Seeing South Asia Dev Nath Pathak, Biswajit Das, Ratan Kumar Roy, 2022-04-11 This book critically examines the cultural politics of visuals in South Asia. It makes a key contribution to the study of visuals in the social sciences in South Asia by studying the interplay of the seen and unseen and the visual and nonvisual. The volume explores interrelated themes including the vernacular visual and visuality ways of seeing in South Asia and the methodology of hermeneutic sensorium anxiety and politics of the visuals across the region and the trajectory of visual anthropology significance of visual symbols and representations in contemporary performances and folk art visual landscapes of loss and recovery and representation of refugees visual public in South Asia and making of visuals for contemporary consumptions. The chapters unravel the concepts of visual visibility visuality while attending to determinant meta ideas such as memory and modernity trajectories of tradition fluidity and hybridity and visual performative politics. Based on interdisciplinary resources the chapters in this volume present a wide array of empirical findings across India Pakistan Sri Lanka Nepal and Bangladesh along with analytical readings of the visual culture of the subcontinent across borders. The book will be useful to scholars and researchers of visual and cultural studies social and cultural anthropology sociology political studies media and communications studies performance studies art history television and film studies photography studies and South Asian studies. It will also interest practitioners including artists visual artists photographers filmmakers and media critics.

The Evolution of Song and Dance in Hindi Cinema Ajay Gehlawat, Rajinder Dudrah, 2020-05-21 Exploring the evolution of song and dance in the popular Hindi film this book examines how these quintessential elements have been and continue to be theorized. As song picturizations as they are frequently called have evolved shifting from little more than impromptu moves around tree trunks to highly choreographed affairs featuring scores of professional dancers and exotic backgrounds their theorization has also developed beyond the initial peremptory dismissals of earlier critics. Featuring a landmark collection of essays from leading theorists as well as newer contributions from up and coming scholars this book develops new and exciting ways of thinking about song and dance in Hindi cinema and in turn explores how these elements work to re define popular Hindi cinema in the twenty first century. This collection will be of interest to students and scholars of Hindi cinema musicals and global popular cultures. It was originally published as a special issue of South Asian Popular Culture.

Bollywood Sounds Jayson Beaster-Jones, 2014-10-09 Bollywood Sounds focuses on the songs of Indian films in their historical social commercial and cinematic contexts. Author Jayson Beaster Jones takes readers through the highly collaborative compositional process highlighting the contributions of film directors music directors composers lyricists musicians and singers in song production. Through close musical and multimedia analysis of more than twenty landmark compositions Bollywood Sounds illustrates how the producers of Indian film songs have long mediated a variety of musical styles instruments and performance practices to create a uniquely cosmopolitan music genre. As an exploration of the music of seventy years of Hindi films Bollywood

The Female Voice in Sufi Ritual Shemeem Burney Abbas, 2010-06-04 The female voice plays a more central role in Sufi ritual especially in the singing of devotional poetry than in almost any other area of Muslim culture Female singers perform sufiana kalam or mystical poetry at Sufi shrines and in concerts folk festivals and domestic life while male singers assume the female voice when singing the myths of heroines in qawwali and sufiana kalam Yet despite the centrality of the female voice in Sufi practice throughout South Asia and the Middle East it has received little scholarly attention and is largely unknown in the West This book presents the first in depth study of the female voice in Sufi practice in the subcontinent of Pakistan and India Shemeem Burney Abbas investigates the rituals at the Sufi shrines and looks at women s participation in them as well as male performers use of the female voice The strengths of the book are her use of interviews with both prominent and grassroots female and male musicians and her transliteration of audio and videotaped performances Through them she draws vital connections between oral culture and the written Sufi poetry that the musicians sing for their audiences This research clarifies why the female voice is so important in Sufi practice and underscores the many contributions of women to Sufism and its rituals

Filming the Gods Rachel Dwyer, 2006-09-27 Filming the Gods examines the role and depiction of religion in Indian cinema showing that the relationship between the modern and the traditional in contemporary India is not exotic but part of everyday life Concentrating mainly on the Hindi cinema of Mumbai Bollywood it also discusses India s other cinemas Rachel Dwyer s lively discussion encompasses the mythological genre which continues India s long tradition of retelling Hindu myths and legends drawing on sources such as the national epics of the Mahabharata and the Ramayana the devotional genre which flourished at the height of the nationalist movement in the 1930s and 40s and the films made in Bombay that depict India s Islamicate culture including the historical the courtesan film and the Muslim social genre Filming the Gods also examines the presence of the religious across other genres and how cinema represents religious communities and their beliefs and practices It draws on interviews with film stars directors and producers as well as popular fiction fan magazines and the films themselves As a result Filming the Gods is a both a guide to the study of film in religious culture as well as a historical overview of Indian religious film
