reader for understanding a professional competencies framework for social work through a new approach. It not only discusses what professional competencies are and why they are significant but it also shows how to develop a professional competencies approach, measure and research competencies and learn how to use them to empower professional identity and career development. There has been growing interest to define the social work profession within a professional competencies framework. Professional competencies are considered in their complexity as a triangle of knowledge, skills and values. They are not solely a tool for education and practice but they are also important for professional socialization and identity in social work. A professional competencies approach has been used to define standards and expectations for social workers, practitioners, it is an evaluation tool for formal education and lifelong learning programs, provides guidance for field practice and placements for social work students and could be a frame for distinguishing levels of professional expertise. The volume provides an up to date comprehensive overview of a professional competencies approach in social work with 10 chapters organized in four sections: Part I Understanding a Professional Competencies Approach including Criticisms of the Competency Based Education Approach; Part II Major Areas of Professional Competencies including Leadership and Professional Socialisation; Part III Measuring Professional Competencies and Education Outcomes including How to Conceptualise, Operationalise and Measure Professional Competencies in Social Work; Part IV Professional Competencies and Professional Development including A Model of Holistic Competence in Social Work and the unique Professional Capabilities Framework. Social Work in the Frame of a Professional Competencies Approach is essential reading for social work instructors, academics and national professional associations interested in developing or reviewing their professional competencies framework. It is an invaluable resource for experts in statutory bodies that set up a legislative framework of social work practice or work in the accreditation of social work education programs. The book is useful for social work students interested in understanding the theoretical background of social work as well as for field practitioners who wish to use professional competencies for their self reflection, self evaluation and professional identity.

Family and Gendered Violence and Conflict Ruchi Sinha, Pekham Basu, 2024-11-19. This reference work collates academic discourses and practices around family, gender and violence in social work. A huge body of discourse is available that categorizes and labels acts of violence and correspondingly practices that pin blame responsibility for the violence. These have led to evolution of intervention strategies to resolve or address the violence. Some explanations foreground systemic causes, others look at person centric causes. The two views bring forth the fundamental ontological divide of structuralism and individualism. The question for social workers to debate is what to factor in while working with families experiencing violence and conflict. What amongst the person, the agency or the structure needs to be addressed to understand the experience of families in conflict and violence. Are these positions supplementary, complementary or to be understood reflexively? With the inclusion of new families, the parochial understanding of families has long been dislodged and given way to newer radical and contextual understanding of families Similarly different people agencies and states understand violence and conflict differently Gender too has moved from the binaries of male and female to the gender diverse LGBTQIA identities The book positions the ontological premise on which the epistemological practise is located Simply put the person centric ontology on families and violence epistemologically finds understanding in agency based approaches in individual agency whereas the structure based approaches find the experience of families and violence in society state and the world order The contributors locate their work around identification definition an intervention or empirical study policy analysis historical evolution of concepts and ontological and paradigmatic debates to position their individual chapters Family and Gendered Violence and Conflict Pan Continent Reach provides a paradigmatic prism for practice for social workers who are equipped to interpret context differently The differing and competing paradigmatic lenses cannot be mediated resolved or addressed but they definitely can be understood and debated to provide a 360 degree lens on the issues of families in violence in the gendered context The reference work is a useful resource for social work practitioners educators academicians researchers and other development professionals

Empowering Social Workers Manohar Pawar, Richard Hugman, Andrew Alexandra, A. W. (Bill) Anscombe, 2017-03-14 This book demonstrates the central role of ethical character in effective social work practice Showcasing select biographies of social workers it reveals how skilled practitioners have developed such core virtues as compassion love commitment prudence respect for human dignity and a critical sense of social justice through the course of their working lives and how they apply these virtues in a wide variety of settings and situations to enhance the well being of the people and communities they work with As such the book offers a powerful and inspiring resource to help educators students and practitioners understand the unbreakable link between what social workers and other social welfare and social development professionals do and who they are and thereby cultivate core qualities that should be promoted Pawar Hugman Alexandra and Anscombe have found a novel and creative way to explore virtues in social work by examining the career contributions of a group of social work practitioners engaged in virtuous action Their stories are inspiring and they provide much needed role models for students and practitioners embarking on empowering practice Dr Mel Gray Professor of Social Work The University of Newcastle New South Wales Australia In an age where the virtues of truth cooperation and doing the right thing are increasingly being eroded in public life this book serves as both an inspiration and invaluable resource to all social work practitioners seeking to reflect on and improve their practice Dr Martin Ryan Social Worker Counsellor Community Educator Jesuit Social Services Melbourne The editors are to be commended for examining the virtuous characters of these ten professional social workers The use of detailed biographies is an innovative and important approach which helps us to appreciate just what a tremendous impact the virtues can have Dr Christian B Miller A C Reid Professor of Philosophy Director The Character Project Wake Forest University USA      2023-11-01      Empowerment
