

A full-page background image featuring a person rock climbing on a dark, craggy cliff face. The climber is positioned in the upper half of the frame, silhouetted against a bright, colorful sky at sunset or sunrise. The sky transitions from a pale blue at the top to a warm orange and pink near the horizon. Below the cliff, a dark, silhouetted mountain range is visible against the horizon. The overall composition is dramatic and emphasizes the theme of reaching a peak.

fundamentalism in Pakistan and India's emergence as a regional economic power. In addition, the age-old problems of South Asia—mass poverty, poor infrastructure, misgovernance, rampant corruption, political uncertainty, and regional wars—add to the increased interest in the region. Incorporating the most current information available, the expert international contributors to this handbook examine the economies and geo-political developments of India, Pakistan, Afghanistan, Nepal, Bangladesh, Sri Lanka, and Bhutan. They focus on three core areas of importance: trade and development in the post-WTO era of globalization; macroeconomic adjustment and economic growth; and poverty governance, the war on terror, and social indicators. With its cutting-edge analysis, the handbook is an essential reference for all students, researchers, and practitioners dealing with the region.

Parinduri, 2009 A decade has passed since the Asian crisis of 1997-1998, which decimated many of the regional economies. While the crisis itself led to severe economic and political consequences, its primary cause was an inappropriate mix of policies as regional economies attempted to simultaneously maintain fairly rigid exchange rates, soft US dollar pegs, and monetary policy autonomy in the presence of large-scale capital outflows. The chapters in this volume focus on selected exchange rate monetary and financial issues and policies that are of contemporary relevance and importance to Asia including choice of exchange rate regimes causes and consequences of reserve accumulation international capital flows macroeconomic synchronization and regional monetary and financial cooperation
