House of Commons - Transport Committee: Access to Transport For Disabled People - Volume I: HC 116 Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Transport

Committee,2013-09-17 In the UK some 11.5m people already live with a recognised disability and more than a fifth of them experience some difficulty when using transport networks So it is essential that the Department for Transport delivers an ambitious Accessibility Action Plan Changes made ahead of the 2012 Paralympic Games delivered access for disabled people to significantly more parts of the public transport network for the first time and highlighted the immense value of such improvements for all Yet a year later there is a risk that some of the momentum from London 2012 is being lost because further key accessibility improvements planned have been watered down or abandoned The Committee's recommendations include imposing penalties on bus operators who claim to offer accessible routes but then fail to provide accessible buses the phased introduction of audio visual information systems on all buses over the next ten years phasing out the need for disabled travellers having to book organised assistance in advance financial incentives to encourage investment in fully accessible vehicles by taxi and private care hire vehicle operators and a change to EU rules so that in future airlines are required to allow carers to travel free of charge when the airline judges a disabled person incapable of travelling independently The Cabinet Office should convene a working group of ministers and officials to improve cross government working on accessibility in order to secure the full benefits to be gained from widening disabled people's access to employment and training healthcare and wider participation in all parts of society Keating on Construction Contracts eBook Vivian Ramsey,Stephen Furst,2015 Online current version of Keating on construction contracts Available through the Westlaw database University username and password required Keating on Construction Contracts Stephen Furst,Vivian Ramsey,Sarah Hannaford,Adrian Williamson,Donald Keating,John Uff,2012 With a chapter on public procurement by Sarah Hannaford A commentary on JCT forms of contract by Adrian Williamson and a commentary of the infrastructure conditions of contract by John Uff Going for Gold Great Britain.
