How The Irish Became White Noel Ignatiev:

How the Irish Became White Noel Ignatiev, 1995 How The Irish Became White tells the story of how the Irish immigrant went from racially Oppressed to racial Oppressor an American Story most of us haven't wanted to hear before Utilizing newspaper chronicles memoirs biographies and official accounts Noel Ignatiev traces the tattered history of Irish and African American relations revealing how the Irish in America used unions the Catholic Church and the Democratic party to help gain and secure their newly found place in the White Republic How The Irish Became White opens with the reactions of Irish America to the 1841 appeal made to them by Daniel O Connell The Liberator to join with anti slavery forces in the new country It then reviews the status of Catholics in Ireland and some of their ambiguous contacts with American race patterns after emigration Ignatiev carefully explores and challenges the Irish tradition of labor protest and the Irish role in the wave of anti Negro violence that swept the country in the 1830s and 1840s In addition How The Irish Became White provides a provocative recounting of the roles of northeastern urban politicians in the Irish triumph over nativism which allowed for their entry into the white race This is the first book to focus not on how the Irish were assimilated but how they were assimilated as whites Ignatiev seeks out the roots of the well known tension between Irish and African Americans and draws the connection between the embracing of white supremacy by the Irish and their success in America How The Irish Became White convincingly explodes a number of the most powerful myths surrounding race in our society This bold and necessary intervention should be required reading for anyone interested in the history theory and politics of racial identity and race relations in the United States

the Panama Canal to mining crews in Arizona and West Virginia Contributors analyze the Spanish experience in the United States from a variety of perspectives discussing rural and urban enclaves the role of the state and the political mobilization of migrants using a range of methodological approaches that examine ethnicity race gender and cultural practices through the lenses of sociology history and cultural studies The mention of the Spanish influence in the United States often conjures up images of conquistadores and padres of old Forgotten in this account are the Spanish immigrants who reached American shores in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Hidden Out in the Open reveals the role of the modern migration of Spaniards in this land of immigrants and rectifies the erasure of Spain in the American narrative The book will be of interest to scholars and students of US history and the history of modern Spain and Europe as well as those interested ethnic and migration diaspora studies Hispanic Latino studies and the study of working class and radicalism Contributors Brian D Bunk Christopher J Casta eda Thomas Hidalgo Beverly Lozano Phylis Cancilla Martinelli Gary R Mormino George E Pozzetta Ana Varela Lago

Seeing My Skin Peter Jarrett-Schell, 2019-08-17 A personal journey of a priest's understanding of his Whiteness widens into an invitation to wrestle with larger cultural issues of race and belonging With humor and a sharp easily readable style Peter Jarrett Schell delves deeply into how Whiteness has shaped his life By telling his story he challenges readers to personally consider the role of race in their own lives In recent years white institutions congregations and individuals have all begun to wrestle with their racial legacy But these reflections often get lost abstracting ideas of white privilege white fragility structural racism and the like until they become nothing more than jargon This book challenges its readers to look closely at how these concepts show up in their everyday lives By examining how Whiteness has distorted his own perceptions relationships and sense of self Jarrett Schell argues for the personal stakes that white people have in dismantling racism and offers the creative possibilities that emerge when we begin to do the work

Life Writing and the End of Empire Emma Parker, 2024-03-21 The dismantlement of the British Empire had a profound impact on many celebrated white Anglophone writers of the twentieth century particularly those who were raised in former British colonial territories and returned to the metropole after the Second World War Formal decolonisation meant that these authors were unable to go home to their colonial childhoods a historical juncture with profound consequences for how they wrote and recorded their own lives Moving beyond previous discussions of imperial and colonial nostalgia Life Writing and the End of Empire is the first critical study of white memoirists and autobiographers who rewrote their memories of empire across numerous life narratives By focussing on these processual homecomings Emma Parker's study asks what it means to be at home in memories of empire whether in the settler farms of Southern Rhodesia or amidst the neon lights of Shanghai's International Settlement These discussions trace the legacies of empire to the habitations and detritus of everyday life from mansions and modest railway huts to empty swimming pools heirlooms and photograph albums Exploring works by Penelope Lively J G Ballard Doris Lessing and Janet Frame this study establishes new connections between authors usually discussed for their fiction and who have been hitherto unrecognised as post imperial life writers Offering close sustained analysis of autobiographies memoirs travel narratives and autofictions and identifying new subgenres such as speculative life writing this book advances rich new readings of autobiographical narrative By tracing the continuing importance of colonialism to white subjectivity the role of imperial memory in Britain and the ways that these unsettling forces move beneath the surface of modern and contemporary literature this study offers new conceptual insights to the fields of life writing and postcolonial studies

Race in Mind Paul Spickard, 2015-11-19 These essays analyze how race affects people's lives and relationships in all settings from the United States to Great Britain and from Hawai'i to Chinese Central Asia They contemplate the racial positions in various societies of people called Black and people called White of Asians and Pacific Islanders and especially of those people whose racial ancestries and identifications are multiple Here for the first time are Spickard's trenchant analyses of the creation of race in the South Pacific of DNA testing for racial ancestry and of the meaning of multiplicity in the age of Barack Obama

