities chapter summaries and further reading at the end of each chapter The authors draw on their own experiences and those of practitioners service users and carers to understand issues of power and oppression demonstrating how the law can be used to inform the development of critical anti oppressive practice The book therefore points the way to practice that is both empowering to service users and ultimately liberating for practitioners Anti Oppressive Practice is an essential text for students practitioners lecturers service users and carers How We Treat the Sick Michael Mandelstam, 2011-08-15 The author shows beyond question that neglectful care is a systemic blight rather than mere local blemish within our health services He analyses the causes and factors involved reveals the widespread denial and lack of accountability from those responsible and spells out implications of this failure to care for the vulnerable with humanity
