Atlas of Moral Psychology Kurt Gray, Jesse Graham, 2019-11-15 This comprehensive and cutting edge volume maps out the terrain of moral psychology a dynamic and evolving area of research In 57 concise chapters leading authorities and up and coming scholars explore fundamental issues and current controversies The volume systematically reviews the empirical evidence base and presents influential theories of moral judgment and behavior It is organized around the key questions that must be addressed for a complete understanding of the moral mind The Psychology of Thinking about the Future

Gabriele Oettingen, A. Timur Sevincer, Peter M. Gollwitzer, 2018-03-08 Why do people spend so much time thinking about the future imagining scenarios that may never occur and making often unrealistic predictions This volume brings together leading researchers from multiple psychological subdisciplines to explore the central role of future thinking in human behavior across the lifespan It presents cutting edge work on the mechanisms involved in visualizing predicting and planning for the future Implications are explored for such important domains as well being and mental health academic and job performance ethical decision making and financial behavior Throughout chapters highlight effective self regulation strategies that help people pursue and realize their short and long term goals Ethics Education of Business Leaders Tom E.

Culham, 2013-08-01 Events on Wall Street and Main Street reveal that some business leaders make dramatically unethical self serving decisions that ignore the public interest How can business schools educate future business leaders to make ethical decisions Unfortunately most business schools fail in teaching ethical decision making They erroneously assume that such decision making is primarily conscious and reason based reflecting the western cultural orientation toward science and logic In this book Thomas Culham cites neurological findings showing that unconscious processes and emotions play a much more significant role than reason in making ethical decisions Culham urges business schools to teach a modified form of emotional intelligence linked with research supported contemplative practices from the great meditative traditions This book details the author s ethics curriculum and explains its successful application at the Sauder School of Business at the University of British Columbia This fascinating interdisciplinary and highly practical curriculum integrates philosophy virtue ethics Daoist thinking psychology and neuroscience This curriculum intends to transform the way business schools teach decision making Such an effort might just transform the way we do business A Psychological Approach to

Entrepreneurship Dean A. Shepherd, 2014-12-31 Within an entrepreneurial context what a person thinks and feels and how they behave are hugely consequential Entrepreneurs often work in scenarios of considerable time pressure task complexity uncertainty and high performance variance This fasci APS Observer, 2005 Handbook of Financial Decision Making Gilles Hilary, David McLean, 2023-08-14 This accessible Handbook provides an essential entry point for those with an interest in the increasingly complex subject of financial decision making It sheds light on new paradigms in society and the ways that new tools from private actors have affected financial decision making Covering a broad range of key topics in the area leading researchers summarize the state of the art in their respective areas of expertise delineating their projections for the future

Process, Sensemaking, and Organizing Tor Hernes, Sally Maitlis, 2012-05-31 Process Sensemaking and Organizing is the first in a series of volumes which explore perspectives on process theories an emerging approach to the study of organizations that focuses on understanding activities interactions and change as essential properties of organizations rather than structures and state an approach which prioritizes activity over product change over persistence novelty over continuity and expression over determination Process and sensemaking may be seen as mutually interlocking phenomena and as such are cornerstones in process thinking This volume brings together contributions from an international group of scholars energized by process organization studies The collection offers perspectives from different disciplines insights from diverse theoretical traditions and contexts and parallels made with a range of cultural forms including art poetry and cookery At the same time the chapters exhibit a clear emphasis on a process ontology process theorizing and narrative thinking Across this rich and varied collection recurrent themes emerge that distinguish process theorizing from the more logico scientific variance oriented research that dominates organization studies today This book will appeal to academics researchers and graduate students in management organization studies and sociology who wish to better understand the emergent changing and flow like character of organizational life and expand their understanding of the nature of sensemaking as a basis for organizing