Educational Inequalities Kalwant Bhopal, Uvanney Maylor, 2013-11-07 While there is considerable literature on social inequality and education there is little recent work which explores notions of difference and diversity in relation to race class and gender This edited text aims to bring together researchers in the field of education located across many international contexts such as the UK Australia USA New Zealand and Europe Contributors investigate the ways in which dominant perspectives on difference intersectionality and institutional structures underpin and reinforce educational inequality in schools and higher education They emphasize the importance of international perspectives and innovative methodological approaches to examining these areas and seek to locate the dimensions of difference within recent theoretical discourses with an emphasis on race class and gender as key categories of analysis

Imitating Christ in Magwi Todd D. Whitmore, 2019-01-24 Imitating Christ in Magwi An Anthropological Theology achieves two things First focusing on indigenous Roman Catholics in northern Uganda and South Sudan it is a detailed ethnography of how a community sustains hope in the midst of one of the most brutal wars in recent memory that between the Ugandan government and the rebel Lord's Resistance Army Whitmore finds that the belief that the spirit of Jesus Christ can enter into a person through such devotions as the Adoration of the Eucharist gave people the wherewithal to carry out striking works of mercy during the conflict and like Jesus of Nazareth to risk their lives in the process Traditional devotion leveraged radical witness Second Gospel Mimesis is a call for theology itself to be a practice of imitating Christ Such practice requires both living among people on the far margins of society Whitmore carried out his fieldwork in Internally Displaced Persons camps and articulating a theology that foregrounds the daily if extraordinary lives of people Here ethnography is not an add on to theological concepts rather ethnography is a way of doing theology and includes what anthropologists call thick description of lives of faith Unlike theology that draws only upon abstract concepts what Whitmore calls anthropological theology is consonant with the fact that God did indeed become human It may well involve risk to one's own life Whitmore had to leave

Uganda for three years after writing an article critical of the President but that is what imitatio Christi sometimes requires

Rhetorical Listening Krista Ratcliffe, 2005 Long ignored within rhetoric and composition studies listening has returned to the disciplinary radar Rhetorical Listening Identification Gender Whiteness argues that rhetorical listening facilitates conscious identifications needed for cross cultural communication

The Handbook of Global Interventions in Communication Theory Yoshitaka Miike, Jing Yin, 2022-03-10 Moving beyond the U S Eurocentric paradigm of communication theory this handbook broadens the intellectual horizons of the discipline by highlighting underrepresented especially non Western theorists and theories and identifies key issues and challenges for future scholarship Showcasing diverse perspectives the handbook facilitates active engagement in different cultural traditions and theoretical orientations that are global in scope but local in effect It begins by exploring past efforts to diversify the field continuing on to examine theoretical concepts models and principles rooted in local cumulative wisdom It does not limit itself to the mass interpersonal communication divide but rather seeks to frame theory as global and inclusive in scope The book is intended for communication researchers and advanced students with relevance to scholars with an interest in theory within information science library science social and cross cultural psychology multicultural education social justice and social ethics international relations development studies and political science

Black and Green Brian Dooley, 1998-01-20 An excellent book Irish Voice New York Ties between political activists in Black America and Ireland span several centuries from the days of the slave trade to the close links between Frederick Douglass and Daniel O Connell and between Marcus Garvey and Eamon de Valera This timely book traces those historic links and examines how the struggle for black civil rights in America in the 1960s helped shape the campaign against discrimination in Northern Ireland The author includes interviews with key figures such as Angela Davis Bernadette McAliskey and Eamonn McCann

The Literature of Immigration and Racial Formation Linda Joyce Brown, 2004-09-22 This work examines early twentieth century literature about women immigrants in order to reveal the differing ways that American racial categories and identities particularly that of whiteness were textually and socially constructed at the beginning of the twentieth century

Marcia Muller and the Female Private Eye Alexander N. Howe, Christine A. Jackson, 2014-11-01 In 1977 Marcia Muller invaded the all male domain of detective literature and within a decade was established as the mother of the female hardboiled private eye She is now the author of four detective series including the critically acclaimed Sharon McCone series of more than two dozen novels This collection critically assesses Marcia Muller s writing and reevaluates current critical views on women s detective fiction in general In the first two of the book s three sections essays explore Muller s engagement with modern and postmodern feminism ethnicity and the socially underprivileged The third section focuses on one of Muller s major themes the trauma of history Drawing from the feminist historicist mythic psychoanalytic and cultural approaches found in all three sections the conclusion offers a panoramic perspective on Muller s accomplishments

recent and new work implicitly and explicitly challenging such a view In his historical studies of the intersections of race settler colonialism and slavery in his major essay with Elizabeth Esch on race and the management of labor in his detailing of the origins of critical studies of whiteness within Marxism and in his reflections on the history of solidarity Roediger argues that racial division is part of not only of the history of capitalism but also of the logic of capital
