Drawing Difference Marsha Meskimmon, Phil Sawdon, 2016-03-24 Drawing has been growing in recognition and stature within contemporary fine art since the mid 1970s Simultaneously feminist activism has been widespread leading to the increased prominence of women artists scholars critics and curators and the wide acknowledgement of the crucial role played by gender and sexual difference in constituting the subject Drawing Difference argues that these developments did not occur in parallel simply by coincidence Rather the intimate interplay between drawing and feminism is best characterised as allotropic a term originating in chemistry that describes a single pure element which nevertheless assumes varied physical structures denoting the fundamental affinities which underlie apparently differing material forms The book takes as its starting point three works from the 1970s by Annette Messager Dorothea Rockburne and Carolee Schneeman that are used to exemplify critical developments in feminist art history and key moments for drawing as a means of expression Throughout the chapters these works are further explored in relation to the contemporary drawing practices of Marco Maggi Sian Bowen Susan Hauptmann Cornelia Parker Christoph Fink and Toba Kheedori Their works are shown to be re iterative sites where mark making differs with each appearance yet retains certain essential features Dividing its analysis into the themes Approaching Tropes and Coinciding the book analyses how both drawing and feminist discourse emphasise dialogue matter and openness It demonstrates how sexual difference subjectivity and drawing are connected at an elemental level and thus how drawing has played a vital role in the articulation of the material and conceptual dynamics of feminism The SAGE Handbook of Visual Research Methods Luc Pauwels, Dawn Mannay, 2019-12-10 The second thoroughly revised and expanded edition of The SAGE Handbook of Visual Research Methods presents a wide ranging exploration and overview of Art Scents Larry Shiner, 2020-02-11 Although the arts of incense and perfume making are among the oldest of human cultural practices it is only in the last two decades that the use of odors in the creation of art has begun to attract attention under the rubrics of olfactory art or scent art Contemporary olfactory art ranges from gallery and museum installations and the use of scents in music film and drama to the ambient scenting of stores and the use of scents in cuisine All these practices raise aesthetic and ethical issues but there is a long standing philosophical tradition most notably articulated in the work of Kant and Hegel which argues that the sense of smell lacks the cognitive capacity to be a vehicle for either serious art or reflective aesthetic experience This neglect and denigration of the aesthetic potential of smell was further reinforced by Darwin s and Freud s views of the human sense of smell as a near useless evolutionary vestige Smell has thus been widely neglected within the philosophy of art Larry Shiner s wide ranging book counters this tendency aiming to reinvigorate an interest in smell as an aesthetic experience He begins by countering the classic arguments against the aesthetic potential of smell with both philosophical arguments and evidence from neuroscience psychology anthropology history linguistics and literature He then draws on this empirical evidence to explore the range of aesthetic issues that arise in each of the major areas of the olfactory arts whether those issues arise from the use of scents with theater and music sculpture and installation architecture and urban design or avant garde cuisine Shiner gives special attention to the art status of perfumes and to the ethical issues that arise from scenting the body the ambient scenting of buildings and the use of scents in fast food Shiner's book provides both philosophers and other academic readers with not only a comprehensive overview of the aesthetic issues raised by the emergence of the olfactory arts but also shows the way forward for further studies of the aesthetics of smell

Philosophical Hermeneutics and the Architecture of Álvaro Siza Sally J. Faulder, 2024-12-30 This book presents an original study of the work of Pritzker Prize winning Portuguese architect Álvaro Siza from the perspective of architecture as an interpretation of human life It combines philosophical hermeneutics narrative textual description and history and theory research to provide a rich account of Siza's work The book gives a detailed analysis of three of Siza's works from this perspective the Tidal Pool Piscina das Marés in Leça da Palmeira Portugal the Galician Centre of Contemporary Art Centro Galego de Arte Contemporánea in Santiago de Compostela Spain and the Santa Maria Church in Marco de Canaveses Portugal This form of analysis provides insight into the unique temporal dimension of Siza's work both in the memory inscribed by the structure and in how what is inscribed is revealed by degrees to those who come into contact with it Drawing on Hans Georg Gadamer and Paul Ricoeur this book defines both building and inhabiting as acts of interpretation Through employing the technique of writing architecture as a mode of phenomenological description the book uses one form of creative configuration narrative to draw out the meaning inscribed in another form of creative configuration architecture The book contributes a unique perspective to scholarship on Siza and an in depth study to the growing field of hermeneutics of architecture It will be of interest to researchers and students of architecture and philosophy

Movement, Time, Technology, and Art Christina Chau, 2017-06-12 This book explores the ways in which artists use technology to create different perceptions of time in art in order to reflect on contemporary relationships to technology By considering the links between technology movement and contemporary art the book explores changing relationship between temporality in art art history media art theory modernity contemporary art and digital art This book challenges the dominant view that kinetic art is an antiquated artistic experiment and considers the changing perception of kinetic art by focusing on exhibitions and institutions that have recently challenged the notion of kinetic art as a marginalised and forgotten artistic experiment with mechanical media This is achieved by deconstructing Frank Popper's argument that kinetic art is a precursor to subsequent explorations in the intersections between art science and technology Rather than pandering to the prevailing art historical assumption that kinetic sculpture is merely a precursor to art in a digital culture the book proposes that perhaps kineticism succeeded too well where movement has become a ubiquitous element of the aesthetic of contemporary art If as Boris Groys has recently suggested installation has become the dominant mode of art in the contemporary age then movement in real time with the viewer is used to aestheticise and explore the facets of our peculiar time
