Evaluation Methodologies for Aid in Conflict Ole Winckler Andersen, Beate Bull, Megan Kennedy-Chouane, 2013-12-13 Knowledge and rigorous evidence around the role of external development partners in situations of conflict and fragility is still lacking There is little accountability for the billions in aid being spent in places like Afghanistan Iraq and the Democratic Republic of Congo This book analyses evaluation theory and practice in order to help fill this knowledge gap and advocates a realistic and rigorous approach to evaluating international engagement Through a series of case studies this book highlights both the promise and potential pitfalls of taking a more evaluative approach to understanding aid in conflict regions These illustrate the methodological and analytical approach taken by researchers working to understand the results and effectiveness of conflict prevention and peacebuilding support While well grounded in current theoretical and methodological debates the book provides valuable practical information by examining how and why different choices were made in the context of each evaluation The book shows what future steps may be envisaged to further strengthen evaluations of support for conflict prevention and peacebuilding The analysis draws on a wealth of perspectives and voices to provide researchers and students in development studies and conflict and peace studies as well as development evaluators with a deep and broad understanding of evaluation methods and approaches formative Evaluation for Educational Technologies Barbara N. Flagg, 2013-04-03 The designers of educational or training programs that employ electronic technology might have many questions about a project while it is still in the early stages of development For instance Is the program's presentation too simple or too complex for its target audience Does the pacing of the program help or hinder comprehension Which aspects of the program are the most appealing and why Formative evaluation can answer these or similar questions It can help guide designers of television programs microcomputer software interactive videodiscs or virtually any other educational item in making modifications that can lead to the development of a final product that fully achieves its stated goals Until very recently however the person interested in avoiding potential problems through the use of formative evaluation would have been faced with difficulties of a different kind Comprehensive treatment of formative evaluation has been scarce and published discussion on formative evaluation of computer based materials has been virtually nonexistent Until now that is Barbara Flagg's Formative Evaluation for Educational Technologies provides comprehensive treatment of formative evaluation The book offers extensive coverage of all the methods evaluators might use to assess the user friendliness the appeal and the outcome effectiveness of an educational program extensive focus on new technologies coverage of all phases of program development from initial idea to final product discussion of formative evaluation as part of the broader field of curriculum evaluation numerous case studies This volume will appeal to a wide variety of people engaged in formative evaluation It is an excellent guide for newcomers to the field it is a state of the art document for established practitioners of instructional design and curriculum evaluation
