Lun And Fudi:

Furtmeyr-Bibel (Deutsche Bibel AT, Genesis - Ruth) - BSB Cgm 8010 a, 1470 Englische Version This magnificent manuscript adorned by the Regensburg Renaissance painter Berthold Furtmeyr active 1460 1501 is a German Bible containing from the Old Testament the books from Genesis to Ruth A second volume of the Bible which was commissioned by Ulrich Stauff zu Ehrenfels died 1472 and his wife Clara Hofer von Lobenstein is assumed to have existed but unfortunately has not been preserved After illuminating the so called London Bible his oldest surviving masterpiece Furtmeyr began decorating what is now known as the Furtmeyr Bible between 1465 and 1470 He did not craft the illuminations all by himself as they clearly are the work of more than one hand The artist was assisted by members of his school of illuminators Furtmeyr and his disciples created three full page miniatures one portraying the donators and their family another of the Virgin Mary breast feeding Jesus and a striking living cross that comes at the end of the book The text is illustrated by 355 pictorial fields and 20 initials The Bible is also remarkable for several nocturnal scenes and a striking predilection for the female nude characteristic of Renaissance art The manuscript came into the possession of Duke Albert IV of Bavaria and the Munich Court Library but was carried off in the Swedish invasion of Germany during the Thirty Years War 1618 48 The Furtmeyr Bible finally returned to the successor to its original home the present day Bavarian State Library in 1960 The Making and Remaking of China's "Red Classics" Rosemary Roberts, Li Li, 2017-10-19 The Making and Remaking of China's Red Classics is the first full length work to bring together research on the red classics across the entire Maoist period through to the reform era It covers a representative range of genres including novels short stories films TV series picture books animation and traditional style paintings Collectively the chapters offer a panoramic view of the production and reception of the original red classics and the adaptations and remakes of such works after the Cultural Revolution The contributors present fascinating stories of how a work came to be regarded as or failed to become a red classic There has never been a single answer to the question of what counts as a red classic artists had to negotiate the changing political circumstances and adopt the correct artistic technique to bring out the authentic image of the people while appealing to the taste of the mass audience at the same time A critical examination of these works reveals their sociopolitical and ideological import aesthetic significance and function as a mass cultural phenomenon at particular historical moments This volume marks a step forward in the growing field of the study of Maoist cultural products The Making and Remaking of China's Red Classics analyzes the creation of literature in the Maoist era as well as the way in which the revolutionary canon was rediscovered and imagined during the reform period This book is a timely and fascinating set of studies critically illuminating a foundational time during PRC history and its aftermath Wendy Larson professor emerita University of Oregon Creative works produced in the Mao era 1942 1976 are often dismissed as mere propaganda Despite the fact that they are artistic reflections of that remarkable period scholars have generally ignored these red classics This book throws much needed light on them It

Wang,2023-11-20 Lineages Embedded in Temple Networks explores the key role played by elite Daoists in social and cultural life in Ming China notably by mediating between local networks biological lineages territorial communities temples and festivals and the state They did this through their organization in clerical lineages their own empire wide networks for channeling knowledge patronage and resources and by controlling central temples that were nodes of local social structures In this book the only comprehensive social history of local Daoism during the Ming largely based on literary sources and fieldwork Richard G Wang delineates the interface between local organizations such as lineages and temple networks and central state institutions The first part provides the framework for viewing Daoism as a social institution in regard to both its religious lineages and its service to the state in the bureaucratic apparatus to implement state orthodoxy The second part follows four cases to reveal the connections between clerical lineages and local networks Wang illustrates how Daoism claimed a universal ideology and civilizing force that mediated between local organizations and central state institutions which in turn brought meaning and legitimacy to both local society and the state      Jahrbuch des Museums für Völkerkunde zu Leipzig. ### The Taoist Canon

