Eunuchs and Castrati Katherine Crawford, 2018-07-17 Eunuchs and Castrati examines the enduring fascination among historians literary critics musicologists and other scholars around the figure of the castrate Specifically the book asks what influence such fascination had on the development and delineation of modern ideas around sexuality and physical impairment Ranging from Greco Roman times to the twenty first century Katherine Crawford brings together travel accounts diplomatic records and fictional sources as well as existing scholarship to demonstrate how early modern interlocutors reacted to and depicted castrates She reveals how medicine and law operated to maintain the privileges of bodily integrity and created and extended prejudice against those without it In consequence castrates were constructed as gender deviant disabled social subjects and demarcated as inferior Early modern cultural loci then reinforced these perceptions encouraging an othering of castrates in public contexts These extensive almost obsessive accounts of appearance social propensities and gender characteristics of castrated men reveal the historical lineages of sexual stigma and hostility towards gender non normative and physically impaired persons For Crawford they are the roots of sexual and physical prejudices that remain embedded in the western experience today Masculine Identity in the Fiction of the Arab East since 1967 Samira Aghacy, 2009-12-08

This book offers an exploration of masculinity in the literature of the Arab East Lebanon Jordan Palestine Syria and Iraq in the context of a specific set of anxieties about gender roles and sexuality in Arab societies While gender studies in the area have focused primarily on the situation of women the treatment of Arab men as gendered subjects has fallen behind Samira Aghacy's rich analysis presents gender relations not within a fixed biological mold but rather as a complex phenomenon fraught with ambivalence and operating within particular historical and geopolitical settings Through a series of close readings of twenty contemporary Arabic novels Aghacy presents a mosaic of masculinities that challenges the generally held view of an essentialized archetypal Arab man and that mirrors a contested vision of manliness where men figure in diverse sociocultural environments This groundbreaking work reveals the volatile nature of masculinity and its inextricability from femininity Tales of Castration!
