Criminal Law in Canada : Cases, Questions, and the Code Simon Nicholas Verdun-Jones, 2002      Criminal Law in Canada Simon Nicholas Verdun-Jones, 2013      Criminal Law in Canada Simon Nicholas Verdun-Jones, David MacAlister, 2025 The text is a highly readable case filled introduction to criminal law and the Canadian Criminal Code Structured into two main parts offences and defences the book teaches students the doctrine of Canadian criminal law through an examination of the Code and of relevant cases Each chapter contains an analysis of an important criminal law case along with accompanying discussion questions The book contains over 100 study questions with short fictitious scenarios for students to test their ability to apply aspects of criminal law to a fact situation      Criminal Law in Canada Simon N. Verdun-Jones, 2010-03-18 Criminal Law in Canada is a case oriented approach in which the student is encouraged to study not only the general principles of criminal law but also the specific details of decided cases Using this method students learn to apply these principles of criminal law to concrete factual situations that arise in everyday life or to situations that they may encounter in their professional lives Contemporary changes in the Canadian Criminal Code are thoroughly examined and compared with precedent setting cases thereby creating a context for understanding and interpreting criminal law in Canada      Mental Disorder and Criminal Law Robert Schopp, Richard L. Wiener, Brian H. Bornstein, Steven L. Willborn, 2008-10-09 Robert F Schopp Recent Supreme Court decisions categorically preclude the application of capital punishment to convicted offenders who were below the age of eighteen or mentally 1 retarded at the time they committed the crimes for which they were sentenced Neither opinion suggests that offenders in these categories cannot be criminally responsible for their offenses and the Atkins opinion explicitly recognizes that some mentally 2 retarded offenders can qualify as criminally responsible for their offenses In each case part of the reasoning in support of the exemption from capital sentences purports to show that capital punishment of these offenders would serve neither the retributive 3 nor the deterrent functions of criminal punishment Both opinions focus substantial attention on the retributive rationale contending that these offenders lack sufficient 4 culpability blameworthiness or depravity to merit capital punishment The opinions recognize that a categorical bar for all offenders below a specified age or level of intelligence might exempt some individuals who do not lack culpability sufficient to justify capital sentences The opinions draw categorical rules however to avoid the risk that some individuals who lack sufficient culpability to deserve capital punish 5 ment will be misidentified as sufficiently culpable to merit capital sentences The dissenting opinions in each case recognize that offenders in these categories have limitations that render them less culpable on average than unimpaired offenders who commit similar crimes      The 325: Canada's Criminal Code (w/ Other Acts) - a Case Compilation , A case compilation of the 325 most cited CC Extradition Act and Charter cases that I compiled to facilitate a one file download Assumes a person doesn't want to take the time to immerse themselves in case stream and nuances of the topic in CANLII.org where I obtained the cases and did the digesting of same myself to put it all
