Pension Reform in Six Countries Axel H. Börsch-Supan, Meinhard Miegel, 2012-12-06 Axel Borsch Supan and Meinhard Miegel The provision of retirement income is a dynamic system that needs to be adapted constantly to the ever changing economic and societal environment Sometimes incremental adaptations suffice sometimes however larger reform steps are necessary We see this evolutionary process both through history and across countries Over and over again societies are confronted with new challenges not the least with respect to old age social security At this juncture of history almost all industrialized countries face rapid population aging and need to adapt their pension systems to this historically unprecedented demographic change The six countries in this study Chile Germany Great Britain the Netherlands Switzerland and the United States have responded very differently to this new challenge This is the point of departure for this book Why did the countries respond so differently What can we learn from each other It is not the point of this book to provide a universally optimal solution to the pension problems caused by population aging The six countries are simply too different in terms of their demographic and cultural and in particular in terms of their historical and economic backgrounds However since national discussions tend to be surprisingly narrowly focussed even in times of globalization there is much to learn by looking over the neighbor's fence And since some countries have reformed earlier than others we even have the benefit of quite a few trials and errors in one country from which all other countries can learn

Börzel,Rachel A. Cichowski,2005-08-04 Law Politics and Society is the sixth and latest addition to the European Union Studies Association series State of the European Union The contributors of this volume take the dynamic interaction between law politics and society as a starting point to think critically about recent developments and future innovations in European integration and EU studies The book provides an overview of key events between 2000 and 2002 in the European Union while illuminating how these institutional formal legal developments impact ordinary individuals and EU politics For example the European Convention with the possibility of an EU constitution is viewed not only as a new institutional development but we examine what impact the creation of judicially enforceable rights has for Europeans and European integration How does the opportunity for new rights claims alter the balance of power between individuals and EU organizations such as the European Court of Justice vis vis national governments in EU policy expansion Importantly the volume also seeks to provide a unique and interdisciplinary approach to studying the European Union by bringing together both legal scholars and political scientists Chapter contributors offer readers both sophisticated theoretical and empirical accounts of these new developments Issues such as enlargement immigration reform and monetary union require not only a precise understanding of an increasingly complex set of formal legal rules the domain of legal scholars but equally important are the effects on ordinary citizens and political participation the very power struggles that concern political scientists This volume seeks to integrate these two approaches not only by including the scholarship in a single volume but by asking individual contributors to think outside their respective disciplines The division between the legal and political as many would argue is often both artificial and unproductive Our volume seeks to bridge this divide Risk Management And Value: Valuation And Asset Pricing Mondher Bellalah, Jean-luc Prigent, Georges Pariente, Olivier Levyne, Jean Michel Sahut, Michel Azria, Annie Delienne, 2008-02-28 This book provides a comprehensive discussion of the issues related to risk volatility value and risk management It includes a selection of the best papers presented at the Fourth International Finance Conference 2007 qualified by Professor James Heckman the 2000 Nobel Prize Laureate in Economics as a high level one The first half of the book examines ways to manage risk and compute value at risk for exchange risk associated to debt portfolios and portfolios of equity It also covers the Basel II framework implementation and securitisation The effects of volatility and risk on the valuation of financial assets are further studied in detail The second half of the book is dedicated to the banking industry banking competition on the credit market banking risk and distress market valuation managerial risk taking and value in the ICT activity With its inclusion of new concepts and recent literature academics and risk managers will want to read this book
