The Inside Story of Medicines Gregory Higby, Elaine Condouris Stroud, 1997

Mixed-Mode Modelling: Mixing Methodologies For Organisational Intervention M.G. Nicholls, S.A. Clarke, B. Lehaney, 2001-10-31 The 1980s and 1990s have seen a growing interest in research and practice in the use of methodologies within problem contexts characterised by a primary focus on technology human issues or power During the last five to ten years this has given rise to challenges regarding the ability of a single methodology to address all such contexts and the consequent development of approaches which aim to mix methodologies within a single problem situation This has been particularly so where the situation has called for a mix of technological the so called hard and human centred so called soft methods The approach developed has been termed mixed mode modelling The area of mixed mode modelling is relatively new with the phrase being coined approximately four years ago by Brian Lehaney in a keynote paper published at the 1996 Annual Conference of the UK Operational Research Society Mixed mode modelling as suggested above is a new way of considering problem situations faced by organisations Traditional technological approaches used in management science have suffered criticisms relating to their adequacy in the past few decades and these hard approaches have been replaced by soft methods which consider process more relevant than outcome However the sole use of human centred approaches to organisational problems has also proved to be inadequate Mixed mode modelling accepts the importance of both process and outcome and provides enabling mechanisms for hard and soft investigation to be undertaken

Retailing Denise T. Ogden, James R. Ogden, Robert Paul Jones, 2017-08-02 Light on the fluff solid on the basics the fourth edition of Retailing is a concise text that covers strategic issues with an eye on financial considerations and operations management issues illustrated through retail cases and exercises New co author Robert Paul Jones is Department Chair of Hospitality and Retail Management in the College of Human Sciences at Texas Tech In addition to his extensive academic work Dr Jones has over 25 years of executive leadership and consulting experience in retail and hospitality He uses an Integrated Retail Management flow chart to depict retail functions Most retail texts present students with a series of chapters that provide useful information but fail to explain how the various activities involved in retailing affect each other The 4th edition offers the student an overview of the retail process through the use of an integrated retail management IRM plan The steps involved in retailing as presented in the text are tied together through the IRM plan Expanded coverage of Mobile and e Tailing and included throughout the text and not treated as a stand alone chapter This helps emphasize that e tailing is a form of retailing that uses many of the same models as other forms Includes updated cases and real world examples And omni channel retailing incorporated throughout text
