The Pacific Islands Brij V. Lal, Kate Fortune, 2000-01-01 An encyclopaedia of information on major aspects of Pacific life including the physical environment peoples history politics economy society and culture The CD ROM contains hyperlinks between section titles and sections a library of all the maps in the encyclopaedia and a photo library A Study of Bark Cloth from Hawaii, Samoa, Tonga and Fiji Patricia Lorraine Arkinstall, 1966 Textiles and Clothing of Việt Nam Michael C. Howard, 2016-08-17 Việt Nam is the home of more than fifty ethnic minorities such as the Cham and Thai many of which have distinctive clothing and weaving traditions linked to antiquity The tight fitting tunic called ao dai widely recognized as a national symbol has its roots in the country's 2 000 year history of textiles Beginning with silk production in the Bronze Age cultures of the Red River this book covers textiles in Việt Nam including bark cloth kapok and hemp through the centuries of Chinese rule in the north a number of independent feudal societies and the brief period of French colonial rule

AUSTRONESIAN DIASPORA Bagyo Prasetyo, Titi Surti Nastiti, Truman Simanjuntak, 2021-01-28 This book is a proceeding from a number of papers presented in The International Symposium on Austronesian Diaspora on 18th to 23rd July 2016 at Nusa Dua Bali which was held by The National Research Centre of Archaeology in cooperation with The Directorate of Cultural Heritage and Museums The symposium is the second event with regard to the Austronesian studies since the first symposium held eleven years ago by the Indonesian Institute of Sciences in cooperation with the International Centre for Prehistoric and Austronesia Study ICPAS in Solo on 28th June to 1st July 2005 with a theme of the Dispersal of the Austronesian and the Ethno geneses of People in the Indonesia Archipelago that was attended by experts from eleven countries The studies on Austronesia are very interesting to discuss because Austronesia is a language family which covers about 1200 languages spoken by populations that inhabit more than half the globe from Madagascar in the west to Easter Island Pacific Area in the east and from Taiwan Micronesia in the north to New Zealand in the south Austronesia is a language family which dispersed before the Western colonization in many places in the world The Austronesian dispersal in very vast islands area is a huge phenomenon in the history of humankind Groups of Austronesian speaking people had emerged in ca 7000 6000 BP in Taiwan before they migrated in 5000 BP to many places in the world bringing with them the Neolithic Culture characterized by sedentary agricultural societies with animal domestication The Austronesian speaking people are distinguished by Southern Mongoloid Race which had the ability to adapt to various types of natural environment that enabled them to develop through space and time The varied geographic environment where they lived as well as intensive interactions with the outside world had created cultural diversities The population of the Austronesian speakers is more than 380 million people and the Indonesian Archipelago is where most of them develop Indonesia also holds a key position in understanding the Austronesians For this reason the Austronesian studies are crucial in the attempt to understand the Indonesian societies in relation to their current cultural roots history and ethno genesis This book discusses six sessions in the symposium The first session is the prologue the second is the keynote paper which is Austronesia an overview the third is Diaspora and Inter regional Connection the fourth is Regional highlight the fifth is Harimau Cave Research Progress while the sixth session is the epilogue which is a synthesis of 37 papers We hope that this book will inspire more researchers to study Austronesia a field of never ending research in Indonesia      Making Bark Cloth Robert Sutherland Rattray,

Storytelling in Northern Zambia Robert Cancel,2013 Storytelling plays an important part in the vibrant cultural life of Zambia and in many other communities across Africa This innovative book provides a collection and analysis of oral narrative traditions as practiced by five Bemba speaking ethnic groups in Zambia The integration of newly digitalised audio and video recordings into the text enables the reader to encounter the storytellers themselves and hear their narratives Robert Cancel s thorough critical interpretation combined with these newly digitalised audio and video materials makes Storytelling in Northern Zambia a much needed addition to the slender corpus of African folklore studies that deal with storytelling performance Cancel threads his way between the complex demands of African fieldwork studies folklore theory narrative modes reflexive description and simple documentation and succeeds in bringing to the reader a set of performers and their performances that are vivid varied and instructive He illustrates this living narrative tradition with a wide range of examples and highlights the social status of narrators and the complex local identities that are at play Cancel s study tells us not only about storytelling but sheds light on the study of oral literatures throughout Africa and beyond Its innovative format meanwhile explores new directions in the integration of primary source material into scholarly texts This book is the third volume in the World Oral Literature Series developed in conjunction with the World Oral Literature Project      Collected

