Doxiadis Architectural Space In Ancient Greece:

Architectural Space in Ancient Greece Constantinos Apostolou Doxiadis, Kōnstantinos A. Doxiadēs, 1972-01 Doxiadis is best known as an architect planner as a consultant with an international clientele as something of a prophet whose outlook is focused on man's worldwide future But here in his first major study originally published in German in 1937 Doxiadis looks back into the past to the architectural roots of his native Greece He works out a theory that accounts for the seemingly unordered layout of the buildings in ancient Greek sacred precincts proposing that the spatial relationships between the buildings were strictly determined according to a plan Doxiadis examines in detail nearly thirty sites charts their layouts and presents relevant linear and angular measurements Numerous site plans and about forty halftones complement the text The full references include many recent sources The trim size of the book itself is proportioned by means of the golden section

Architectural Space in Ancient Greece C. A. Doxiadis, 1972 Studies in Hellenistic Architecture Frederick E. Winter, Janos Fedak, 2006-01-01 Studies in Hellenistic Architecture is a detailed analysis of the development of the major building types of the Hellenistic age the mid fourth century B C to the time of the Roman conquest of the Eastern Mediterranean In this meticulous work Frederick E Winter reveals how the architects of the period went beyond anything achieved by their Classical Greek predecessors and how these impressive skills prepared the way for many of Rome's later architectural achievements Geographically the monuments included in this volume extend from Spain to Afghanistan and from Provence to North Africa Winter discusses the architectural achievements of the various regional styles of the Eastern Mediterranean and takes a detailed look at Hellenistic developments west of the Adriatic While the interrelationship of these regional developments is often unclear especially in cases where there are no explicit criteria for dating Winter makes excellent use of the advance in scholarship over the past fifty to sixty years offering the first real attempt at a synthesis of this vast subject Studies in Hellenistic Architecture is an invaluable resource containing a wealth of illustrations of the various types of Hellenistic building and the most comprehensive scholarship to date on the topic Architectural Space in Ancient Greece Kōnstantinos Apostolu Doxiadēs, 1972 Hephaistos. Kritische Zeitschrift zu Theorie und Praxis der Archäologie und angrenzender Gebiete. 29/2012 , From Doxiadis' Theory to Pikionis' Work Kostas Tsiambaos, 2017-09-22 In this book Tsiambaos redefines the ground breaking theory of Greek architect and town planner Constantinos A Doxiadis The Form of Space in Ancient Greece and moves his thesis away from antiquity and ancient architecture instead arguing that it can only be understood as a theory founded in modernity In light of this the author explores Doxiadis theory in relation to the work of the controversial Greek architect Dimitris Pikionis This parallel investigation of the philosophical content of Doxiadis theory and the design principles of Pikionis work establishes a new frame of reference and creates a valuable and original interpretation of their work Using innovative cross disciplinary tools and methods which expand the historical boundaries of interwar modernism the book restructures the ground of an alternative modernity that looks towards the future through a mirror that reflects the ancient past From Doxiadis Theory to Pikionis Work Reflections of Antiquity in Modern Architecture is fascinating reading for all scholars and students with an interest in modernism and antiquity the history and theory of architecture the history of ideas and aesthetics or town planning theory and design Architecture and Mathematics from Antiquity to the Future Kim Williams, Michael J. Ostwald, 2015-02-09 Every age and every culture has relied on the incorporation of mathematics in their works of architecture to imbue the built environment with meaning and order Mathematics is also central to the production of architecture to its methods of measurement fabrication and analysis This two volume edited collection presents a detailed portrait of the ways in which two seemingly different disciplines are interconnected Over almost 100 chapters it illustrates and examines the relationship between architecture and mathematics Contributors of these chapters come from a wide range of disciplines and backgrounds architects mathematicians historians theoreticians scientists and educators Through this work architecture may be seen and understood in a new light by professionals as well as non professionals Volume I covers architecture from antiquity through Egyptian Mayan Greek Roman Medieval Inkan Gothic and early Renaissance eras and styles The themes that are covered range from symbolism and proportion to measurement and structural stability From Europe to Africa Asia and South America the chapters span different countries cultures and practices Water Management in Ancient Greek Cities Dora P. Crouch, 1993-06-24 Focusing on the Mediterranean area where water management is crucial this pioneering study is the first to show how the supply distribution and drainage of water contributed to the urbanization of ancient cities Drawing from classical archaeology the theory and history of urbanization geology and hydraulic engineering Crouch examines water system elements including springs fountains wells channels and drains latrines laundry and dishwashing as they relate to each other and to the physical historical and social bases of ancient Greek cities Studying numerous sites including Pompeii Pergamon Athens Samos Delphi and Corinth she concludes that increased knowledge and skill in management of water contributed directly to the urbanization of the ancient Greek world Illustrated with excellent photographs and line drawings the discussions of supply distribution and drainage of water are organized topically rather than chronologically or by site offering an excellent example of the interdisciplinary approach Crouch's study raises stimulating questions for further research indicates entirely new directions for established academic disciplines and suggests useful procedures for modern cities facing problems of water supply and management Reinventing Modern Architecture in Greece Marianna Charitonidou, 2025-05-30 This book examines the connection between the politics of the Marshall Plan and urban planning and identifies the key players such as the Greek architect and urban planner Constantinos A Doxiadis and the Italian industrialist Adriano Olivetti It also explores the architects of the Mataroa mission who played a vital role in the cross fertilisation between France and Greece and the role of travel to Greece for architects during the 19th century This book delves into the work of Constantinos A Doxiadis Adriano Olivetti Alison and Peter Smithson Iannis Xenakis Takis Zenetos