Kristofer Schipper, Franciscus Verellen, 2019-09-01 Taoism remains the only major religion whose canonical texts have not been systematically arranged and made available for study This long awaited work a milestone in Chinese studies catalogs and describes all existing texts within the Taoist canon The result will not only make the entire range of existing Taoist texts accessible to scholars of religion it will open up a crucial resource in the study of the history of China The vast literature of the Taoist canon or Daozang survives in a Ming Dynasty edition of some fifteen hundred different texts Compiled under imperial auspices and completed in 1445 with a supplement added in 1607 many of the books in the Daozang concern the history organization and liturgy of China's indigenous religion A large number of works deal with medicine alchemy and divination If scholars have long neglected this unique storehouse of China's religious traditions it is largely because it was so difficult to find one's way within it Not only was the rationale of its medieval classification system inoperable for the many new texts that later entered the Daozang but the system itself was no longer understood by the Ming editors hence the haphazard arrangement of the canon as it has come down to us This new work sets out the contents of the Daozang chronologically allowing the reader to follow the long evolution of Taoist literature Lavishly illustrated the first volume ranges from antiquity through the Middle Ages while the second spans the modern period Within this frame texts are grouped by theme and subject Each one is the subject of a historical abstract that identifies the text's contents date of origin and author Throughout the first two volumes introductions outline the evolution of Taoism and its spiritual heritage A third volume offering biographical sketches of frequently mentioned Taoists multiple indexes and an extensive bibliography provides critical tools for navigating this guide to one of the fundamental aspects of Chinese culture

The Daoist

Tradition Louis Komjathy, 2013-06-20 Using a historical textual and ethnographic approach this is the most comprehensive presentation of Daoism to date In addition to revealing the historical contours and primary concerns of Chinese Daoists and Daoist communities The Daoist Tradition provides an account of key themes and defining characteristics of Daoist religiosity revealing Daoism to be a living and lived religion Exploring Daoism from a comparative religious studies perspective this book gives the reader a deeper understanding of religious traditions more broadly Beginning with an overview of Daoist history The Daoist Tradition then covers key elements of Daoist worldviews and major Daoist practices This is followed by a discussion of the importance of place and sacred sites as well as representative examples of material culture in Daoism The work concludes with an overview of Daoism in the modern world The book includes a historical timeline a map of China 25 images a glossary text boxes suggested reading and chapter overviews A companion website provides both student and lecturer resources <http://www.bloomsbury.com/the-daoist-tradition> 9781441168733 Chinese Concepts of Privacy Bonnie S. McDougall, Anders Hansson, 2002-09-01 Privacy is a basic concept in discussions on the concept of human rights This first book on the traditional Chinese approach to the subject shows that concepts of privacy have been part of discourse in China from the earliest recorded times to the present with varying contents mechanisms functions and values at different times and among different groups of people Individual chapters examine inscriptions on early bronzes medical case histories in the Ming and Qing dynasties fictional representations of privacy experiences discussions on public and private virtue by Liang Qichao the role or absence of privacy issues in letters in early imperial China and the function and values of privacy secrecy and seclusion in the correspondence between Lu Xun and Xu Guangping As the first treatment of Chinese concepts of privacy in any language the book is interdisciplinary by nature and pays particular attention to the terminology and methodology of privacy studies Historical Dictionary of Daoism Ronnie L. Littlejohn, 2019-11-29 Daoism is the oldest indigenous philosophic spiritual tradition of China and one of the most ancient of the world's spiritual structures The name Daoism comes from the term dao which means a way or a road through the field or woods to one's village It also means the way to do something such as how a master craftsman carves wood makes a bell or even butchers an ox But dao is also a nominative in the history of Daoism referring to the energizing process that permeates and animates all of reality and moves it along However both text and practice in this tradition insist that dao itself cannot be described in words it is not God in the sense of Western philosophy or religion Daoism has no supreme being even if there is an extensive grammar about nominally self-conscious entities and powers for which the Chinese use the word spirit shen For example the highest powers of Daoism are variously called Taishang Laojun the deified Laozi the Celestial Worthy of Primordial Beginning Yuanshi tianzun the Jade Emperor Yuhuang Shangdi or the Perfected Warrior Zhenwu But these are expressions of dao in specific shen they are not identical to Dao except in the most unique case when Laozi the putative founder of Daoism and author of its major work Daodejing is said to be one with the dao Historical Dictionary of Daoism contains a chronology an introduction appendixes an extensive bibliography and more than 400 cross-referenced entries related to the Chinese belief and worldview known as Daoism including dozens of Daoist terms names and practices This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Daoism Power of Place James Robson, 2020-03-17 Throughout Chinese history mountains have been integral components of the religious landscape They have been considered divine or numinous sites the abodes of deities the preferred locations for temples and monasteries and destinations for pilgrims Early in Chinese history a set of five mountains were co-opted into the imperial cult and declared sacred peaks yue demarcating and protecting the boundaries of the Chinese imperium The Southern Sacred Peak or Nanyue is of interest to scholars not the least because the title has been awarded to several different mountains over the years The dynamic nature of Nanyue raises a significant theoretical issue of the mobility of sacred space and the nature of the struggles involved in such moves Another facet of Nanyue is the multiple meanings assigned to this place political religious and cultural Of particular interest is the negotiation of this space by Daoists and Buddhists The history of their interaction leads to questions about the nature of the divisions between these two religious traditions James Robson s analysis of these topics demonstrates the value of local studies and the emerging field of Buddhho Daoist studies in research on Chinese religion

