The Fictional Dimension of the School Shooting Discourse Silke Braselmann, 2019-06-17 Ever since the 1990s school shootings have shocked the public in their brutality their suddenness and their inexplicability While film and literature have played a role in the heated debates about so called copycat crimes the growing body of fictionalizations of school shootings has been neglected thus far However in a discourse in which the boundaries between fiction and reality are increasingly blurred this book shows how fiction shapes and structures challenges and disrupts cultural processes of meaning making Hence for a better understanding of the school shooting phenomenon the relevance of fiction on all levels of discourse construction requires thorough analysis This book therefore develops a new approach to the role of fiction for contemporary forms of excessive violence By combining narrative theory with insights from sociology and other disciplines it provides the means for apprehending and describing the relevance of fiction for contemporary discourses Furthermore it provides exemplary analyses of more specific functions of literary and filmic fictionalizations of school shootings between 2000 and 2016

Comic Book Film Style Dru Jeffries, 2017-09-05 Superhero films and comic book adaptations dominate contemporary Hollywood filmmaking and it is not just the storylines of these blockbuster spectacles that have been influenced by comics The comic book medium itself has profoundly influenced how movies look and sound today as well as how viewers approach them as texts Comic Book Film Style explores how the unique conventions and formal structure of comic books have had a profound impact on film aesthetics so that the different representational abilities of comics and film are put on simultaneous display in a cinematic work With close readings of films including Batman The Movie American Splendor Superman Hulk Spider Man 2 V for Vendetta 300 Scott Pilgrim vs the World Watchmen The Losers and Creepshow Dru Jeffries offers a new and more cogent definition of the comic book film as a stylistic approach rather than a genre repositioning the study of comic book films from adaptation and genre studies to formal stylistic analysis He discusses how comic book films appropriate comics drawn imagery vandalize the fourth wall with the use of graphic text dissect the film frame into discrete panels and treat time as a flexible construct rather than a fixed flow among other things This cinematic remediation of comic books formal structure and unique visual conventions Jeffries asserts fundamentally challenges the classical continuity paradigm and its contemporary variants placing the comic book film at the forefront of stylistic experimentation in post classical Hollywood

From Twitter to Tahrir Square Bala A. Musa, Jim Willis, 2014-06-24 This timely guide examines the influence of social media in private public and professional settings particularly the ethical implications of the cultural changes and trends created by their use In the quest for quick dissemination of information web users and content providers find both opportunity and liability in digital broadcasts Examples abound Twitter members tap into news reports well in advance of traditional print media but stories are prone to inaccuracies and misinformation Facebook shares useful data mined from member profiles but this sharing often compromises privacy It is no surprise that use of social media gives rise to a host of moral dilemmas never before encountered This book sheds light on the effects of this new medium on the individual and society Through two volumes chock full of topics found in news headlines everyday the authors look at evolving trends in social media and their impact on privacy politics and journalism The first volume explores the role of this technology on national and international security Volume 2 focuses on the individual as both a producer and consumer of internet content showing how the media itself is changing notions of self identity relationships and popular culture The book's content covers such topics as individual and community psychology citizen journalism and corporate technology

