Yesterday Memories Of A Beatles Fan:

A Women's History of the Beatles Christine Feldman-Barrett, 2021-01-28 Winner of the 2022 Open Publication Prize by the International Association for the Study of Popular Music IASPM ANZ A Women's History of the Beatles is the first book to offer a detailed presentation of the band's social and cultural impact as understood through the experiences and lives of women Drawing on a mix of interviews archival research textual analysis and autoethnography this scholarly work depicts how the Beatles have profoundly shaped and enriched the lives of women while also reexamining key influential female figures within the group's history Organized topically based on key themes important to the Beatles story each chapter uncovers the varied and multifaceted relationships women have had with the band whether face to face and intimately or parasocially through mediated popular culture Set within a socio-historical context that charts changing gender norms since the early 1960s these narratives consider how the Beatles have affected women's lives across three generations Providing a fresh perspective of a well-known tale this is a cultural history that moves far beyond the screams of Beatlemania to offer a more comprehensive understanding of what the now iconic band has meant to women over the course of six decades

Женская история Битлз Кристина Фельдман-Барретт, Resounding Pasts Drago Momcilovic, 2020-05-15 The field of memory studies has long been preoccupied with the manner in which events from the past are commemorated forgotten re-fashioned or worked through on both the individual and collective level Yet in an age when various modes of artistic and cultural commemoration have begun to overlap with and respond to one another the dynamics of cultural remembering and forgetting become bound up in an increasingly elaborate network of representations that operate both within and outside temporal cultural and national borders As publicly circulating texts that straddle the line between cultural artifact and artistic object both musical and literary works both individually and often in conjunction with one another help shape cultural memories and individual experiences of those events Troping their cultural milieus through specific aesthetic and social forms genres and modes of dissemination music and literature become part of a growing global panoply of raw materials upon which we might begin to pose questions regarding the way we remember the consequences of sharing and passing on those memories and the aesthetic and cultural pressures attendant upon the circulation and interpretation of texts that re-sound the past

The Beatles and Fandom Richard Mills, 2019-12-12 Sex death and nostalgia are among the impulses driving Beatles fandom the metaphorical death of the Beatles after their break-up in 1970 has fueled the progressive nostalgia of fan conventions for 48 years the death of John Lennon and George Harrison has added pathos and drama to the Beatles story Beatles Monthly predicated on the Beatles good looks and the letters page was a forum for euphemistically expressed sexuality The Beatles and Fandom is the first book to discuss these fan subcultures It combines academic theory on fandom with compelling original research material to tell an alternative history of the Beatles phenomenon a fan's history of the Beatles that runs concurrently with the popular story we all know

Memory Songs: A Personal Journey Into the

Music that Shaped the 90s James Cook, 2018-05-17 This is the story of a music obsessed boy's journey from his bedroom in Hitchin to the heart of nineties London just as Britpop is about to explode From James Cook's early encounters with pop's pioneers Revolver heard for the first time Led Zeppelin glimpsed on evening TV through an adolescence in which friendships are forged on a mutual love for the Velvet Underground to the high stakes gamble of moving to the metropolis the years between the assassination of John Lennon and Kurt Cobain's suicide are mapped in musical memories Along the way we explore the diverse influences that fuelled the nineties guitar pop boom from John Barry to Bryan Ferry and follow James as he forms a band with his twin brother and releases a critically acclaimed debut album More than a memoir Memory Songs stands as a testament to music's power over the imagination the way it punctuates our past and shapes our future Woven through with meditations on the artists who defined the UK's last legendary scene it delivers a passionate analysis of the music that shaped a crucial moment in British cultural history subnational statebuilding in Chechnya and Ingushetia Consequently subnational authoritarianism is not the result of the pre existing social composition of the society but a reflection of the rules of the game imposed by Moscow and political choices of the Kremlin installed local elites

As Heard on TV: Popular Music in Advertising Bethany Klein, 2016-04-15 The use of popular music in advertising represents one of the most pervasive mergers of cultural and commercial objectives in the modern age Steady public response to popular music in television commercials ranging from the celebratory to the outraged highlights both unresolved tensions around such partnerships and the need to unpack the complex issues behind everyday media practice Through an analysis of press coverage and interviews with musicians music supervisors advertising creatives and licensing managers As Heard on TV considers the industrial changes that have provided a foundation for the increased use of popular music in advertising and explores the critical issues and debates surrounding media alliances that blur cultural ambitions with commercial goals The practice of licensing popular music for advertising revisits and continues a number of themes in cultural and media studies among them the connection between authorship and ownership in popular music the legitimization of advertising as art industrial transformations in radio and music the role of music in branding and the restructuring of meaning that results from commercial exploitation of popular music As Heard on TV addresses these topics by exploring cases involving artists from the Beatles to the Shins and various dominant corporations of the last half century As one example within a wider debate about the role of commerce in the production of culture the use of popular music in advertising provides an entry point through which a range of practices can be understood and interrogated This book attends to the relationship between popular culture and corporate power in its complicated variation at times mutually beneficial and playfully suspicious of constructed boundaries and at others conceived in strain and symbolic of the triumph of hypercommercialism

Four Days Time Anne Cline, 2014-04 Amy Richards is a quirky die hard Beatles fan and a no nonsense author who fills the void of her mundane life with listening to music and writing novels Bored by the familiarity of her existence and weary of her stagnant relationship Amy questions her ability to make any real changes when she unexpectedly meets a witty and well known actor by the name of Adam Cam But when Adam extends an invitation that Amy cannot refuse she will find that Adam knows more about her and her past than he is letting on While Amy struggles under the pressures of temptation her mind plagues her at night with wild and hellish dreams involving Sasquatches and vivid nightmares of wild bear attacks and aliens Will Adam be able to genuinely express his feelings of desire for Amy in the only way she can comprehend Will Amy find the strength to do the right thing Or will she decide to change her life forever after only Four Days Time

Social Mindscapes Eviatar Zerubavel, 1999-10-15 Why do we eat sardines but never goldfish ducks but never parrots Why does adding cheese make a hamburger a cheeseburger whereas adding ketchup does not make it a ketchupburger By the same token how do we determine which things said at a meeting should be included in the minutes and which ought to be considered off the record and officially disregarded In this wide ranging and provocative book Eviatar

Zerubavel argues that cognitive science cannot answer these questions since it addresses cognition on only two levels the individual and the universal To fill the gap between the Romantic vision of the solitary thinker whose thoughts are the product of unique experience and the cognitive psychological view which revolves around the search for the universal foundations of human cognition Zerubavel charts an expansive social realm of mind a domain that focuses on the conventional normative aspects of the way we think With witty anecdote and revealing analogy Zerubavel illuminates the social foundation of mental actions such as perceiving attending classifying remembering assigning meaning and reckoning the time What takes place inside our heads he reminds us is deeply affected by our social environments which are typically groups that are larger than the individual yet considerably smaller than the human race Thus we develop a nonuniversal software for thinking as Americans or Chinese lawyers or teachers Catholics or Jews Baby Boomers or Gen Xers Zerubavel explores the fascinating ways in which thought communities carve up and classify reality assign meanings and perceive things defamiliarizing in the process many taken for granted assumptions
