

The book cover features a photograph of railroad tracks that cross each other in the middle of a rural landscape. The tracks are made of dark metal rails and wooden ties, and they lead the eye towards the horizon. The landscape consists of green and yellow fields under a clear blue sky. In the distance, some houses and trees are visible on the left side.

order Chapter Eco Anxiety and the Responses of Ecological Citizenship and Mindfulness is available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License via link.springer.com Doing Ethics in Media Jay Black, Chris Roberts, 2011-04-19 Doing Ethics in Media: Theories and Practical Applications is an accessible comprehensive introduction to media ethics. Its theoretical framework and grounded discussions engage students to think clearly and systematically about dilemmas in the rapidly changing media environment. The 13 chapter text is organized around six decision-making questions: the 5Ws and H of media ethics. The questions encourage students to articulate the issues, apply codes, policies or laws, consider the needs of stakeholders, sift and sort through conflicting values, integrate philosophic principles, and pose a test of publicity. Specifically, the questions ask: What's your problem? Why not follow the rules? Who wins, who loses? What's it worth? Who's whispering in your ear? How's your decision going to look? As they progress through the text, students are encouraged to resolve dozens of practical applications and increasingly complex case studies relating to journalism, new media, advertising, public relations, and entertainment. Other distinctive features include: Comprehensive materials on classic moral theory and current issues such as truth-telling and deception, values, persuasion, and propaganda, privacy, diversity, and loyalty. A user-friendly approach that challenges students to think for themselves rather than imposing answers on them. Consistent connections between theories and the decision-making challenges posed in the practical applications and case studies. A companion website with online resources for students including additional readings and chapter overviews, as well as instructor materials with a test bank, instructor's manual, sample syllabi, and more. www.routledge.com/textbooks/black A second website with continuously updated examples, case studies, and student writing. www.doingmediaethics.com Doing Ethics in Media is aimed at undergraduates and graduate students studying media ethics in mass media, journalism, and media studies. It also serves students in rhetoric, popular culture, communication studies, and interdisciplinary social sciences.

Doing Ethics Lewis Vaughn, 2024-01-07 Discover the 1 introductory ethics textbook Experiencing Philosophy - Second Edition Anthony Falikowski, Susan Mills, 2022-11-22 Experiencing Philosophy begins with the assumption that philosophy is not merely something you know but also something you experience and participate in. The book presents philosophical theories and ideas with reference to their practical relevance to the lives of student readers. To this end, a number of engaging features and inserts are provided: Original Sources: Numerous primary readings are included, introducing students directly to the philosophical work of diverse thinkers ranging from Plato to Martin Luther King Jr. Each reading is thoughtfully excerpted and is followed by reflective questions. Philosopher Profiles: Abstract ideas are connected to the lives of real historical figures through fascinating biographical profiles. Take It Personally: To illustrate how philosophy can be useful and relevant, each chapter begins by placing the material in a personal context. Know Thyself Diagnostics: This book takes seriously, as did Socrates, the Delphic Oracle's dictum to know thyself. Students are given self-diagnostics to explore their own philosophical values, ideals, and beliefs. Philosophers in Action: Philosophy is something you do, not just something you know Prompts are provided throughout the text inviting students to conduct thought experiments analyze concepts and discuss and debate controversial points Thinking about Your Thinking These metacognitive prompts require students to engage in higher order thinking not only about the presented readings and ideas but also with respect to their own values assumptions and beliefs Plus Built in study guides diagrams famous philosophical quotations comics feature boxes and more

Winning Votes by Abusing Reason Jamie Carlin Watson,2016-12-14 Over the past few decades psychologists have discovered that human reasoning is defective in surprising ways We are beset by numerous biases and heuristics which lead us to reason poorly about things that matter to us And while there are illuminating evolutionary explanations for how these biases and heuristics may have benefited our species in its phylogeny psychologists are unanimous that these cognitive dispositions largely corrupt rather than aid our belief forming practices In Winning Votes by Abusing Reason Political Rhetoric and Responsible Belief Jamie Watson argues that political rhetoric rather than helping us overcome these defects exacerbates them And standard attempts to address this problem such as deliberative democracy and paternalism tend to either exclude citizens from important decisions or give them the illusion of reasoning well perpetuating poor and irresponsible political beliefs This book concludes that rather than attempt more political solutions the most promising approach to forming and preserving responsible political beliefs is to adopt individual principles of epistemic caution The author brings together insights from political philosophy social epistemology behavioral psychology and agnotology to suggest how we might protect our belief forming behavior from the corrosive effects of political rhetoric Recommended for scholars of philosophy rhetoric political science and communications