Cinema/Politics/Philosophy Nico Baumbach, 2018-10-30 Almost fifty years ago Jean Louis Comolli and Jean Narboni published the manifesto Cinema Ideology Criticism helping to set the agenda for a generation of film theory that used cinema as a means of critiquing capitalist ideology In recent decades film studies has moved away from politicized theory abandoning the productive ways in which theory understands the relationship between cinema politics and art In Cinema Politics Philosophy Nico Baumbach revisits the much maligned tradition of seventies film theory to reconsider What does it mean to call cinema political In this concise and provocative book Baumbach argues that we need a new philosophical approach that sees cinema as both a mode of thought and a form of politics Through close readings of the writings on cinema by the contemporary continental philosophers Jacques Rancière, Alain Badiou and Giorgio Agamben he asks us to rethink both the legacy of ideology critique and Deleuzian film philosophy. He explores how cinema can condition philosophy through its own means, challenging received ideas about what is seeable, sayable and doable. Cinema Politics Philosophy offers fundamental new ways to think about cinema as thought, art and politics. The Quay Brothers Suzanne Buchan, 2011. The complex special power of the Quay Brothers' puppet animation poetics. Film Style and the World War II Combat Genre Stuart Bender, 2014-08-11. Film Style and the World War II Combat Genre is a detailed examination of the stylistic means by which filmmakers depict stories of combat. The work furthers contemporary discussions by analyzing a range of World War II combat films to a degree of detail which has previously escaped critical attention. This substantial examination of cinematography, sound editing and acting in a range of movies including Saving Private Ryan, Windtalkers, Bataan and Objective Burma demonstrates the importance of close attention to the textual construction of these films specifically, as well as cinematic texts more generally. The work advances the original analytic descriptions of controlled spontaneity and reported realism as theoretical concepts which explain why viewers regard certain stylistic techniques as realistic. This notion of realism is then further understood through reference to a body of research in cognitive psychology to argue that the density of audio-visual information in contemporary combat films is a significant factor in creating a sense of realism.

Indefinite Visions Beugnet Martine Beugnet, 2017-07-07. Moving image culture seems to privilege the instantly identifiable, the recognizable face, the well-timed stunt, the perfectly synchronized line of dialogue. Yet perfect in focus, visibility does not come naturally to the moving image and if there is one visual effect the eye of the camera can record better than the human eye it is blur. Looking beyond popular media to works of experimental cinema and video art, this groundbreaking collection addresses the aesthetics and politics of moving images in states of decay, distortion, indistinctness and fragmentation. A range of international scholars examines what is at stake in these images, sometimes radical foregrounding of materiality and mediation or of evanescence and spectrality, as well as their challenging of the dominant position accorded to legible images. How have artists and filmmakers rendered the indefinite image and what questions does it pose? With a range of approaches from aesthetics to phenomenology to production studies, the authors in this volume investigate techniques, themes and concepts that emerge from this wilful excavation of the moving image's material base.

Poetics of Cinema David Bordwell, 2012-11-12. Bringing together twenty-five years of work on what he has called the historical poetics of cinema, David Bordwell presents an extended analysis of a key question for film studies: how are films made in particular historical contexts in order to achieve certain effects? For Bordwell, films are made things existing within historical contexts and aim to create determinate effects. Beginning with this central thesis, Bordwell works out a full understanding of how films channel and recast cultural influences for their cinematic purposes. With more than five hundred film stills, Poetics of Cinema is a must-have for any student of cinema. Religious Representation in Place M. George, D.

Pezzoli-Olgiaiti, 2014-10-16 Religious Representation in Place brings together an interdisciplinary group of scholars from the Humanities and Sciences to broaden the understanding of how religious symbols and spatial studies interact. The essays consider the relevance of religion in the experience of space, a fundamental dimension of culture and human life. Kino der Unordnung Keyvan Sarkhosh, 2014-10-15 Nicolas Roeg's films like Don't Look Now, Walkabout and The Man Who Fell to Earth are known to have been a challenge for the audience and critics. This is at least in part due to the content of his films, which challenge the principle of order that Roeg has prescribed. Keyvan Sarkhosh shows in implicit juxtaposition with and decentered delimitation of the traditions of classical Hollywood cinema that Roeg's films occupy the place of a linear narrative-based realism, a multi-layered and branched network in which space and time connect and condense. Multimodal Metaphor Charles J. Forceville, Eduardo Urios-Aparisi, 2009-09-04 Metaphor studies has over the past 30 years become a discipline in its own right, mainly because of the cognitive linguistic claim that metaphors characterize thought, not just language. But most metaphor scholars hitherto focus exclusively on its purely verbal expressions. Since both persuasive and narrative discourses in contemporary society increasingly draw on modalities other than language alone, sustained research into a broader range of manifestations of metaphor is imperative. This volume is the first book-length study to investigate multimodal occurrences of metaphor and is of interest to scholars interested in metaphor as well as in multimodal discourse. Each chapter investigates metaphors whose identification and interpretation depend on the co-presence of at least two of the following modalities: language, visuals, gestures, sound, music. On the basis of case studies in a variety of discourse genres (advertising, cartoons, films, comics, conversation, music), amply represented in photographs, logos, drawings, film stills, and musical scores, the contributors demonstrate that and how metaphor can occur multimodally, providing ideas and methodological angles enabling further theorizing and testing in this rapidly expanding field. Covering creative as well as conceptual metaphors and where appropriate evaluating cultural factors governing metaphor interpretation, the contributors provide a wealth of material for studying the conceptual and rhetorical force of metaphor in contemporary society. A Grammar of Murder Karla Oeler, 2009-12-15 The dark shadows and offscreen space that force us to imagine violence we cannot see. The real slaughter of animals spliced with the fictional killing of men. The missing countershot from the murder victim's point of view. Such images or absent images, Karla Oeler contends, distill how the murder scene challenges and changes film. Reexamining works by such filmmakers as Renoir, Hitchcock, Kubrick, Jarmusch, and Eisenstein, Oeler traces the murder scene's intricate connections to the great breakthroughs in the theory and practice of montage and the formulation of the rules and syntax of Hollywood genre. She argues that murder plays such a central role in film because it mirrors on multiple levels the act of cinematic representation. Death and murder at once eradicate life and call attention to its former existence, just as cinema conveys both the reality and the absence of the objects it depicts. But murder shares with cinema not only this interplay between presence and absence movement and stillness unlike death killing entails the deliberate reduction of a singular subject to a disposable object Like cinema it involves a crucial choice about what to cut and what to keep

