If this is Your Land, where are Your Stories? J. Edward Chamberlin, 2003 Examines how through the ages stories have given shape and meaning to our sense of ourselves as individuals cultures and nations The author also explores the hold the stories have on us how we are nourished and influenced by them

If This Is Your Land, Where Are Your Stories? J. Edward Chamberlin, 2010-05-28 We need to understand our stories because our lives depend upon it Ted Chamberlin The stories we tell each other reflect and shape our deepest feelings Stories help us live our lives and are at the heart of our current conflicts We love and hate because of them we make homes for ourselves and drive others out on the basis of ancient tales As Ted Chamberlin vividly reveals we are both connected by them and separated by their different truths Whether Jew or Arab black or white Muslim or Christian Catholic or Protestant man or woman our stories hold us in thrall and hold others at bay Like the work of Joseph Campbell and Bruce Chatwin this vital engrossing book offers a new way to understand the hold that stories and songs have on us and a new sense of the urgency of doing so Drawing on his own experience in many fields as scholar and storyteller witness among native peoples and across cultures Ted Chamberlin takes us on a journey through the tales of different peoples from North America to Africa and Jamaica Beautifully written with insight and deep understanding If This Is Your Land Where Are Your Stories examines why it is now more important than ever to attend to what others are saying in their stories and myths and what we are saying about ourselves Only then will we understand why they have such power over us

Our Fire Survives the Storm Daniel Heath Justice, 2006 Once the most powerful indigenous nation in the southeastern United States the Cherokees survive and thrive as a people nearly two centuries after the Trail of Tears and a hundred years after the allotment of Indian Territory In Our Fire Survives the Storm Daniel Heath Justice traces the expression of Cherokee identity in that nation's literary tradition Through cycles of war and peace resistance and assimilation trauma and regeneration Cherokees have long debated what it means to be Cherokee through protest writings memoirs fiction and retellings of traditional stories Justice employs the Chickamauga consciousness of resistance and Beloved Path of engagement theoretical approaches that have emerged out of Cherokee social history to interpret diverse texts composed in English a language embraced by many as a tool of both access and defiance Justice's analysis ultimately locates the Cherokees as a people of many perspectives many bloods mingled into a collective sense of nationhood Just as the oral traditions of the Cherokee people reflect the living realities and concerns of those who share them Justice concludes so too is their literary tradition a textual testament to Cherokee endurance and vitality Daniel Heath Justice is assistant professor of aboriginal literatures at the University of Toronto

With Good Intentions Celia Haig-Brown, David A. Nock, 2011-11-01 With Good Intentions examines the joint efforts of Aboriginal people and individuals of European ancestry to counter injustice in Canada when colonization was at its height from the mid nineteenth to the early twentieth century These people recognized colonial wrongs and worked together in a variety of ways to right them but they could not stem the tide of European based exploitation The book is neither an apologist text nor an attempt to argue that some colonizers were simply well intentioned Almost all those considered here teachers lawyers missionaries activists had as their overall goal the Christianization and civilization of Canada s First Peoples While their sensitivity and willingness to work in concert with Aboriginal people made them stand out from their less sympathetic compatriots they were nonetheless implicated in the colonialist project as the contributors to this volume make clear By discussing examples of Euro Canadians who worked with Aboriginal peoples With Good Intentions brings to light some of the lesser known complexities of colonization This volume is an important resource for anyone interested in Canadian history particularly post Confederation history and in Native studies and issues of colonization of Native peoples      Decolonizing Philosophies of Education Ali A. Abdi,2012-01-01

