The Poetics of Fragmentation in Contemporary British and American Fiction Vanessa Guignery, Wojciech Drag, 2019-12-02 The last decades have seen a revival of fragmentation in British and American works of fiction that deny linearity coherence and continuity in favour of disruption gaps and fissures Authors such as Ali Smith David Mitchell and

David Shields have sought new ways of representing our global media saturated contemporary experience which differ from modernist and postmodernist experimentations from which the writers nevertheless draw inspiration This volume aims to investigate some of the most important contributions to fragmentary literature from British and American writers since the 1990s with a particular emphasis on texts released in the twenty first century The chapters within examine whether contemporary forms of literary fragmentation constitute a return to the modernist episteme or the fragmented literature of exhaustion of the 1960s mark a continuity with postmodernist aesthetics or signal a deviation from past models and an attempt to reflect today s accelerated culture of social media and over communication Contributors theorise and classify literary fragments examine the relationship between fragmentation and the Zeitgeist influenced by globalisation media saturation and social networks analyse the mechanics of multimodal and multimedial fictions and consider the capacity of literary fragmentation to represent personal or collective trauma and to address ethical concerns They also investigate the ways in which the architecture of the printed book is destabilised and how aesthetic processes involving fragmentation bricolage and or collage raise ontological ethical and epistemological questions about the globalised contemporary world we live in and its relation to the self and the other Besides the aforementioned authors the volume makes reference to the works of J G Ballard Julian Barnes Mark Z Danielewski David Markson Jonathan Safran Foer David Foster Wallace Jeanette Winterson and several others

Contemporary Fictions of Attention Alice Bennett, 2018-08-09 With the supposed shortening of our attention spans what future is there for fiction in the age of the internet Contemporary Fictions of Attention rejects this discourse of distraction crisis which suggests that the future of reading is in peril and instead finds that contemporary writers construct fictions of attention that find some value in states or moments of inattention Through discussion of work by a diverse selection of writers including Joshua Cohen Ben Lerner Tom McCarthy Ali Smith Zadie Smith and David Foster Wallace this book identifies how fiction prompts readers to become peripherally aware of their own attention Contemporary Fictions of Attention locates a common interest in attention within 21st century fiction and connects this interest to a series of debates surrounding ethics temporality the everyday boredom work and self discipline in contemporary culture

Reading Theories in Contemporary Fiction Lisa McNally, 2013-04-25 Even after the upheavals wrought by Theory literary criticism has generally ignored the act and experience of reading itself proceeding as though something so fundamental to our experience of texts could be taken for granted Reading Theories in Contemporary Fiction draws on deconstruction and the thought of Jacques Derrida to explore the ways in which contemporary fiction engages with reading its power the elusive nature of its experience and the failures of understanding inherent in it Along the way the book proceeds through close readings of such authors as J M Coetzee David Mitchell Toni Morrison and Philip Roth

Queering Early Modern Death in England Lauren Shohet, Christine Varnado, 2025-08-21 What does queer death have to do with early modern England This collection interrogates the profoundly queer strange excessive camp and uncanny dimensions of death in early modern English literary theatrical and material archives Contributors provide new insights on death by using the analytic tools of queer theory via non binary analyses of gender sexuality humanity nature embodiment and temporality Turning queer analysis to questions of death allows it to be understood as non dualist non linear a teleological and fruitfully muddled The essays illuminate early modern experiences before the ascendancy of Cartesian dualism occluded alternative understandings of death They also speak to a present and a future where many received paradigms no longer hold Key dramatic texts from the early modern period including The Duchess of Malfi The Alchemist The Spanish Tragedy The Winter's Tale Richard III and A Midsummer Night's Dream show the expansive possibilities of death and dying in a queer mode Further essays consider queer dimensions of death in lyric poetry animal husbandry typology and Shakespearean authorship These approaches make clear why readers interested in queerness and death should immerse themselves in the cultural life of sixteenth and seventeenth century England
