Methods Of Discovery Heuristics For The Social Sciences Contemporary Societies Series:

Methods of Discovery Andrew Delano Abbott, Jeffrey C. Alexander, 2004 Abbott helps social science students discover what questions to ask This exciting book is not about habits and the mechanics of doing social science research but about habits of thinking that enable students to use those mechanics in new ways by coming up with new ideas and combining them more effectively with old ones Abbott organizes his book around general methodological moves and uses examples from throughout the social sciences to show how these moves can open new lines of thinking In each chapter he covers several moves and their reverses if these exist discussing particular examples of the move as well as its logical and theoretical structure Often he goes on to propose applications of the move in a wide variety of empirical settings The basic aim of Methods of Discovery is to offer readers a new way of thinking about directions for their research and new ways to imagine information relevant to their research problems Methods of Discovery is part of the Contemporary Societies series The Oxford Handbook of Organizational Change and Innovation Marshall Scott Poole, Andrew H. Van de Ven, 2021 Why and what organizations change is generally well known how organizations change is therefore the central focus of this Handbook Leading scholars focus on processes of change and the factors that influence these processes with the organization as the central unit of analysis

Transdisciplinary Sustainability Studies Katri Huutoniemi, Petri Tapio, 2014-06-05 Arising out of human environment interaction sustainability problems resist disciplinary categories and simple solutions This book offers a fresh approach to practical and methodological concerns in transdisciplinary environmental and sustainability studies It illustrates methodological means by which researchers professionals and decision makers can address complex environmental issues While scientific reasoning is mostly guided by disciplinary traditions transdisciplinary research rests on other cognitive strategies As it does not have a ready made stance toward problems figuring out what the puzzle is and what the answer might look like are crucial aspects of transdisciplinary inquiry Through examples from environment and sustainability studies the volume discusses heuristic schemes that can give structure to this exploration By focusing on heuristics rather than on methods concepts or general guidelines the book argues that a problem centered approach often resists the rigor of methodology Learning from experience provides valuable rules of thumb checklists and other cognitive schemes for making ill defined problems more tangible Written by an international team of authors the chapters draw examples from dealing with issues in environmental protection transport and climate policy ecosystem services and disservices environmental beliefs and attitudes and more Together with more theoretically oriented chapters they show that the intellectual processes needed to tackle complex sustainability problems are as much about heuristic problem solving as they are about methodical work

The Structural Change of Knowledge and the Future of the Social Sciences Ronald Pohoryles, Andrew Sors, 2019-05-17 This book is a compendium of pragmatism in the social sciences While addressing several distinct spheres it carries a common message the future of the social sciences depends on a shared understanding of society based on the knowledge of various disciplines and transcending the currently forbidding borders between scientific knowledge and the other forms of knowledge Looking back at the social science traditions this is nothing new To ensure a fruitful future for the social sciences a paradigm shift is unavoidable The consequence of the increase of knowledge in the last two centuries was the specialization of the sciences The nineteenth century saw the separation of humanities and social sciences the twentieth century is even characterized by specialization within the disciplines and the occurrence of competing schools of thought This book tries to overcome the barriers that are built between and within the disciplines and to counteract the unnecessary barriers created by the emergence of schools of thoughts that distrust each other and the social sciences as a whole This book was originally published as a special issue of

Innovation The European Journal of Social Science Research      Entrepreneurial Theorizing Dean A. Shepherd, Holger Patzelt, 2023-01-09 This open access book investigates an entrepreneurial approach to building new theories It provides a rich understanding of how specific tools facilitate aspects of the theorizing process and offers a clearer big picture of the process of building important new entrepreneurship theories The authors show that anthropomorphizing has been a critically important tool for developing influential entrepreneurship theories They reveal how scholars build on their rich and highly accessible understanding of humans i e the self and others to make guesses and sense of entrepreneurial anomalies articulate theoretical mechanisms to build more robust entrepreneurship theories and create plausible stories that facilitate sensegiving Further they offer a framework that guides entrepreneurship scholars in finding a balance to maximize their contributions and guides reviewers and editors in managing the revise and resubmit process to advance the entrepreneurship field Finally they present lean scholarship as an approach to developing a portfolio of high quality high impact papers Lean scholarship starts with an entrepreneurial mindset and involves creating a minimum viable paper exploring its validity adding a plausible paper to one s portfolio and managing the portfolio by periodically deciding whether to persevere pivot or terminate each paper This seminal work will appeal to entrepreneurship researchers both those new to the field as well as seasoned veterans who want to learn more about the tools that can be used to generate new knowledge about new ventures and other entrepreneurship topics      After Taste. Critique of insufficient reason Slavko Kacunko, 2021-06-02 After Taste is an inquiry into a field of study dedicated to the reconsideration reconstruction and rehabilitation of the concept of Taste Taste is the category whose systematic historical and actual dimensions have traditionally been located in a variety of disciplines The actuality and potential of the study is based on a variety of collected facts from readings and experiences which materialize in the following features One concept figurative Taste two thinking traditions analytic and synthetic continental and three interrelated dimensions systematic historic and actual are presented in three volumes As such the study presents a salient comprehensive companion for wider readership of humanities approaching conceptions of Taste for the first time Moreover After Taste is intended for anyone who hopes to make a further contribution to the subject Since its appearance and apparently short triumph some 250 years ago the concept of non literary Taste remained the linchpin of aesthetic theory and practice but also a category outreaching aesthetics Taste as the personal unity of the production theory and criticism of art and literature which was still largely taken as a given in the eighteenth century has meanwhile given way to a highly differentiated art world in which aesthetic discourse is placed in such a way that it can seemingly no longer have a conceptual or linguistic effect on general opinion making The critical role of Taste judges ratings and rankings in the feuilleton politics and social media on the one hand and the responding search for new canons on the other have had a huge impact on the academic and popular discourse today However Taste s impact on society is in fact all encompassing and yet without getting even close to the magnetic North of the academic compass After Taste fills the gaps of systematic research by a comprehensive tracing of the emergence of the doctrines discourses and disciplinary dimensions of Taste up to the peak of its systematic and historical trajectory in the eighteenth century and onwards into the present day The guiding goal is a post disciplinary rehabilitation of the contested category as a preparation for its productive usage in emerging academic and popular contexts Three intertwined research hypotheses form the guiding goal of an overall study of the agencies of Taste its institutionalizations and expert cultures The 1 first part provides a missing systematic perspective on the concept of Taste as a key factor for understanding the human faculties value theories and practices of valuating The 2 second part traces the events at the peak of Taste s systematic and historical trajectories up until the late eighteenth century and verifies the historiographical hypothesis about the instrumentality of Taste for the production reception and distribution of culture The 3 third part reconstructs the major moments in which the contested concept of Taste experiences its post disciplinary rehabilitation in preparation for its future productive usage in the academic and popular discourses and practices It shows how the category of Taste became the foundation legitimation and the catalyst for the emerging division of labour faculties and disciplines confirming the hypothesis of the immense impact and actuality of Taste in the contemporary world
