Paradigms in Word Formation Alba E. Ruz,Cristina Fernández-Alcaina,Cristina Lara-Clares,2022-09-15 The focus of

Paradigms in Word Formation Theory and applications is on the relevance of paradigms for linguistic description

Paradigmatic organization has traditionally been considered an inherent feature of inflectional morphology but research in the last decades clearly shows the existence of paradigms in word formation especially in affixal derivation often at the expense of other word formation processes This volume seeks to address the role that paradigms may play in the description of compounding conversion and participles This volume should be of interest to anyone specialized in the field of English morphology and word formation Global Lindsay Clandfield,Amanda Jeffries,Rebecca Robb Benne,Michael Vince,2012

Islam and Capitalism in the Making of Modern Bahrain Rajeswary Ampalavanar Brown, 2023-05-01 In recent decades the culture society politics and economics of Bahrain have been transformed driving its global ambitions while retaining to a degree the rule of law and cosmopolitanism Islam and Capitalism in the Making of Modern Bahrain examines the transformation of Bahrain from the 1930s from a regional trading port and then an important oil producer into the financial hub for the Gulf and into a global centre of Islamic finance It focuses on the changes and tensions that transformation brought to Bahrain s political legal economic religious and social structures In this book Rajeswary Brown explores the rising force of youth populism driven by the persistence of poverty and unemployment notably among rural Shi ite communities and unemployed middle class youth as well as examining Bahrain s skillful reconciliation of the demands of Islamic faith expressed in the Sharia to the requirements of modern financial capitalism In this Bahrain s experience can be set against the modern history of much of the rest of the Middle East most strikingly with respect to the position of Islamic charities notably in Syria comparisons of which are fully explored here

Africanising the Curriculum Vuyisile Msila, 2016-03-01 The alienating nature of the dominant curriculum in African schools and universities is an issue which simmered just below the surface in the 2015 student protests that swept through the South African higher education sector The collection of essays found in this timely publication offers compelling arguments for the deliberate embrace of the African culture to advance African knowledge and enhance African lives It proposes fresh perspectives on what shape and form a decolonised curriculum should take on Indigenous Discourses on Knowledge and Development in Africa Edward Shizha, Ali A. Abdi, 2013-12-04 African social development is often explained from outsider perspectives that are mainly European and Euro American leaving African indigenous discourses and ways of knowing and doing absent from discussions and debates on knowledge and development This book is intended to present Africanist indigenous voices in current debates on economic educational political and social development in Africa The authors and contributors to the volume present bold and timely ideas and scholarship for defining Africa through its challenges possible policy formations planning and implementation at the local regional and national levels The book also reveals insightful examinations of the hype the myths and the realities of many topics of concern with respect to dominant development discourses and challenges the misconceptions and misrepresentations of indigenous perspectives on knowledge productions and overall social well being or lack thereof The volume brings together researchers who are concerned with comparative education international development and African development research and practice in particular Policy makers institutional planners education specialists governmental and non governmental managers and the wider public should all benefit from the contents and analyses of this book Mediating Learning in Higher Education in Africa, 2021-05-25 Historically African higher education teaching and learning have relied on Western models paradigms assumptions concepts and procedures among other research related aspects Western hegemony and ideology has influenced and continues to influence the epistemologies and both the methods and outcome of higher education research The connection between teaching and learning is that teaching generates new forms of learning and learning challenges methods of teaching Western claims to universality objectivity and neutrality have dominated research paradigms in African higher education institutions to the detriment of alternative approaches and conceptions of knowledge Methods aligned to African teaching and learning are often unrecognised and thus underutilised despite calls for the mantra for decolonial research methods What are the African indigenous ways of teaching and learning How are they related to the present African university These puzzling questions provoke the minds of scholars on Africa to confront the discourse on decolonisation of higher education as they engage head on and interrogate contemporary teaching and learning methods Mediating Learning in Higher Education in Africa From Critical Thinking to Social Justice Pedagogies provides critical reflections to some of the above questions that affect African Higher Education as it seeks to transform itself and provide directions for the future Activating Critical Thinking to Advance the Sustainable Development Goals in Tourism Systems Karla A. Boluk, Christina T. Cavaliere, Freya Higgins-Desbiolles, 2021-05-12 Activating Critical Thinking to Advance the Sustainable Development Goals in Tourism Systems focuses on the role of critical thinking and inquiry in the implementation of the 2030 Sustainable Development Goals SDGs in tourism systems The impetus for the development of this book emerged from the declaration by the United Nations UN General Assembly of 2017 as the International Year of Sustainable Tourism for Development This declaration purposely positions tourism as a tool to advance the universal 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development and the 17 SDGs thus mutually serving as an opportunity and responsibility to appraise from a critical lens what the SDGs signify and how they can be understood from multiple perspectives The chapters in the book foster the next phase of sustainable tourism scholarship that actively considers the interconnections of the UN s SDGs to tourism theory and praxis and activates critical thinking to analyze and advance sustainability in tourism systems It articulates the need for the academy to be more intrinsically involved in ongoing iterations of multilateral accords and decrees to ensure they embody more critical and inclusive transitions toward sustainability as opposed to market driven neoliberal directives The contributions in this book encourage various worldviews challenging shaping and more critically reflecting the realities of global communities as related to and impacted by sustainable tourism development The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Sustainable Tourism Chinese Science and Technology Industrial Parks Susan M. Walcott, 2017-11-30 Title first published in 2003 This book examines types of advanced technology Chinese districts set aside for developing products for national and global markets Culminating in a proposed best practice model for Chinese integration into global networks based on China s own particular political economy International Business in a VUCA World Rob van Tulder, Alain Verbeke, Barbara Jankowska, 2019-10-21 Dedicated to Professor Peter Buckley OBE this volume of Progress in International Business Research explores the new challenges for MNEs SMEs small and medium sized enterprises and INVs International New Ventures emerging from this changing and increasingly unpredictable political economic social and technological VUCA world