Teachers of the Inner Chambers Dorothy Ko,1994 This pathbreaking work argues that literate gentry women in 17th century Jiangnan far from being oppressed or silenced created a rich culture and meaningful existence within the constraints of the Confucian system Momentous socioeconomic and intellectual changes in 17th century Jiangnan provided the stimulus for the flowering of women s culture The most salient of these changes included a flourishing of commercial publishing the rise of a reading public a new emphasis on emotions the promotion of women s education and more generally the emergence of new definitions of womanhood The author reconstructs the social emotional and intellectual worlds of 17th century women and in doing so provides a new way to conceptualize China s past one offering a more realistic and complete understanding of the values of Chinese culture and the functioning of Chinese society

Building a Sacred Mountain Wei-Cheng Lin,2014-05-01 By the tenth century CE Mount Wutai had become a major pilgrimage site within the emerging culture of a distinctively Chinese Buddhism Famous as the abode of the bodhisattva Ma ju r known for his habit of riding around the mountain on a lion the site in northeastern China s Shanxi Province was transformed from a wild area long believed by Daoists to be sacred into an elaborate complex of Buddhist monasteries In Building a Sacred Mountain Wei Cheng Lin traces the confluence of factors that produced this transformation and argues that monastic architecture more than texts icons relics or pilgrimages was the key to Mount Wutai s emergence as a sacred site Departing from traditional architectural scholarship Lin s interdisciplinary approach goes beyond the analysis of forms and structures to show how the built environment can work in tandem with practices and discourses to provide a space for encountering the divine Art History Publication Initiative For more information visit <http://arthistorypi.org/books/building-a-sacred-mountain>

The Shaolin Monastery Meir Shahrar,2008-01-10 This meticulously researched and eminently readable study considers the economic political and religious factors that led Shaolin monks to disregard the Buddhist prohibition against violence and instead create fighting techniques that by the 21st century have spread throughout the world

Signs from the Unseen Realm Robert Ford Campany,2012-05-17 In early medieval China hundreds of Buddhist miracle texts were circulated inaugurating a trend that would continue for centuries Each tale recounted extraordinary events involving Chinese persons and places events seen as verifying claims made in Buddhist scriptures demonstrating the reality of karmic retribution or confirming the efficacy of Buddhist devotional practices Robert Ford Campany one of North America s preeminent scholars of Chinese religion presents in this volume the first complete annotated translation with in depth commentary of the largest extant collection of miracle tales from the early medieval period Wang Yan s Records of Signs from the Unseen Realm compiled around 490 C E In addition to the translation Campany provides a substantial study of the text and its author in their historical and religious settings He shows how these lively tales helped integrate Buddhism into Chinese society at the same time that they served as platforms for religious contestation and persuasion Campany offers a nuanced clear methodological discussion of how such narratives being products of social memory may be read as valuable evidence for the history of religion and culture Readers interested in Buddhism historians of Chinese religions culture society and literature scholars of comparative religion All will find Signs from the Unseen Realm a stimulating and rich contribution to scholarship     De' ragguagli di Parnaso.
