Determinants Of Internet Mediation Researchgate:

COVID-19 Epidemiological Situation as a Psychosocial Determinant of Trauma and Stress Mateusz Krystian

Grajek,Jonathan Adedayo Odukoya,Ewa Misterska,Mateusz Rozmiarek,2024-01-24 In addition to the infectious context the COVID 19 pandemic has brought many complications to social life Fear anxiety misinformation and loneliness associated with isolation as well as uncertainty about the days ahead have already caused psychological and emotional changes in many people Many social groups such as cancer patients the elderly schoolchildren and people with disabilities were particularly vulnerable to the psychosocial effects of the COVID 19 pandemic In light of current data even the WHO suggests that the psychological context of the pandemic may have caused more psychological damage than World War II Some researchers also infer the existence already of a post pandemic stress syndrome which is currently not an official medical diagnosis but rather a subtype of PTSD that is being diagnosed Also noted in the context of the pandemic is the breakdown of many social ties due to isolation loneliness the development of symptoms of depressive or anxiety disorders and the transformation of social life Thus it seems reasonable to estimate the magnitude of phenomena of psychosocial importance resulting from the impact of the epidemiological situation associated with the COVID 19 pandemic The primary issue to be considered within the framework of the topic is the identification of psychosocial factors affecting the quality of mental and social health of various social groups which are determined by the epidemiological situation associated with COVID 19 In this view the determining variables will be personal feelings of stress fear anxiety depression discouragement alienation and loneliness and in a global sense the reference of these phenomena to the comfort and quality of social life with particular emphasis on interpersonal relationships COVID 19 as mentioned above continues to be an important social issue and although the situation related to it has recently softened and media reports becoming less frequent It is inferred that we will only now see the full impact of the problems associated with the mental health crisis and the breakdown of interpersonal relationships caused by the COVID 19 pandemic

World Development Report 2016 World Bank Group,2016-01-14 Digital technologies are spreading rapidly but digital dividends the broader benefits of faster growth more jobs and better services are not If more than 40 percent of adults in East Africa pay their utility bills using a mobile phone why can t others around the world do the same If 8 million entrepreneurs in China one third of them women can use an e commerce platform to export goods to 120 countries why can t entrepreneurs elsewhere achieve the same global reach And if India can provide unique digital identification to 1 billion people in five years and thereby reduce corruption by billions of dollars why can t other countries replicate its success Indeed what s holding back countries from realizing the profound and transformational effects that digital technologies are supposed to deliver Two main reasons First nearly 60 percent of the world s population are still offline and can t participate in the digital economy in any meaningful way Second and more important the benefits of digital technologies can be offset by growing risks Startups can disrupt incumbents but not when vested interests and regulatory uncertainty obstruct competition and the entry of new firms Employment opportunities may be greater but not when the labor market is polarized The internet can be a platform for universal empowerment but not when it becomes a tool for state control and elite capture The World Development Report 2016 shows that while the digital revolution has forged ahead its analog complements the regulations that promote entry and competition the skills that enable workers to access and then leverage the new economy and the institutions that are accountable to citizens have not kept pace And when these analog complements to digital investments are absent the development impact can be disappointing What then should countries do They should formulate digital development strategies that are much broader than current information and communication technology ICT strategies They should create a policy and institutional environment for technology that fosters the greatest benefits In short they need to build a strong analog foundation to deliver digital dividends to everyone everywhere Digital Finance Perry Beaumont,2019-09-10 The internet is dramatically transforming the way business is done particularly for financial services Digital Finance takes a thoughtful look at how the industry is evolving and it explains how to integrate concepts of digital finance into existing traditional finance platforms This book explores what successful companies are doing to maximize their opportunities in this context and offers suggestions on how to introduce digital finance into a firm s structure Specific strategies for a digital future are presented alongside numerous case studies that explore key attributes of success In recognition of the rapidly evolving nature of finance today Digital Finance is accompanied by a website maintained by the author PerryBeaumont.com as well as links to other content with insightful articles analyses and opinions For both practitioners and students of finance Digital Finance provides a rich context for a better understanding of the landscape of
