A Critical Account of Article 106(2) TFEU Jarleth Burke,2018-03-22 A Critical Account of Article 106 2 TFEU Government Failure in Public Service Provision offers a sceptical perspective on how EU law applies to public services Article 106 2 provides that other Treaty rules may be disapplied in order to sustain a Service of General Economic Interest SGEI The rhetorical presentation of Article 106 2 is as a strict exception As a result Article 106 2 is often presented as a threat to Europe s public service tradition This book challenges those shibboleths by using the concept of government failure It is concerned with instances of government intervention that are unnecessary generate avoidable inefficiencies or that can be bettered so as to realise general interest goals more efficaciously As an element of the government failure critique a market feasibility test incorporating the concept of market failure is used to expose laxity in the review of general interests under Article 106 2 Complementing that the process of disappling other Treaty rules under Article 106 2 is shown to have evolved from being strict to being highly indulgent of SGEI providers with a relatively recent but only partial correction post Altmark Overall the strict exception label for Article 106 2 does not hold Moreover it is contingent and presents no legitimate general interest related threat to the organisation and delivery of public services A comprehensive re orientation of Article 106 2 on issues of proof is required as is greater reliance on market counterfactuals and much more careful separation of objectives and means in SGEI operation and design Through these measures the toleration of government failure can be stemmed and Article 106 2 s contingency reduced

Brewer, Jeffrey M. Stonecash, 2015 It is now beyond question that contemporary American politics is highly contentious and divided We argue that deep disagreement over the idea of personal responsibility lies at the heart of this polarization Republicans believe that individuals succeed or fail based on their own talents and efforts while Democrats see a society where many individuals lack opportunity and are adversely affected by forces they cannot control This fundamental difference drives American political conflict How Change Happens Duncan Green, 2016 Drawing on the global experience of Oxfam one of the world's largest social justice INGOs this book tests ideas on How Change Happens and sets out the latest thinking on how citizens and others can drive progressive change Changing the Heart of Social Policy-Making Catherine E. The Trump Presidency Matthew Alan Hill,Steven Hurst,2022-08-08 Did Donald Trump decisively transform and alter the course of US foreign policy All presidents promise change but few presidents promise changes as radical as Trump did during his presidency The extent to which Trump delivered on that promise however remains hotly debated with little or no agreement The chapters in this edited volume argue that much of this debate is a dialogue of the deaf where scholars speak past rather than to each other where the basis for claims about change or continuity is unclear and where the argument and knowledge consequently fails to progress At its heart this is a problem of theory and methods Employing a diverse range of theoretical and methodological perspectives this book seeks to move the debate beyond a superficial focus on events to more fundamental questions of how change is defined measured and explained and in doing so attempts to advance understanding of foreign policy change and the extent to which Trump can really be considered to have been a transformative president The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the journal Global Affairs

L'utopia sostenibile Enrico Giovannini, 2018-02-01T00:00:00+01:00 Per costruire un futuro migliore ci serve un'utopia. Un'utopia sostenibile: la via maestra che Enrico Giovannini indica per il raggiungimento entro il 2030 degli obiettivi di sviluppo sostenibile fissati dall'ONU. Fame, salute, acqua, povertà, energia, infrastrutture, occupazione, disuguaglianze, clima, pace, istruzione sono questioni che si affrontano solo con un pensiero integrato e il concorso di forze politiche, economiche e sociali. Continuare a pensare e ad agire come nel passato vuol dire far precipitare il nostro mondo in una profonda crisi ambientale, economica, sociale. Richiesto l'impegno di tutti e un profondo cambiamento del modo in cui leggiamo e affrontiamo i problemi che ci circondano.