Directory of World Cinema: Japan John Berra,2010-06-01 From the revered classics of Akira Kurosawa to the modern marvels of Takeshi Kitano the films that have emerged from Japan represent a national cinema that has gained worldwide admiration and appreciation Directory of World Cinema Japan provides an insight into the cinema of Japan through reviews of significant titles and case studies of leading directors alongside explorations of the cultural and industrial origins of key genres As the inaugural volume of an ambitious series from Intellect documenting world cinema the directory aims to play a part in moving intelligent scholarly criticism beyond the academy by building a forum for the study of film that relies on a disciplined theoretical base It takes the form of an A Z collection of reviews longer essays and research resources accompanied by fifty full colour film stills highlighting significant films and players The cinematic lineage of samurai warriors yakuza enforcers and atomic monsters take their place alongside the politically charged works of the Japanese New Wave making this a truly comprehensive volume

The Philosophy of Early Christianity in the Era of Digitalisation Yip Mei Loh,2021-06-02 The benefits of the digital age are huge Our lives have been transformed both in the developed and the undeveloped world However this transformation has its dark side The same powerful technologies have enabled cultural or religious grooming to flourish unmoderated social influencing to have free reign fake information to spread and sophisticated hackers to create destabilizing international mayhem What place does the Church have in all this How does it respond What about the master philosophers of the neo Platonic age whose wisdom borne of the great philosopher himself was formed through the emerging doctrines of the early Christian church The excellent and thought provoking essays gathered here provide answers to these questions and more

Shadow of a Doubt Diane Negra,2021-04-15 Shadow of a Doubt 1943 was British born Alfred Hitchcock s sixth American film and the one that he at various times identified as his favourite and his best It seems likely that one of the reasons he liked Shadow so much is that is an extraordinarily well ordered narrative system a meticulous cause and effect chain that melds its various scenes and sequences together to form a unified narrative that is highly effective in building suspense and cultivating identification with characters This scrupulously organized film operates as a masterclass on principles of narrative design while generating resonant commentary on the nature of family life This book redresses the deficit of sustained critical attention paid to Shadow even in the large corpus of Hitchcock scholarship Analysing the film s narrative system issues of genre authorship social history homesickness and family values Diane Negra shows how the film s impeccable narrative structure is wedded to radical ideological content linking the film s terrors to the punishing effects of looking beyond conventional family and gender roles This book understands Shadow as an unconventionally female centred Hitchcock text and a milestone film that marks the director s emergent engagement with the pathologies of violence in American life and opens a window into the placement of femininity in World War II consensus culture and more broadly into the politics of mid century gender and family life