Philosophy of education basically deals with learning issues that attempt to explain or answer what we describe as the major questions of its domains i e what education is needed why such education and how would societies undertake and achieve such learning possibilities In different temporal and spatial intersections of people s lives the design as well as the outcome of such learning program were almost entirely indigenously produced but later they became perforce responsive to externally imposed demands where as far as the history and the actualities of colonized populations were concerned a cluster of de philosophizing and de epistemologizing educational systems were imposed upon them Such realities of colonial education were not conducive to inclusive social well being hence the need to ascertain and analyze new possibilities of decolonizing philosophies of education which this edited volume selectively aims to achieve The book should serve as a necessary entry point for a possible re routing of contemporary learning systems that are mostly of de culturing and de historicizing genre With that in mind the recommendations contained in the 12 chapters should herald the potential of decolonizing philosophies of education as liberating learning and livelihood praxes This collection of critical and scholarly analyses provides an insightful and timely resource for decolonizing philosophies of education that continue to shape discourses policies curricula and practices in all levels of educational and social institutions It also usefully challenges versions of postcolonial studies that fail to recognize and demystify the continuity of colonial hegemony in contemporary societal formations in both the global north and south Toh Swee Hin Distinguished Professor University for Peace Costa Rica Laureate UNESCO Prize for Peace Education 2000 Decolonizing philosophies of education edited by Ali A Abdi is a collection of twelve essays by noted scholars in the field who provide strong readings of postcolonialism in education with an emphasis on decolonizing epistemologies It provides a clear and comprehensive introduction to the critical history of colonization postcolonial studies and the significance of education to the colonial project This is an important book that provides a global perspective on the existential and epistemological escape from the colonial condition Michael A Peters Professor Educational Policy Studies University of Illinois at Urbana Champaign      Making Believe Magdalene Redekop,2020-04-10 Making Believe responds to a remarkable flowering of art by Mennonites in Canada After the publication of his first novel in 1962 Rudy Wiebe was the only identifiable Mennonite literary writer in the country Beginning in the 1970s the numbers grew rapidly and now include writers Patrick Friesen Sandra Birdsell Di Brandt Sarah Klassen Armin Wiebe David Bergen Miriam Toews Carrie Snyder Casey Plett and many more A similar renaissance is evident in the visual arts including artists Gathie Falk Wanda Koop and Aganetha Dyck and in music including composers Randolph Peters Carol Ann Weaver and Stephanie Martin Confronted with an embarrassment of riches that resist survey Magdalene Redekop opts for the use of case studies to raise questions about Mennonites and art Part criticism part memoir Making Believe argues that there is no such thing as Mennonite art At the same time her close engagement with individual works of art paradoxically leads Redekop to identify a Mennonite sensibility at play in the space where artists from many cultures interact Constant questioning and commitment to community are part of the Mennonite dissenting tradition Although these values come up against the legacy of radical Anabaptist hostility to art Redekop argues that the Early Modern roots of a contemporary crisis of representation are shared by all artists Making Believe posits a Spielraum or play space in which all artists are dissembling tricksters but differences in how we play are inflected by where we come from The close readings in this book insist on respect for difference at the same time as they invite readers to find common ground while making believe across cultures First Person Plural Sophie

McCall,2011-05-15 In this innovative exploration told to narratives or collaboratively produced texts by Aboriginal storytellers and usually non Aboriginal writers are not romanticized as unmediated translations of oral documents nor are they dismissed as corruptions of original works Rather the approach emphasizes the interpenetration of authorship and collaboration Focused on the 1990s when debates over voice and representation were particularly explosive this comprehensive study examines a range of told to narratives ethnography life narrative documentary in conjunction with key political events that have shaped the struggle for Aboriginal rights in Canada Emphasizing the scope rather than the limits of the told to narrative McCall considers how Aboriginal voices have been represented in a variety of forums such as public inquiries commissioners reports and land claims cases A captivating inquiry First Person Plural offers a vital interdisciplinary discussion of how told to narratives contribute to larger debates about Indigenous voice and literary and political sovereignty

