Between Philosophy and Literature Daphna Erdinast-Vulcan, 2013-12-11 This is an original reading of Mikhail Bakhtin in the context of Western philosophical traditions and counter traditions The book portrays Bakhtin as a Modernist thinker torn between an ideological secularity and a profound religious sensibility invariably concerned with questions of ethics and impelled to turn from philosophy to literature as another way of knowing Most major studies of Bakhtin highlight the fragmented and apparently discontinuous nature of his work Erdinast Vulcan emphasizes instead the underlying coherence of the Bakhtinian project reading its inherent ambivalences as an intersection of philosophical literary and psychological insights into the dynamics of embodied subjectivity Bakhtin's turn to literature and poetry as well as the dissatisfactions that motivated it align him with three other exilic Continental philosophers who were his contemporaries Bergson Merleau Ponty and Levinas Adopting Bakhtin's own open ended approach to the human sciences the book stages a series of philosophical encounters between these thinkers highlighting their respective itineraries and impasses and generating a Bakhtinian synergy of ideas Mikhail Bakhtin's Heritage in Literature, Arts, and Psychology Slav N. philosophical ideas that evolved in the Soviet period the book confirms that not all Soviet philosophy was dogmatic and tied to orthodox Marxism and the ideology of Marxism Leninism It shows Russian philosophical development of the Soviet period in a new light as a philosophy defined by a genuine discourse of exploration and intellectual progress rather than stagnation and dogmatism In addition to providing the historical and cultural background that explains the development of the 20th century Russian philosophy the book also puts the discussed ideas and theories in the context of contemporary philosophical discussions showing their relevance to nowadays debates in Western philosophy With short biographies of key thinkers an extensive current bibliography and a detailed chronology of Soviet philosophy this research resource provides a new understanding of the Soviet period and its intellectual legacy 100 years after the Russian Revolution

Dostoevsky's Crime and Punishment Robert Guay, 2019-04-26 The gruesome double murder upon which the novel Crime and Punishment hinges leads its culprit Raskolnikov into emotional trauma and obsessive destructive self reflection But Raskolnikov's famous philosophical musings are just part of the full philosophical thought manifest in one of Dostoevsky's most famous novels This volume uniquely brings together prominent philosophers and literary scholars to deepen our understanding of the novel's full range of philosophical thought The seven essays treat a diversity of topics including language and the representation of the human mind emotions and the susceptibility to loss the nature of agency freedom and the possibility of evil the family and the failure of utopian critique the authority of law and morality and the dialogical self Further authors provide new approaches for thinking about the relationship between literary representation and philosophy and the way that Dostoevsky labored over intricate problems of narrative form in Crime and Punishment Together these essays demonstrate a seminal work's full philosophical worth a novel rich with complex themes whose questions reverberate powerfully into the 21st century

Theoretical Schools and Circles in the Twentieth-Century Humanities Marina Grishakova, Silvi Salupere, 2015-04-10 Schools and circles have been a major force in twentieth century intellectual movements They fostered circulation of ideas within and between disciplines thus altering the shape of intellectual inquiry This volume offers a new perspective on theoretical schools in the humanities both as generators of conceptual knowledge and as cultural phenomena The structuralist semiotic phenomenological and hermeneutical schools and circles have had a deep impact on various disciplines ranging from literary studies to philosophy historiography and sociology The volume focuses on a set of loosely interrelated groups with a strong literary linguistic and semiotic component but extends to the fields of philosophy and history the interdisciplinary conjunctions arising from a sense of conceptual kinship It includes chapters on unstudied or less studied groups such as Tel Aviv School of poetics and semiotics or the research group Poetics and Hermeneutics The volume presents a significant supplement to the standard historical accounts of literary critical and related theory in the twentieth century It enhances and complicates our understanding of the twentieth century intellectual and academic history by showing schools and circles in the state of germination dialogue controversy or decline in their respective historical and institutional settings while reaching simultaneously beyond those dense settings to the new cultural and ideological situations of the twenty first century

