Human Resource Management Practices in Selected Ethiopian Private Companies: A Study to Increase Employee Productivity in Ethiopia Dirk J. van Wasbeek, 2004-09-24 This dissertation examines how human resources are managed at selected Ethiopian private companies how Ethiopian human resource management practice is evolving and how it can be improved The examination is qualitative and exploratory since no comparative research on human resource management has yet been conducted at Ethiopian profit or non profit organizations An understanding of Ethiopian human resource management practice makes it possible to improve Ethiopian human resource management practice and thus to increase employee productivity The study took place at four manufacturing and four service companies in Addis Ababa all representative of their sector The research claim is that Ethiopian human resource management practices differ from human resource management practices in the West due to differences in cultural factors economic systems political systems and legal and industrial relations For this reason Ethiopia's culture politics economy and legal and industrial relations have been analyzed The main finding of this study is that the importance of human resource management is not uniformly understood at all the case study companies Although the multinational companies based in Ethiopia see their human resources as the companies most important asset as human capital the local companies generally do not The fact that respondents claim that Ethiopia has limited experience in industrialization might explain why human resource management in Ethiopia is rudimentary and still has a long way to go With this dissertation the researcher wants to contribute to improving Ethiopian human resource management practice Moreover this dissertation may be used as a framework for similar research in other sectors or for more specific in depth research This dissertation may also serve as a knowledge base for company managers business consultants academics and government officials of countries with a national culture similar to Ethiopia's for example Kenya Tanzania and Zambia countries undergoing or which have undergone a recent transition to a free market economy and countries facing similar macro economic developments

Ethiopian Economy Fantu Cheru,Christopher Cramer,Arkebe Oqubay,2019-01-10 From a war torn and famine plagued country at the beginning of the 1990s Ethiopia is today emerging as one of the fastest growing economies in Africa Growth in Ethiopia has surpassed that of every other sub Saharan country over the past decade and is forecast by the International Monetary Fund to exceed 8 percent over the next two years The government has set its eyes on transforming the country into a middle income country by 2025 and into a leading manufacturing hub in Africa The Oxford Handbook of the Ethiopian Economy studies this country s unique model of development where the state plays a central role and where a successful industrialization drive has challenged the long held erroneous assumption that industrial policy will never work in poor African countries While much of the volume is focused on post 1991 economic development policy and strategy the analysis is set against the background of the long history of Ethiopia and more specifically on the Imperial period that ended in 1974 the socialist development experiment of the Derg regime between 1974 and 1991 and the policies and strategies of the current EPRDF government that assumed power in 1991 Including a range of contributions from both academic and professional standpoints this volume is a key reference work on the economy of Ethiopia Ethiopian-Eritrean Wars Tom Cooper,Adrien Fontanellaz,2018-07-31 Ethiopia a country of ancient origins in eastern Africa remains a military powerhouse of that continent until our days Nowadays involved in the war in neighboring Somalia Ethiopia was also involved in half a dozen of other armed conflicts over the last 60 years Crucial between these was the Eritrean War of Independence Fought 1961 1991 this was one of biggest armed conflicts on the African continent especially if measured by numbers of involved combatants It included a wide spectrum of operations from classic counterinsurgency COIN to conventional warfare in mountains with the latter being one of the most complex and most demanding undertakings possible to conduct by a military force Campaigns run during the Eritrean War of Independence often included large formations of relatively well equipped forces led by well trained commanders along well thought out plans based on homegrown doctrine The air power played a crucial although not necessarily decisive role in many of battles Nevertheless most of details about this conflict remain unknown in the wider public Similarly relatively few Western observers are aware of relations between the Eritrean liberation movements and various dissident and insurgent movements inside Ethiopia although the synergy of these eventually led the downfall of the so called Derg government in 1991 While the first volume in this mini series spanned the history of wars between Ethiopia and Eritrea between 1961 and 1988 the second covers the period since Correspondingly it is providing coverage of military operations that led to the fall of the Derg government in Ethiopia of 1991 the period of Eritrean military buildup and a complete reorganization of the Ethiopian military in the 1990s and concludes with the first detailed account of the so called Badme War fought between Ethiopia and Eritrea in period 1998 2001 It is illustrated by many contemporary photographs maps and color profiles

Ethiopian Jewish Immigrants in Israel Tanya Schwarz,2016-03-23 This is an ethnographic study of Ethiopian Jews or Beta Israel a few years after their migration from rural Ethiopia to urban Israel For the Beta Israel the most significant issue is not as is commonly assumed adaptation to modern society but rather belonging in their new homeland and the loss of control they are experiencing over their lives and those of their children Ethiopian Jewish immigrants resist those aspects of the dominant society which they dislike they reject normative Jewish practices and uphold Beta Israel religious and cultural ones ideologically counteract disparaging Israeli attitudes develop strong ethnic bonds and engage in overt forms of resistance The difficulties of the present are also overcome by creating a perfect past and an ideal future in what the author calls the homeland postponed all Jews will be united in a colour blind world of material plenty and purity
