Stories on Skin Terry Baxter, Libby Coyner-Tsosie, 2025-01-23 Helping expand archival studies into impermanent media like body art this book suggests that archiving must be considered a form of storytelling Tattoos are not merely decorative they contain deep meaning for individuals and communities They document their wearers personal histories and position in families or society and they engage with a communal understanding of symbols This unique book makes the case that archivists who want to preserve as full a human story as possible must recognize the rich documentation provided by tattoos It also argues in a broader sense that traditional archives are not representative of the ways human beings transmit information through time and that they must be augmented by other types of storytelling to provide a more complete record of our species Authors Baxter and Coyner touch on timely topics such as historical narratives storytelling cultural traditions the body as a text social control and memorialization by considering tattoos as a personal and community archive Discussing tattoos as a storytelling tool the authors also challenge how history is kept and who gets included Stories on Skin is committed to the rights of communities to tell their stories in their own way and to the power that right brings Pulp

Vietnam Gregory A. Daddis, 2020-10-22 In this compelling evaluation of Cold War popular culture Pulp Vietnam explores how men s adventure magazines helped shape the attitudes of young working class Americans the same men who fought and served in the long and bitter war in Vietnam The macho pulps boasting titles like Man s Conquest Battle Cry and Adventure Life portrayed men courageously defeating their enemies in battle while women were reduced to sexual objects either trivialized as erotic trophies or depicted as sexualized villains using their bodies to prey on unsuspecting innocent men The result was the crafting and dissemination of a particular version of martial masculinity that helped establish GIs expectations and perceptions of war in Vietnam By examining the role that popular culture can play in normalizing wartime sexual violence and challenging readers to consider how American society should move beyond pulp conceptions of normal male behavior Daddis convincingly argues that how we construct popular tales of masculinity matters in both peace and war

The End of Love Eva Illouz, 2021-09-15 Western culture has endlessly represented the ways in which love miraculously erupts in people s lives the mythical moment in which one knows someone is destined for us the feverish waiting for a phone call or an email the thrill that runs down our spine at the mere thought of him or her Yet a culture that has so much to say about love is virtually silent on the no less mysterious moments when we avoid falling in love where we fall out of love when the one who kept us awake at night now leaves us indifferent or when we hurry away from those who excited us a few months or even a few hours before In The End of Love Eva Illouz documents the multifarious ways in which relationships end She argues that if modern love was once marked by the freedom to enter sexual and emotional bonds according to one s will and choice contemporary love has now become characterized by practices of non choice the freedom to withdraw from relationships Illouz dubs this process by which relationships fade evaporate dissolve and break down unloving While sociology has classically focused on the formation of social bonds The End of Love makes a powerful case for studying why and how social bonds collapse and dissolve Particularly striking is the role that capitalism plays in practices of non choice and unloving The unmaking of social bonds she argues is connected to contemporary capitalism which is characterized by practices of non commitment and non choice practices that enable the quick withdrawal from a transaction and the quick realignment of prices and the breaking of loyalties Unloving and non choice have in turn a profound impact on society and economics as they explain why people may be having fewer children increasingly living alone and having less sex The End of Love presents a profound and original analysis of the effects of capitalism and consumer culture on personal relationships and of what the dissolution of personal relationships means for capitalism Bad Girls Amanda H. Littauer,2015-07-17 In this innovative and revealing study of midcentury American sex and culture Amanda Littauer traces the origins of the sexual revolution of the 1960s She argues that sexual liberation was much more than a reaction to 1950s repression because it largely involved the mainstreaming of a counterculture already on the rise among girls and young women decades earlier From World War II era victory girls to teen lesbians in the 1940s and 1950s these nonconforming women and girls navigated and resisted intense social and interpersonal pressures to fit existing mores using the upheavals of the era to pursue new sexual freedoms Building on a new generation of research on postwar society Littauer tells the history of diverse young women who stood at the center of major cultural change and helped transform a society bound by conservative sexual morality into one more open to individualism plurality and pleasure in modern sexual life Gender, Emotions and Labour Markets - Asian and Western Perspectives Ann Brooks,Theresa Devasahayam,2010-12-14 The concept of emotional labour has largely emerged from the analysis of organizations in the West However little has been written about the issue of what defines emotional labour and how it is configured in different cultural contexts This book addresses this gap in the literature and considers how and in what ways emotional labour characterises formal and informal work environments in Southeast Asia Gendered Situations, Gendered Selves Jocelyn A. Hollander,Daniel G. Renfrow,Judith A. Howard,2011-01-16 The second edition of Gendered Situations Gendered Selves has been updated throughout and is an ideal introduction to the discussion of gender in social psychology The book examines the basic underpinnings of everyday interaction from how we think to who we see ourselves and others to be to how we interact with others Each of these processes is based on both social psychology and gender as differentiated from sex as well as our racial backgrounds ethnic heritages socioeconomic circumstances sexualities and national histories The authors present and critique each of the major theories of social psychology social exchange social cognition and symbolic interaction In doing so the book introduces a full array of key concepts in social psychology perception stereotyping attribution self presentation impression management defining social situations exchanging resources and balancing power and dependence in social relations The book also discusses two fundamental aspects of human behavior the dynamics of helping and harming The second edition incorporates discussions of
