cout from couter or donn from donner The groupings and their distinctive features are explained Understanding that conjugation is just a matter of arrangement of verb endings and knowing which verbs that belong together makes learning French much easier Category A comprises over 4000 verbs and one can learn their conjugation in less than 10 minutes The curious might wonder why we prefer categories to groups Currently there are three main groups namely the first group which comprises verbs ending in er the second group which is composed of verbs ending in ir and the third group composed of verbs ending in re The first group alone the er group comprises about 13 different groups of verbs the radicals of which cannot mutually replace one another We reduce them to 8 For instance donn aim parl and cout can replace one another but cannot replace c d or c d from c der or jett and jet from jeter etc although they all end in er and belong to the first group In the second group while fini finir agi agir and b ni b nir are mutually replaceable they cannot replace sor sortir par partir mentir cour courir secour secourir or vien and ven venir We think that placing in the same group verbs whose patterns of conjugation have nothing to do with one another can lead to confusion Similarly in group 3 which comprises verbs ending in re while attendre vendre rendre perdre can replace one another in a conjugation they cannot replace prendre comprendre and moudre dissoudre and coudre do not even share common patterns of conjugation Themes are selected to facilitate visual recognition Where possible nouns adjectives and adverbs are grouped in a manner that help the learner distinguish the gender and number or show them how those parts of speech are formed The manuals are divided into four volumes for the progressive acquisition of the rules of French Grammar While Book 1 introduces such basics as articles gender masculine feminine and nouns prepositions numbers professions book 2 seeks to consolidate the knowledge acquired earlier Other tenses are examined in greater details Progressively the users build their confidence as they learn to construct correct sentences

Have you ever wondered to learning French Learning French is just like learning the English It might be a bit difficult at first but with a little effort you can both fluently and be able to write it with your native English The beauty of it is that you can learn French First of all you have to look at your current circumstances and the reason why you're learning French is in the first place It would be that you are learning a new French or French speaking territory and would like to learn French quickly possible Maybe you are looking for a second opinion because you're not going well You would also be at home with more time to spare and you may want to learn French at your own pace because you're not living with the language What is your motive for learning the English you must be both if motivated and self-disciplined and ready to do it To do that you have to be above you have to be sure that you have a tutor in order so that the teacher can be smooth but also remember when you learn you are learning French speaking and writing in the English as much as you can Right now as you're reading this you are slowly but surely moving on your reading English You would like to be writing it on the right side of the further evidence that you are moving Every time you are not the next time you are reading something which further strengthens your grasp on English The thing is that applied to French is that you're learning another thing you must do when you're learning French to surround yourself with French speaking and listening to French You can't be French if you're not listening to French with French A key factor help from the French native speakers that will help you with the learning process and help you with the French words But don't be too strict with them as an intermediate French speaker your goal is to make the learning process fun for you If you're not learning with French study groups and must be able to speak French when you're discussing your mother tongue and remember that it's not a waste of time wandering around and that you must be able to learn French as possible Don't worry I'll tell you that learning French is a great thing to do