Oil And Water Amir Hussain, Listen to any news broadcast today and the message comes through loud and clear Islam is a religion of violence and behind every Muslim there lurks a potential terrorist Islam is a threat to values of the Christian West They are like oil and water Clearly they don t mix Oil their shared roots and scripture from the Jewish faith and the spiritual values of peace and social justice Written for Christians by Muslim world religions scholar Amir Hussain the book is divided into two parts Part 1 provides an overview of the Islamic faith and of the lives of Muslims in North America today Chapters focus on the place and identity of Muslims in society as well as on the importance and role of Muhammad the Qur an and basic beliefs and practices The Five Pillars of Islam Having provided a foundation for understanding the book moves on in Part 2 to explore key points for dialogue today including issues of violence and jihad the roles of women and men and the mystical tradition within Islam The final two chapters look at interfaith dialogue and the practical aspects of being good neighbours In all of this the book invites the reader to a place of reconciliation to a place where the truth and value of each of these great faith traditions can be recognized and honoured by the other In the end the metaphor of oil and water is an interesting one for the reality of conflict and the hope for reconciliation between Islam and Christianity today

Canadian Gothic Cynthia Sugars, 2014-01-15 This book explores the Gothic tradition in Canadian literature by tracing a distinctive reworking of the British Gothic in Canada It traces the ways the Gothic genre was reinvented for a specifically Canadian context On the one hand Canadian writers expressed anxiety about the applicability of the British Gothic tradition to the colonies on the other they turned to the Gothic for its vitalising rather than unsettling potential After charting this history of Gothic infusion Canadian Gothic turns its attention to the body of Aboriginal and diasporic writings that respond to this discourse of national self invention from a post colonial perspective These counter narratives unsettle the naturalising force of this invented history rendering the sense of Gothic comfort newly strange The Canadian Gothic tradition has thus been a conflicted one which reimagines the Gothic as a form of cultural sustenance This volume offers an important reconsideration of the Gothic legacy in Canada SpaceTime of the Imperial Holt Meyer,Susanne Rau,Katharina Waldner,2016-11-07 This volume works through spatio temporal concepts to be found in imperial practices and their representations in a wide range of media The individual cases investigated in the volume cover a broad spectrum of historical periods from ancient times up to the present Well known international scholars treat special cases of the topic using cutting edge theory and approaches stemming from historical cartographic religious literary media studies as well as ethnography African Social Movement Learning Jonathan Langdon,2020-02-03 How social movements learn in struggle produce knowledge and provoke public paradigm shifts have become an important focus of critical adult education in our contemporary turbulent times And yet African social movements and their learning are largely absent from this literature This work therefore provides a rare and much needed African contribution to this field African Social Movement Learning The Case of the Ada Songor Salt Movement speaks to this gap in the literature laying out an entry point to an African centered account of learning in struggle on the continent However this entry point quickly turns to an in depth sharing of one particular case of African social movement learning Based on 9 years of research with the Ada Songor salt movement in Ghana the book provides a detailed account of learning through defending communal access to West Africa s largest salt yielding lagoon in the face of local national and global efforts to expropriate this resource The book shares the knowledge production of the movement as well as the ways in which the movement has restored its struggle to meet new challenges Songs tapestries demonstrations manifestoes popular education approaches and book production all feature in these efforts Rural Indigenusness Melissa Otis,2018-12-20 The Adirondacks have been an Indigenous homeland for millennia and the presence of Native people in the region was obvious but not well documented by Europeans who did not venture into the interior between the seventeenth and early nineteenth centuries Yet by the late nineteenth century historians had scarcely any record of their long lasting and vibrant existence in the area With Rural Indigenusness Otis shines a light on the rich history of Algonquian and Iroquoian people offering the first comprehensive study of the relationship between Native Americans and the Adirondacks While Otis focuses on the nineteenth century she extends her analysis to periods before and after this era revealing both the continuity and change that characterize the relationship over time Otis argues that the landscape was much more than a mere hunting ground for Native residents rather it a location of exchange a space of interaction where the land was woven into the fabric of their lives as an essential source of refuge and survival Drawing upon archival research material culture and oral histories Otis examines the nature of Indigenous populations living in predominantly Euroamerican communities to identify the ways in which some maintained their distinct identity while also making selective adaptations exemplifying the concept of survivance In doing so Rural Indigenusness develops a new conversation in the field of Native American studies that expands our understanding of urban and rural indigeneity Literature David Damrosch,Gunilla Lindberg-Wada,Anders Pettersson,Theo D'haen,Bo Utas,Zhang
