Philosophical Essays O. K. Bouwsma,1965-01-01 The essays in this collection are not confined to any one period or any one subject Nearly every one in the author s words is an attempt to understand some short passage from the work of some philosopher teasing the passage with analogies of sense If one were to describe the method as Descartes described his method the method of doubt perhaps it might best be described as the method of failure      The Play in the Mirror

Matthew D. Stroud,1996 As a psychoanalyst with massive humanistic erudition Jacques Lacan has a great deal to offer any discipline concerned with the human condition The Play in the Mirror seeks to bring together some of Lacan s fundamental concepts primarily from his Ecrits and from Seminars 1 2 7 11 and 20 as well as texts from ten Spanish Baroque comedias that also deal with the human condition The Play in the Mirror does not try to psychoanalyze characters and its scope extends to spectators readers and literary critics who are also subject to the same lack otherness and desire In a play the subjects linked by the mirrors are the author and the spectator brought together through language and desire through the theatrical performance All plays and all critical articles are expressions of the desires of the creators The critical act represents the intersubjective relationship marked with the misunderstanding defensiveness rivalry and attempts to dominate that characterize all dealings between two subjects Even in criticism the desire of the split subject insists Throughout the book the focus is on the more philosophical underpinnings of both discourses The premodern comedia and Lacan s postmodern perspective seem naturally to inform each other regarding the essential lack at the core of the human subject the insistence of desire and the inevitable failure of efforts to establish a unified subject an orderly society or a single valid interpretation of a literary text BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved      Flowers in the mirror □□□,1982      Art, Ideology, and the City of Teotihuacan Janet Catherine Berlo,1992

the sunflower or the ultraviolet signal of the red poppy tales of botanical charm deception and intrigue are played out amid an annual explosion of activity in gardens meadows and woodlands Lavishly illustrated in full colour this is a beautiful collection for gardeners and anyone with an interest in flowers

The Kenyan Cut Flower Industry and Global Market

Dynamics Andreas Gemählich, 2022 Investigates the production trade and consumption of the bouquets sold in European supermarkets and the consequences of this for the globalised economy From a macro perspective it appears that the cut flower industry has changed into a buyer driven value chain with corporate retailers as the new lead firms Yet as this book shows this is insufficient to explain how new trade relations come into being and the consequences of this not only for global economics but for the producers climate change and rural livelihoods As the retailers and wholesalers of the flower industry in the West linked directly to producers in the Global South trade relations changed fundamentally and this critical new book explores the complexities of the power asymmetries and the way in which corporate retailers have shaped the market to promote their own interests as well as the role non economic actors played This book examines in detail the situation at Lake Naivasha Kenya which has played a central part within this new market order Since the 1970s the area has developed into one of the most important production areas for the ready made bouquets that sell so cheaply in European supermarkets For the flower growers themselves however coping with the new conditions of supply and demand the new market order has brought financial precariousness Farms needed to be flexible in the production and marketing of their flowers Yet while they were able to expand their production and achieve more stable employment conditions this has not resulted in significantly higher remuneration The rapidly changing economic situation has also had a profound impact not only on local stakeholders but on the environment where there is intensified competition for resources and new production technologies Published in association with the Collaborative Research Centre FUTURE RURAL AFRICA funded by the German Research Council DFG w market order Since the 1970s the area has developed into one of the most important production areas for the ready made bouquets that sell so cheaply in European supermarkets For the flower growers themselves however coping with the new conditions of supply and demand the new market order has brought financial precariousness Farms needed to be flexible in the production and marketing of their flowers Yet while they