Dialogic

Methodology for Transdisciplinary Practice-Based Research E. Jayne White,Mahtab Janfada,2025-01-17 Dialogic methodology is a specific approach to research that invites creative engagement with plural voices and their meanings in lived experience It draws from the writings of Russian philosopher Mikhail Bakhtin who established an agenda for the study of dialogue In Dialogic Methodology for Transdisciplinary Practice Based Research E Jayne White and Mahtab Janfada introduce the premises processes and practices of dialogic methodology as a legitimised approach to the transdisciplinary study of practice Drawing on a series of Bakhtin s original writings and dynamic interviews from dialogic scholars across the globe the authors advocate approaches to research that invite speculative inquiry and even question the original assertions that oriented the issue in the first place As White and Janfada set out an alternative pathway for scholars and students to contemplate the relevance of dialogism for their research they offer an expansive possibility for contemplating issues paradoxes or problems across diverse practice contexts They present their approach as an alternative methodological framework for research in educational contexts emphasizing the subjectivities that support and or thwart their effectiveness and purpose Hence this methodology seeks points of departure from traditional object subject based research on or about the other to interdisciplinary investigations that determinedly bring all parties into investigation and inquiry Synthesizing the latest research in the field and translating complex ideas into real life practice contexts this book walks readers through the ins and outs of dialogic methodology with a view of how to apply the approach to their own research and practice Joseph Conrad's Cultural Legacy Linda Dryden,Robert Hampson,2024-09-19 In 2024 the literary community commemorates the 100th anniversary of the death of Joseph Conrad This volume of collected essays takes the opportunity to reflect on Conrad s enduring influence on literature and culture in the 21st century Offering reflections on Conrad s legacy by leading critics and scholars in the field of Conrad studies as well as by significant figures in the arts and cultural sector it represents a unique contribution to Conrad studies and provides an overview of how the author continues to inspire and shape contemporary literature and culture in the 21st century Covering a broad range of topics from discussions of how Conrad has inspired contemporary films and operas through to the pertinence of his works to current conflicts and key contemporary issues Joseph Conrad s Cultural Legacy offers unique original insights into the enduring relevance of one of the leading literary figures of the 20th century Creating Democracy Charles Hersch,2025-02-03 Creating Democracy brings into dialogue for the first time two important theorists of democracy Hannah Arendt 1906 75 and Mikhail Bakhtin 1895 975 Their shared conception of democracy stemming from their encounters with totalitarian governments Nazi Germany for Arendt and Stalinist Russia for Bakhtin and the rise of authoritarian populism in both Europe and America make their ideas more relevant than ever Charles Hersch contends that Arendt and Bakhtin have a unique vision of democracy that centers on creation and creativity These two thinkers imagine a world that both makes room for the cultivation and expression of each person s individuality and facilitates healthy interdependence one that does not reduce us to sameness They also describe the many threats to such a humanistic world whether ideological social or political Creating Democracy also makes a unique contribution to debates in political theory about the possibility of freedom in modern society Offering an alternative to poststructuralism and liberalism Arendt and Bakhtin show us how in a variety of complex ways subjects who are influenced by their culture especially by the language in which they speak and think can nonetheless help construct themselves and the world For both thinkers humans are meaning making beings who shape the world primarily through language even as it shapes us This book brings to light a rich vision of democracy that is sorely needed in a time when authoritarianism threatens us more than it has in decades Students and scholars in political science cultural studies and literature will all find this book

Under Western Eyes Allan Simmons, John Henry Stape, Jeremy Hawthorn, 2011 Characterized by Conrad himself as his most deeply meditated novel Under Western Eyes enjoyed a warm reception on its publication in October 1911 In the century since it has rewarded readers with various pleasures Exploring the intertwined subjects of personal morality the nature of the State national character and identity and covertly digging into the tensions of his family's past the novel is the last of Conrad's sustained excursions into overtly political territory This collection of eleven essays considers Conrad's achievement from several perspectives Opening with a provocative essay on the text's genesis it surveys intertextual relations and influences considers its ethical challenges its psychological appeal to our time and its contemporary reception and reception in Russia Addressed to the scholar of literary Modernism Under Western Eyes Centennial Essays offers a vivid snapshot of current critical technologies This well balanced collection should help the student and classroom teacher alike in pursuing further the novel's richly layered interests

Narrative Faith David Stromberg, 2017-10-18 Narrative Faith engages with the dynamics of doubt and faith to consider how literary works with complex structures explore different moral visions The study describes a literary petite histoire that problematizes faith in two ways both in the themes presented in the story and the strategies used to tell that story leading readers to doubt the narrators and their narratives Starting with Dostoevsky's Demons 1872 a literary work that has captivated and confounded critics and readers for well over a century the study examines Albert Camus's The Plague 1947 and Isaac Bashevis Singer's The Penitent 1973 83 works by twentieth century authors who similarly intensify questions of faith through narrators that generate doubt The two postwar novelists share parallel preoccupations with Dostoevsky's art and similar personal philosophies while their works constitute two literary responses to the cataclysm of the Second World War extending questions of faith into the current era The book's last section looks beyond narrative inquiry to consider themes of confession and revision that appear in all three novels and open onto horizons beyond faith and doubt to hope

