cout from couter or donn from donner The groupings and their distinctive features are explained Understanding that conjugation is just a matter of arrangement of verb endings and knowing which verbs that belong together makes learning French much easier Category A comprises over 4000 verbs and one can learn their conjugation in less than 10 minutes The curious might wonder why we prefer categories to groups Currently there are three main groups namely the first group which comprises verbs ending in er the second group which is composed of verbs ending in ir and the third group composed of verbs ending in re The first group alone the er group comprises about 13 different groups of verbs the radicals of which cannot mutually replace one another We reduce them to 8 For instance donn aim parl and cout can replace one another but cannot replace c d or c d from c der or jett and jet from jeter etc although they all end in er and belong to the first group In the second group while fini finir agi agir and b ni b nir are mutually replaceable they cannot replace sor sortir par partir mentir cour courir secour secourir or vien and ven venir We think that placing in the same group verbs whose patterns of conjugation have nothing to do with one another can lead to confusion Similarly in group 3 which comprises verbs ending in re while attendre vendre rendre perdre can replace one another in a conjugation they cannot replace prendre comprendre and moudre dissoudre and coudre do not even share common patterns of conjugation Themes are selected to facilitate visual recognition Where possible nouns adjectives and adverbs are grouped in a manner that help the learner distinguish the gender and number or show them how those parts of speech are formed The manuals are divided into four volumes for the progressive acquisition of the rules of French Grammar While Book 1 introduces such basics as articles gender masculine feminine and nouns prepositions numbers professions book 2 seeks to consolidate the knowledge acquired earlier Other tenses are examined in greater details Progressively the users build their confidence as they learn to construct correct sentences

MICHEL (B.A.), 1869 French Grammar for Beginners World Travel Institute, 2019-11-09 Have you ever wondered to learning French Learning French is just a little more difficult than learning English but with a little effort you can both understand and be able to write in French The beauty of French is that you can learn it in a way that suits your current circumstances and the reason why you're learning French is that it will be the best thing you are doing for your French speaking territory and you will like to learn French as much as possible Maybe you are looking for a second opinion because you're not going well You would also be at home with me time to spare and you may want to learn French at your own pace because you're not living with the language What's your motive for learning French you must be a bit more self-disciplined and ready to do it To do it well it's a bit above you I have to make sure that you have a tutor in order to do it so that the process can be smooth but also remember that you learn by speaking and writing in French as much as you can Right now as you're doing this you are slowly but surely moving on your reading English You would like to be writing now on the other hand the further evidence that you are moving Every time you are not the next time you are reading something which is further progress than your English The thing I have applied to your French learning is that another thing you must do when learning French is to surround yourself with French speaking people and French literature You can't be a French speaker or a French writer without French words But don't worry with them as an intermediate French speaker you'll find a way to make the learning process fun for yourself and you must be learning with French study groups and must be able to speak French when you're discussing your French and remember that it's not a matter of wandering around and then you must be able to learn for that will make learning French as easy as possible Don't worry I'll tell you that learning French is a great thing to do
