Tourism and the Creative Industries Philip Long, Nigel D. Morpeth, 2016-05-20 This book focuses on the theoretical policy and practice linkages and disjunctures between tourism and the creative industries There are clear and strong intersections between the sectors for example in the development and application of new and emerging media in tourism festivals and cultural events showcasing the creative identity of place tours and place identities associated with film TV music and arts tourism as well as particular destinations being promoted on the basis of their creative endowments such as theatre breaks art exhibitions and fashion shows Tourism and the Creative Industries explores a variety of relationships in one volume and offers innovative and critical insights into how creative industries and tourism together contribute to place identity tourist experience destination marketing and management The book is aligned with the sectors that have been demarcated by the UK Government Department of Culture Media and Sport as comprising the creative industries advertising and marketing architecture design and designer fashion film TV video radio and photography IT software and computer services publishing and music performing and visual arts The title of this volume demonstrates how the exclusion of tourism from the creative industries is arguably perverse given that much of the work by destination managers and of private sector tourism is characterised by creativity and innovation Interdisciplinary research and international context bring a broader perspective on how the creative industries operate in varying cultural and policy contexts in relation to tourism This book brings together the parallel and disparate inter disciplinary fields of tourism and the creative industries and will be of interest to students academics and researchers interested in tourism creative industries marketing and management

Barrett,Rhodri Windsor Liscombe,1983-01-01 Yorkshire born Francis Mawson Rattenbury 1867 1935 emigrated to British Columbia as a young architect in 1892 Within months of his arrival in Victoria he launched his brilliant if abbreviated career by winning an international competition to design the legislative buildings While his life was marred by controversy scandal and in the end tragedy Rattenbury s architecture had an enduring impact on the Canadian landscape and his commercial ventures were important to the economic development of the West Richly illustrated with over 200 drawings and photographs Francis Rattenbury and British Columbia is the first major critical study of a Canadian architect in the context of his times Using unpublished primary sources including his recently discovered private letters the authors document

Rattenbury's professional career and the evolution of his architectural style. Detailed descriptions are given of some of his most famous projects notably the legislative buildings and the Empress Hotel in Victoria. Besides working on a number of government commissions Rattenbury became chief architect for the Canadian Pacific Railway and designed chateau like buildings for C P R hotels in the Rockies Vancouver and Victoria. Other projects such as the Vancouver and Nanaimo Courthouses and Bank of Montreal branches set the pattern for institutional architecture in British Columbia. His buildings not only drew attention to the growing importance of the province but also lent dignity and character to its major centres. Filled with the vigour and confidence of the imperial age Rattenbury initiated a number of commercial ventures. These included the founding of a transportation system to the Yukon goldfields and extensive land speculations. As the authors point out these investments were perhaps not undertaken solely for monetary gain but reflected Rattenbury's firm belief in the future of British Columbia and his desire to play an active role in its growth. Unfortunately his entrepreneurial adventures involved heavy financial losses among which were ruinous lawsuits involving the provincial government. This pioneering work on Western Canadian architecture will serve as a valuable design source for both the specialist and lay reader. It also includes an important account of the part played by major Canadian companies and government patronage in the development of British Columbia. This professional biography reveals new facets of Rattenbury's life and character which have been the subject of both public and literary controversy.

21st Century Hotel Graham Vickers, 2005. The public's appetite for new and excitingly designed hotels is insatiable. Never before have hotels been so earnestly responsive to the zeitgeist. How else can we explain the latest trends in design which at one extreme increasingly blur the border between lodging lifestyle and living theatre and at the other seek to reinvent the more discreet manners and style of the grand hotels of the late 19th century. 21st Century Hotel highlights the latest examples of these trends and more as the international hotel sector finds newer and more imaginative ways to invent and reinvent itself in order to match the mood of the moment. A large format bible of style for architects and interior designers this book outlines the very latest developments in types of hotel design and then showcases the best on international scene through five themed chapters. It features forty six unusual
