

SECTION A

Answer two questions from this section.

QUESTION ONE

- a. With reference to Medimatters, outline two key features of operating as a private limited company. [4 marks]

A Private Limited Company such as Medimatters is a company that can only raise share capital from friends and family, not the general public. Key features of a PLC include:

- Directors can maintain overall control over the business as they control the trading of shares in their company. Thus, the six founding members of Medimatters will be able to choose who owns how much of the company. Further, the six owners (shareholders) of this private businesses will be able to have more of a say as there are less shareholders and so each director has more influence over business decisions.
- Another feature is that it is relatively less expensive to start a private limited company rather than a public one. Medimatters is looking to become established with only $60 000 in startup capital. However private companies such as Medimatters will not usually be able to raise as much finance as public limited companies.

Award 3-4 marks if the student's answer meets the following criteria:

- The student demonstrates knowledge and understanding.
- Appropriate terminology is used and explained.
- The response is applied to the stimulus material.

- b. With reference to Medimatters, distinguish between leadership and management (line 24). [6 marks]

Ahmed is the leader at Medimatters. Leadership I defined as the art of motivating a group of people towards achieving a common objective.

Leadership is different to management as:

- It is essentially about motivating and inspiring others
- Leaders are innovators who encourage others to accept change
