Diary of an African Journey, 1914 Henry Rider Haggard, 2001 This is a diary of Sir Henry Rider Haggard's tour of South Africa in 1914 It captures his feelings and perceptions on the change of Southern Africa and of himself since his departure in 1881

Creolization and Contact Norval Smith, Tonjes Veenstra, 2001-12-31 This volume contains revised and extended versions of a selection of the papers presented at The Amsterdam Workshop on Language Contact and Creolization These studies apply the concept of relexification to creoles as well as other contact languages highlight the relevance of strategies of second language learning for theories of pidgin creole genesis critically discuss the notions levelling koine formation and convergence the relation between types of contact situations and processes of crosslinguistic influence as well as the linguistic consequences of the social structure of the plantation system In addition to discussing English French and Dutch related creoles the papers cover a wide range of contact languages spoken throughout Africa Asia and Europe The breadth and coverage makes this an indispensable title for research in the field of contact linguistics

Learning Zulu Mark Sanders, 2019-06-04 Why are you learning Zulu When Mark Sanders began studying the language he was often asked this question In Learning Zulu Sanders places his own endeavors within a wider context to uncover how in the past 150 years of South African history Zulu became a battleground for issues of property possession and deprivation Sanders combines elements of analysis and memoir to explore a complex cultural history Perceiving that colonial learners of Zulu saw themselves as repairing harm done to Africans by Europeans Sanders reveals deeper motives at work in the development of Zulu language learning from the emergence of the pidgin Fanagalo among missionaries and traders in the nineteenth century to widespread efforts in the twentieth and twenty first centuries to teach a correct form of Zulu Sanders looks at the white appropriation of Zulu language music and dance in South African culture and at the association of Zulu with a martial masculinity In exploring how Zulu has come to represent what is most properly and powerfully African Sanders examines differences in English and Zulu language press coverage of an important trial as well as the role of linguistic purism in xenophobic violence in South Africa Through one person's efforts to learn the Zulu language Learning Zulu explores how a language's history and politics influence all individuals in a multilingual society

The Land Is Sung Thomas M. Pooley, 2023-10-17 What does it mean to belong In The Land Is Sung musicologist Thomas M Pooley shows how performances of song dance and praise poetry connect Zulu communities to their ancestral homes and genealogies For those without land tenure in the province of KwaZulu Natal performances articulate a sense of place Migrants express their allegiances through performance and spiritual relationships to land are embodied in rituals that invoke ancestral connection while advancing well being through intergenerational communication Engaging with justice and environmental ethics education and indigenous knowledge systems musical and linguistic analysis and the ethics of recording practice Pooley's analysis draws on genres of music and dance recorded in the midlands and borderlands of South Africa and in Johannesburg

s inner city His detailed sound writing captures the visceral experiences of performances in everyday life The book is richly illustrated and there is a companion website featuring both video and audio examples Gender, Sport and Development in Africa Jimoh Shehu,2010-07-12 To many young people the term sport has an exhilarating ring to many older persons it signifies recreation and leisure From colonial times it has been viewed as a means of social control Increasingly it is being touted by governments and donor agencies as a self evident tool of Africas development How accurate are these individual romantic and moral notions of sport In this volume eleven African scholars offer insightful analyses of the complex ideological and structural dimensions of modern sport as a cultural institution Drawing on various theories and cross cultural data the contributors to this volume highlight the various ways in which sport norms policies practices and representations pervasively interface with gender and other socially constructed categories of difference They argue that sport is not only a site of competition and physical recreation but also a crossroad where features of modern society such as hegemony identities democracy technology development and master statuses intertwine and bifurcate As they point out in many ways sport production reproduction distribution and consumption are relational spatial and contextual and therefore do not pay off for men women and other social groups equally The authors draw attention to the structure and scope of efforts needed to transform the exclusionary and gendered nature of sport processes to make them adequate to the task of engendering Africas development Gender Sport and Development in Africa is an immensely important contribution to current debates on the broader impacts of sport on society It is an essential reading for students policy makers and others interested in perspectives that interrogate the grand narratives of sport as a neutral instrument of development in African countries

Judy, Or the London Serio-comic Journal ,1879 Popular Politics in the History of South Africa, 1400-1948 Paul S. Landau,2010-09-20 Popular Politics in the History of South Africa 1400 1948 offers an inclusive vision of South Africa s past Drawing largely from original sources Paul Landau presents a history of the politics of the country s people from the time of their early settlements in the elevated heartlands through the colonial era to the dawn of Apartheid A practical tradition of mobilization alliance and amalgamation persisted mutated and occasionally vanished from view it survived against the odds in several forms in tribalisms Christian assemblies and other seemingly hybrid movements and it continues today Landau treats southern Africa broadly concentrating increasingly on the southern Highveld and ultimately focusing on a transnational movement called the Samuelites He shows how people s politics in South Africa were suppressed and transformed but never entirely eliminated The Black Man's Burden William J. Samarin,2019-07-11 This book is an enquiry into early European colonial expansion in Central Africa especially in upper Zaire Congo and Ubangi rivers It explores the extent to which French and Belgian colonial enterprise were dependent on the African labor and their penetration into Zaire basin Returning Life Knut Christian Myhre,2017-12-29 A group of Chagga speaking men descend the slopes of Mount Kilimanjaro to butcher animals and pour milk beer and blood on the ground requesting rain for their continued existence Returning Life explores how this event engages activities where life force is transferred and transformed to afford and affect beings of different kinds Historical sources demonstrate how the phenomenon of life force encompasses coffee cash cropping Catholic Christianity and colonial and post colonial rule and features in cognate languages from throughout the area As this vivid ethnography explores how life projects through beings of different kinds it brings to life concepts and practices that extend through time and space transcending established analytics
