Characterising Irony Steven Pattison, 2022-11-24 This book offers a systematic bottom up account of irony across both everyday contexts and literary and linguistic texts using an empirically rigorous approach in distinguishing between central irony non central ironies and non ironies and highlighting a new way forward for irony research The volume considers the current landscape of irony in which the term is used with increasing frequency with the knock on effect of a loosening of its meaning Pattison addresses this challenge by applying a systematic form of analysis rooted in frameworks from pragmatics and complementary disciplines to a database of over 500 irony candidates from a wide range of sources The book uses these examples to illustrate the features of central ironies as well as the attributes used to differentiate between central ironies non central ironies and non ironies These attributes are mapped across four key domains including difference and opposition the role of context how ironies are signaled and speaker attitude and intention Taken together the volume puts forth a credible account for more clearly characterizing examples of irony and equips researchers with a comprehensive step by step method for undertaking future research This book is key reading for scholars in stylistics pragmatics literary studies and psycholinguistics
