Directions: Read the short story. Read each question and mark or write the correct answer.

The Big Game

Jen is on a baseball team. There are ten kids on her team. They are called the West Cows. Their shirts and hats are green.

Today is their big baseball game. They play the South Robins. Their shirts and hats are red. The Robins were the best team last year.

The Cows want to be the best team this year. First, they have to beat the Robins. Jen feels happy and scared. She loves to play baseball. She is afraid the Cows will lose.

The score is four to four. It is a tie game. It is Jen's turn to hit. She steps up to the plate. The ball comes fast. Jen hits the ball far. She gets to third base. John was in front of her. He gets to home plate. The Cows win!

The effect of hearing loss on neural processing Jonathan E. Peelle, Arthur Wingfield, 2015-06-03 Efficient auditory processing requires the rapid integration of transient sensory inputs This is exemplified in human speech perception in which long stretches of a complex acoustic signal are typically processed accurately and essentially in real time Spoken language thus presents listeners auditory systems with a considerable challenge even when acoustic input is clear However auditory processing ability is frequently compromised due to congenital or acquired hearing loss or altered through background noise or assistive devices such as cochlear implants How does loss of sensory fidelity impact neural processing efficiency and health How does this ultimately influence behavior This Research Topic explores the neural consequences of hearing loss including basic processing carried out in the auditory periphery computations in subcortical nuclei and primary auditory cortex and higher level cognitive processes such as those involved in human speech perception By pulling together data from a variety of disciplines and perspectives we gain a more complete picture of the acute and chronic consequences of hearing loss for neural functioning The Power of Tests Elana (Professor Of Language Education Shohamy,2020-11-25

Language in Social Life is a major series which highlights the importance of language to an understanding of issues of social and professional concern It will be of practical relevance to all those wanting to understand how the ways we communicate both influence and are influenced by the structures and forces of contemporary social institutions In all modern societies individuals are subject to tests whether to enter educational programs to pass from one level to the next or to grant certificates to practice Yet tests are powerful tools which are often introduced in undemocratic and unethical ways as disciplinary tools for carrying out various policy agendas Tests can be detrimental to people s lives as they are capable of affecting and defining the knowledge and behaviour of those who are being tested The Power of Tests applies a critical perspective of language tests by examining their uses and consequences in education and society and by viewing tests not as isolated events but rather as embedded in social educational and political contexts The book is divided into four parts the first part establishes the power of tests through echoing the voices of test takers describing the features of the power of tests and the temptations that tests offer to bureaucrats who use them for power and control The second part reports on studies that provide empirical evidence about intentions and effects of a number of large scale language tests The third part interprets the results by examining their consequences on education and society arriving at a model of tests use The final section of the book offers strategies for controlling and minimising the misuses of tests by introducing the notion of Critical Language Testing which calls for the examination of the consequences and misuses of tests monitoring of power and pointing to their unethical uses It also provides a comprehensive discussion of the responsibilities of language testers including a new Code of Ethics as well as strategies for guarding and protecting the rights of test takers CliffsTestPrep Officer
