Sourcebook for Political Communication Research Erik P. Bucy, R. Lance Holbert, 2014-06-03. The Sourcebook for Political Communication Research will offer scholars, students, researchers, and other interested readers a comprehensive source for state-of-the-art field research methods, measures, and analytical techniques in the field of political communication. The need for this Sourcebook stems from recent innovations in political communication involving the use of advanced statistical techniques, innovative conceptual frameworks, the rise of digital media as both a means by which to disseminate and study political communication, and methods recently adapted from other disciplines, particularly psychology, sociology, and neuroscience. Chapters will have a social scientific orientation and will explain new methodologies and measures applicable to questions regarding media, politics, and civic life. The Sourcebook covers the major analytical techniques used in political communication research, including surveys, both original data collections and secondary analyses, experiments, content analysis, discourse analysis, focus groups, and textual analysis, network and deliberation analysis, comparative study designs, statistical analysis, and measurement issues.

The Reliability of Generating Data Klaus Krippendorff, 2022-12-23. All data are the result of human actions, whether by experimentations, observations, or declarations. As such, the presumption of knowing what data are about is subject to imperfections that can affect the validity of research efforts. With calls for data-based research comes the need to assure the reliability of generated data. The reliability of converting texts into analyzable data has become a burning issue in several areas. However, this issue has been met by only a few limited and sometimes misleading measures of the extent to which data can be trusted as surrogates of the phenomena of analytical interests. The statistic proposed by the author, Krippendorff's Alpha, is widely used in the social sciences, not only where human judgements are involved but also where measurements are compared. The Reliability of Generating Data expands on the author's seminal work in content analysis and develops methods for assessing the reliability of the kind of data that previously defied evaluations for this purpose. It opens with a discussion of the epistemology of reliable data, then presents the most basic Alpha coefficient for the single-valued coding of predefined units. This largely familiar way of measuring reliability provides the platform for the succeeding chapters, which start with an overview of alternative coefficients and then expand Alpha one quality after another, including to cope with the reliabilities of multi-valued coding, segmenting texts into meaningful units, big data, and information retrievals. It also includes a chapter on how to diagnose and remedy imperfections and one on applicable standards, all converging on the statistical issues of the reliability of generating data.

Features: Provides an overview of methods for assessing the reliability of generating data.

Betriebswirtschaftliche und steuerliche Beratung von Start-ups durch Steuerberater Deike

Pottebaum, 2021-09-23 Die Dissertation beschäftigt sich mit der Gründungsberatung von Start-ups durch Steuerberater. Die Untersuchung versteht sich als interdisziplinäre Forschungsarbeit, die an der Nahtstelle zwischen Steuerberatungswissenschaft und Entrepreneurship-Forschung angesiedelt ist. Die im Rahmen der Arbeit vorgenommene Literaturanalyse zur Gründungsberatung offenbart, dass bestehende Beiträge eher eine Darstellung allgemeiner betriebswirtschaftlicher und steuerlicher Thematiken nicht hinausgehen und die speziellen Bedürfnisse von Start-ups nicht berücksichtigen. Gleichzeitig wurde ebenfalls deutlich, dass auch dem Steuerberater als betriebswirtschaftlichem und steuerlichem Gründungsberater bislang wenig Beachtung geschenkt wurde, insbesondere im Zusammenhang mit der Beratung von Start-ups. Um diese Lücke zu schließen, wurde eine explorative Untersuchung mit empirisch qualitativem Forschungsdesign durchgeführt. Mithilfe von Experteninterviews konnten umfassende Erkenntnisse zur inhaltlichen Ausgestaltung der Beratung, zu den Besonderheiten der Beratung von Start-ups, zu speziellen Aspekten der Zusammenarbeit zwischen Steuerberatern und Start-ups sowie zur praktischen Eignung des Steuerberaters als Gründungsberater gewonnen werden.