Writings on Chinese Culture Tsuen-hsuei Tsien,2011 Focuses on such topics as Chinese documents Chinese paper ink making printing cultural exchange libraries and biographies      Material Revolution Sascha Peters,2012-11-05 Since it is now clear that in the future many raw materials will only be available to us in limited quantities scientists have for some time been conducting intensive research into possible alternatives Sustainability is the order of the day and the magic word for a better future in politics and industry Moreover environmental consciousness and a penchant for thinking in terms of material cycles have caught on with consumers the use of environmentally compatible materials and production methods is desired even taken for granted by the client Designers and architects thus have a special role and responsibility For they are the ones who decide what materials will be used on their projects and thus wield enormous influence on the sustainability of our product world At the same time we are dealing with a flood of new materials which calls for specialized knowledge of their properties their possible use and their handling Material Revolution bridges the gap between research and industry on the one hand and designers and architects on the other by offering a systematic overview of the currently available sustainable materials and providing the reader with all the information he or she needs to assess a new material s suitability and potential for a given project Along the way it examines natural and biodegradable materials while also presenting materials with multifunctional properties and the potential for diminishing energy requirements      Fashioning Inland Communities Yaari Felber-Seligman, 2025 When viewed from the economic centers of the Indian or Atlantic Oceans the Ruvuma region of East Africa crossing what is now Tanzania Malawi and Mozambique would look like a periphery But the same factors that marginalize the region historically brought distinct opportunities In Fashioning Inland Communities Yaari Felber Seligman traces the long history from the first millennium CE into the twentieth century of Ruvuma trade practices within a changing world Felber Seligman argues that Ruvuma trade should be understood fundamentally as a set of voluntary choices undertaken and revised to further communities aspirations Ruvuma used fashion to build varied communities from local to pan regional reflecting the dynamic relationships among inland groups Examples of Ruvuma popular fashions reveal processes of meaning making and community building that call for us to expand our attention to the ways in which East African peoples interacted alongside as well as beyond trade networks that sourced prestige and commercial goods Popular culture here emerges as a heterarchical force that shaped lasting multidirectional connections across and between Ruvuma and their neighbors As both a subject and a strategy for analysis the history of popular fashion shifts how we view histories of small decentralized societies as they encounter larger economies Felber Seligman demonstrates that this has implications for our understanding not only of trade but of material culture community gender and family      Textiles of Southeast Asia Robyn Maxwell, 2012-08-07 Textiles provide a visual history of a country's culture and crafting traditions in a way few other things can accomplish In Textiles of Southeast Asia Dr Robyn Maxwell provides the definitive work on Southeast Asian textiles Traditional textiles are one of the most widely collected and important categories of Southeast Asian art Using an extensive range of locally produced raw materials and an astonishing array of techniques including applique weaving batik and embroidery the textiles of Southeast Asia are astonishing in their versatility and originality Textiles are used to fashion everything from everyday clothing to sacred and ceremonial costumes shrouds and wrapping cloths hangings banners and ritual regalia all of which are represented and explained in Textiles of Southeast Asia This authoritative text focuses on the changing relationship between indigenous Southeast Asian traditions and the outside influences continuing to be brought to the area which change the nature of the region's textile traditions This book considers the various ways Southeast Asian textile artisans reacted over the centuries to the steady stream of new and powerful ideas and raw materials arriving from India China the Islamic world and Europe A detailed and definitive resource Textiles of Southeast Asia is a welcome addition to the field of textiles      Transnationalism and Society Michael C. They Make Themselves Jane Fajans, 1997-08-04 For generations of anthropologists the Baining people have presented a challenge because of their apparent lack of cultural or social structure This group of small scale horticulturists seems devoid of the complex belief systems and social practices that characterize other traditional peoples of Papua New Guinea Their daily existence is mundane and repetitive in the extreme articulated by only the most elementary familial relationships and social connections The routine of everyday life however is occasionally punctuated by stunningly beautiful festivals of masked dancers which the Baining call play and to which they attribute no symbolic significance In a new work sure to evoke considerable repercussions and debate in anthropological theory Jane Fajans courageously takes on the Baining Problem arguing that the Baining define themselves not through intricate cosmologies or social networks but through the meanings generated by their own productive and reproductive work

My God, My Land Jacqueline Ryle, 2016-12-05 Examining the multifaceted nature of Christianity in Fiji My God My Land reveals the deeply complex and often paradoxical dynamics and tensions between processes of change and continuity as they unfold in representations and practices of Christianity and tradition in people s everyday lives The book draws on extensive multi sited fieldwork in different denominations to explore how shared values and cultural belonging are employed to strengthen relations As such My God My Land will be of interest to anthropologists of Oceania as well as scholars and students researching into social and cultural change ritual religion Christianity enculturation and contextual theology

Twenty-five Years in East Africa John Roscoe, 1969 Culture and History in the Pacific Jukka Siikala, 2021-09-29 Culture and History in the Pacific is a collection of essays originally published in 1990 The texts explore from different perspectives the question of culture as a repository of historical information They also address broader questions of anthropological writing at the time such as the relationship between anthropologists representations and local conceptions This republication aims to make the book accessible to a wider audience and in the region it discusses Oceania A new introductory essay has been included to contextualize the volume in relation to its historical setting the end of the Cold War era and to the present study of the Pacific and indigenous scholarship The authors of Culture and History in the Pacific include prominent anthropologists of the Pacific some of whom Roger Keesing and Marilyn Strathern to name but two have also been influential in the anthropology of the late 20th and early 21st century in general
