architects offers deep insight into the many drawing types and methods used today The section on portfolios is a helpful and timely addition Professor Michael Hagge Chair Department of Architecture The University of Memphis Contemporary Heritage Lexicon Cristiana Bartolomei, Alfonso Ippolito, Simone Helena Tanoue Vizioli, 2024-06-15 The book presents themes related to contemporary architecture as the results of diverse cultural influences and architectural legacies manifested in a rich variety of styles materials and spatial perceptions It consists of 24 chapters written by authors from various continents and contains the result of research highlighting contemporary architecture in relation to multiple aspects that are distinguished by their eclectic nature characterized by the integration of diverse cultural and architectural influences The book examines aspects involving material aspects technologies design history salvage technologies and digitization The aspects covered are always filtered through research which objectively integrates traditional and innovative approaches Thus the focus is to explore the contemporary lexicon not only in the field of architecture and engineering but in all those areas where this theme can be read with a meaningful vision Contemporary architecture is constantly evolving reflecting the changing needs of society and anticipating the challenges of the future Architecture and Freedom Owen Hopkins, 2018-04-09 Architects are facing a crisis of agency For decades they have seen their traditional role diminish in scope as more and more of their responsibilities have been taken over by other disciplines within the building construction industry Once upon a time we might have seen the architect as the conductor of the orchestra now he or she is but one cog in a vast and increasingly complex machine In an attempt to find a way out of this crisis there is growing debate about how architects might reassert the importance of their role and influence On one side of this argument are those who believe that architects must refocus their attention on the internal demands of the discipline On the other are those who argue that architects must instead reacquaint themselves with what many still believe to be the discipline's core mission of advancing social progress and promoting the public good and at the same time the scope of their traditional disciplinary remit At root this question is fundamentally about freedom about whether architects still possess it if they have ever done and whether it is possible to find the professional disciplinary and individual autonomy to be able to define the spheres of their own practice Presenting a variety of views and perspectives this issue of AD takes us to the heart of what freedom means for architecture as it adapts and evolves in response to the changing contexts in which it is practised in the 21st century Contributors include Phillip Bernstein Peggy Deamer Adam Nathaniel Furman Kate Goodwin Charles Holland Anna Minton Patrik Schumacher Alex Scott Whitby Ines Weizman and Sarah Wigglesworth Featured architects Atelier Kite ScottWhitbyStudio C S Architects Anupama Kundoo Noero Architects Umbrellium and Zaha Hadid Architects Spatial Strategies for Interior Design Ian Higgins, 2015-03-30 This inspirational and practical guide to organizing and planning interior spaces is packed with photographs diagrams models case studies and step by step instructions It provides useful information on finding ways to start the design process analyzing existing buildings using planning diagrams developing three dimensional spatial

Reading architecture , 1992      Multispace Owen Hopkins, 2023-10-30 Guest edited by Owen Hopkins Multispace exists at the intersection of the physical and digital and in the blurring of their previously clear dividing lines Multispace is not a single space but a hybrid space where in effect we occupy multiple spaces simultaneously We enter it on a Zoom call when we are in our office and in a meeting with 20 people when we are cycling down a country lane whilst racing against thousands of others who also use the Strava app when we are watching a TV show while live tweeting or perhaps most literally when wandering around the local park looking for creatures that only appear on a smartphone screen A fundamental question of this AD is why the phenomena that multispace describes are of concern to architects The answer is that multispace points to a situation that is at root an architectural one Offering both a collective and highly personalised experience static and dynamically customisable and above all at the same time public and private multispace lies at the centre of a set of tensions concerns and preoccupations at the core of our conception of architecture as theory and practice It is the messy space between with rough and uneven edges that are constantly shifting Contributors Aleksandra Belitskaja Alice Bucknell Jesse Damiani Wendy Fok Andrew Kovacs Lara Lesmes and Fredrik Hellberg Micaela Mantegna Holly Nielsen Giacomo Pala Paula Strunden Lucia Tahan and Francesca Torello and Joshua Bard Featured architects and artists iheartblob Ibiye Campis Office Kovacs Space Popular and Liam Young      Business Ethics and Digitization Christoph Lütge, Matthias Uhl, Alexander Kriebitz, Raphael Max, 2022-08-05 In this collection we bring together various disciplines that are critically engaged in reflecting the diverse aspects of digitization in business politics ethics and education Accordingly the volume will provide a provocative discourse space where the key theoretical and practical problems of implementing ethics in digitization will be discussed and assessed Moreover we aim to create a bridge between two hitherto mostly separate discourses the ethical discourse of issues of digitization and the discourse on ethical standards and their implementation in the area of business These discourses are greatly in need of being joined together since the vast majority of ethical standards in the field of digitization will have to be implemented by companies not government agencies NGOs or other non profit organisations We believe that this particular selection of articles is a first step towards creating this bridge Learning to Read and Write

Margaret Harris, Giyoo Hatano, 1999-05-27 For many years the development of theories about the way children learn to read and write was dominated by studies of English speaking populations As we have learned more about the way that children learn to read and write other scripts whether they have less regularity in their grapheme phoneme correspondences or do not make use of alphabetic symbols at all it has become clear that many of the difficulties that confront children learning to read and write English specifically are less evident or even non existent in other populations At the same time some aspects of learning to read and write are very similar across scripts The unique cross linguistic perspective offered in this book including chapters on Japanese Greek and the Scandinavian languages as well as English shows how the processes of learning to read and spell are affected by the characteristics of the writing system that children are learning to master A

How to Read Architecture Paulette Singley, 2019-06-26 How to Read Architecture is based on the fundamental premise that reading and interpreting architecture is something we already do and that close observation matters This book enhances this skill so that given an unfamiliar building you will have the tools to understand it and to be inspired by it Author Paulette Singley encourages you to misread, closely read, conventionally read and unconventionally read architecture to stimulate your creative process This book explores three essential ways to help you understand architecture: reading a building from the outside in, from the inside out and from the position of out and out or formal architecture This book erodes boundaries between the frequently compartmentalized fields of interior design, landscape design and building design with chapters exploring concepts of terroir, scenography, criticality, atmosphere, tectonics, inhabitation, type, form and enclosure Using examples and case studies that span a wide range of historical and global precedents Singley addresses the complex interaction among the ways a building engages its context, addresses its performative exigencies and operates as an autonomous aesthetic object Including over 300 images this book is an essential read for both undergraduate and postgraduate students of architecture with a global focus on the interpretation of buildings in their context
