

IS YOUR BUILDING UP TO FIRE CODE?

Fire extinguishers, sprinklers, single pull fire alarms, and smoke alarms spaced throughout the building.

Well-marked paths of egress including exit signs and emergency lighting for evacuation.

Paths of egress wide for several people and kept clear and not used as storage areas.

All Fire doors and mechanisms should be in proper working order.

Combustibles should be stored in proper cabinets, marked well, and located near a sprinkler head.

Be sure that the address is clearly marked on the building.

Ensure that your building has a fire department lockbox installed.

Wall boxes should have covers, work space in front of electrical panels should be clear of obstructions and circuit numbers marked. Extension cords should be kept to a minimum and grounded.

FIRE CODES:

- Provide a safe place for employees in a manufacturing environment.
- Give those living in a building a safe place to make their homes.
- Provide a path of egress for those who are unfamiliar, such as in a shopping mall, where you won't know every step of a path to an exit.
- Protect the assets of those working or living in the building.
- Protect the building itself from damage and shelter the resale value.
- Provide confirmation to insurance companies.

If you are unsure whether your building will comply with local codes, contact us. We can do a walk-through, and find any shortcomings in your protection system. We can remedy those issues before they cause a violation.
