Course Description: This course is designed to provide a broad understanding of the basic principles of nutrition and some of the issues and controversies surrounding this body of knowledge. It will identify the essential nutrients and their functions, as well as describe nutritional behaviors that promote optimal nutrition and disease prevention throughout the life cycle. Energy balance, nutrition for fitness, and food safety will be included. At the end of the class, students will assess and evaluate their own diet analysis based on a 5-day food recall and develop a plan for improvement.

Pre-Requisites: There are no pre-requisites for this course.

Required Textbook: Nutrition Concepts and Controversies (12th ed.),Sizer & Whitney
 (Diet analysis CD comes with new texts, but is not required)

Required Supplies: Students must consistently and reliably have Internet access to complete this course. High-speed Internet access is highly recommended. Students will be required to navigate the Blackboard course site, visit other websites, and conduct internet-based research. Students must be able to watch videos, download Blackboard, powerpoints and access various websites. In addition, you must be able to save and upload files (in Word). Blackboard will be utilized for all assignment submission(s) - DO NOT email or submit the full assignment on the discussion board (or mail or place in my box at CSI). I will ONLY accept assignments submitted online (under respective week or in-class). Directions or the online tutorial "How to Submit an Assignment" is located under the green tab, Course Information.