Persistent Forms Ilya Kliger, Boris Maslov, 2015-12-14 Since the mid 1980s attempts to think history and literature together have produced much exciting work in the humanities Indeed some form of historicism can be said to inform most of the current scholarship in literary studies including work in poetics yet much of this scholarship remains undertheorized Envisioning a revitalized and more expansive historicism this volume builds on the tradition of Historical Poetics pioneered by Alexander Veselovsky 1838 1906 and developed in various fruitful directions by the Russian Formalists Mikhail Bakhtin and Olga Freidenberg The volume includes previously untranslated texts of some of the major scholars in this critical tradition as well as original contributions which place that tradition in dialogue with other thinkers who have approached literature in a globally comparatist and evolutionary historical spirit The contributors seek to challenge and complement a historicism that stresses proximate sociopolitical contexts through an engagement with the longue durée of literary forms and institutions In particular Historical Poetics aims to uncover deep historical stratifications and asynchronicities in which formal solutions may display elective affinities with other chronologically distant solutions to analogous social and political problems By recovering the traditional nexus of philology and history Persistent Forms seeks to reinvigorate poetics as a theoretical discipline that would respond to such critical and intellectual developments as Marxism New Historicism the study of world literature practices of distant reading and a renewed attention to ritual oral poetics and genre

Memory and Narrative Ethics Jacob Lothe,2025-03-26 As the last survivors of the Holocaust pass away the challenge of maintaining and extending our knowledge of this critical historical event becomes increasingly urgent Without the firsthand testimonies of survivors our understanding of the Holocaust is at risk of becoming diluted or distorted The narratives that shape our collective memory whether through testimony fiction or film are essential in preserving the true horror and lessons of the Holocaust This fading firsthand knowledge could lead to a loss of the ethical and historical gravity of Nazi Germany's mass murder of around six million Jews Memory and Narrative Ethics presents an original approach that combines narrative studies memory studies narrative ethics narrative psychology and Holocaust studies to analyze how different forms of narrative preserve Holocaust memory Through the approach of narrative hermeneutics and taking into account his own perspective as a European born after the Second World War Jakob Lothe offers insightful analysis of testimonies non fiction films novels and film adaptations and demonstrates how these narratives constructively respond to the ethical challenge of remembering the Holocaust By understanding and utilizing these diverse narrative forms we can maintain a vivid ethical and comprehensive collective memory of the Holocaust This ensures that future generations grasp the historical significance and moral lessons of this atrocity even as direct survivor testimonies soon become scarce

Reading Backwards Muireann Maguire,Timothy Langen,2021-06-18 This book outlines with theoretical and literary historical rigor a highly innovative approach to the writing of Russian literary history and to the reading of canonical Russian texts Anticipatory plagiarism is a concept developed by the French Oulipo group but it has never to my knowledge been explored with reference to Russian studies The editors and contributors to the proposed volume a blend of senior and beginning scholars Russians and non Russians offer a set of essays on Gogol Dostoevsky and Tolstoy which provocatively test the utility of AP as a critical tool relating these canonical authors to more recent instances some of them decidedly non canonical The senior scholars who are the editors and most of the contributors are truly distinguished The volume is likely to receive serious attention and to be widely read I recommend it with unqualified enthusiasm William Mills Todd III Harry Tuchman Levin Professor of Literature Harvard University As the founder of the notion of plagiarism by anticipation which was stolen from me in the sixties by fellow colleagues I am delighted to learn that my modest contribution to literary theory will be used to better understand the interplay of interferences in Russian literature Indeed one would have to be naive to think that the great Russian authors would have invented everything In fact they were able to draw their ideas from their predecessors but also from their successors testifying to the open mindedness that characterizes the Slavic soul This book restores the truth Pierre Bayard Professor of Literature University of Paris 8 This edited volume employs the paradoxical notion of anticipatory plagiarism developed in the 1960s by the Oulipo group of French writers and thinkers as a mode for reading Russian literature Reversing established critical approaches to the canon and literary influence its contributors ask us to consider how reading against linear chronologies can elicit fascinating new patterns and perspectives Reading Backwards An Advance Retrospective on Russian Literature re assesses three major nineteenth century authors Gogol Dostoevsky and Tolstoy either in terms of previous writers and artists who plagiarized them such as Raphael Homer or Hall Caine or of their own depredations against later writers from J M Coetzee to Liudmila Petrushevskaja Far from suggesting that past authors literally stole from their descendants these engaging essays contributed by both early career and senior scholars of Russian and comparative literature encourage us to identify the contingent and familiar within classic texts By moving beyond rigid notions of cultural heritage and literary canons they demonstrate that inspiration is cyclical influence can flow in multiple directions and no idea is ever truly original This book will be of great value to literary scholars and students working in Russian Studies The introductory discussion of the origins and context of plagiarism by anticipation alongside varied applications of the concept will also be of interest to those working in the wider fields of comparative literature reception studies and translation studies