Henri Lefebvre Cornelius Castoriadis Aris Konstantinidis Dimitris Pikionis and others It sheds light on how Doxiadis introduced ekistics as a novel approach to understanding the science of human settlements This book proposes that the manner in which these aforementioned architects and urban planners addressed the role of technology in everyday life and the relationship between society history culture nature architecture and urban planning could enrich our ongoing methods and debates on architecture urban planning ecology social equity and democracy This book is based on extensive archival research and will be of interest to architects artists researchers and students and scholars in architecture architectural history and theory art urban sociology cultural theory science and technology studies philosophy ecology cybernetics and aesthetics

History and Precedent in Environmental Design Anatol Rapoport, 2013-06-29 This book is about a new and different way of approaching and studying the history of the built environment and the use of historical precedents in design However although what I am proposing is new for what is currently called architectural history both my approach and even my conclusions are not that new in other fields as I discovered when I attempted to find supporting evidence In fact of all the disciplines dealing with various aspects of the study of the past architectural history seems to have changed least in the ways I am advocating There is currently a revival of interest in the history of architecture and urban form a similar interest applies to theory vernacular design and culture environment relations After years of neglect the study of history and the use of historical precedent are again becoming important However that interest has not led to new approaches to the subject nor have its bases been examined This I try to do In so doing I discuss a more rigorous and I would argue a more valid way of looking at historical data and hence of using such data in a theory of the built environment and as precedent in environmental design Underlying this is my view of Environment Behavior Studies CEBS as an emerging theory rather than as data to help design based on current theory Although this will be the subject of another book a summary statement of this position may be useful The Place of the Viewer Kerr Houston, 2019-05-07 In recent decades art historians and critics have occasionally emphasized a dynamic embodied mode of looking accenting the role of the viewer and the complex interplay between beholders and works of art In The Place of the Viewer Kerr Houston shows that an attention to the position and physical experiences of beholders has in fact long informed art historical analyses and that close study of the theme can lead to a fuller understanding of the discipline the act of viewership and individual works of art Simultaneously attentive to historical ideas and contemporary scholarship this book identifies a vein of thought that has been generally overlooked and proposes new ways of seeing familiar works and traditions Modernism and the Professional Architecture Journal Torsten Schmiedeknecht, Andrew Peckham, 2018-06-27 The production of this book stems from two of the editors longstanding research interests the representation of architecture in print media and the complex identity of the second phase of modernism in architecture given the role it played in postwar reconstruction in Europe While the history of postwar reconstruction has been increasingly well covered for most European countries research investigating postwar architectural magazines and journals across Europe their role in the discourse and production of the built environment and particularly their inter relationship and differing conceptions of postwar architecture is relatively undeveloped Modernism and the Professional Architecture Journal sounds out this territory in a new collection of essays concerning the second phase of the reception and assimilation of modernism in architecture as it was represented in professional architecture journals during the period of postwar reconstruction 1945-1968 Professional architecture journals are often seen as conduits of established facts and knowledge The role mainstream publications play however in establishing movements trends or debates tends to be undervalued In the context of the complex undertaking of postwar reconstruction the shortage of resources political uncertainty and the biographical complexities of individual architects the chapters on key European architecture journals collected here reveal how modernist architecture and its discourse was perceived and disseminated in different European countries

Perspectives on Public Space in Rome, from Antiquity to the Present Day Jan Gadeyne, 2016-04-22 This volume provides readers interested in urban history with a collection of essays on the evolution of public space in that paradigmatic western city which is Rome Scholars specialized in different historical periods contributed chapters in order to find common themes which weave their way through one of the most complex urban histories of western civilization Divided into five chronological sections Antiquity Middle Ages Renaissance Baroque Modern and Contemporary the volume opens with the issue of how public space was defined in classical Roman law and how ancient city managers organized the maintenance of these spaces before moving on to explore how this legacy was redefined and reinterpreted during the Middle Ages The third group of essays examines how the imposition of papal order on feuding families during the Renaissance helped introduce a new urban plan which could satisfy both functional and symbolic needs The fourth section shows how modern Rome continued to express strong interest in the control and management of public space the definition of which was necessarily selective in this vastly extensive city The collection ends with an essay on the contemporary debate for revitalizing Rome s eastern periphery Through this long term chronological approach the volume offers a truly unique insight into the urban development of one of Europe s most important cities and concludes with a discuss of the challenges public space faces today after having served for so many centuries as a driving force in urban history Shaping Ceremony Mary B.

Hollinshead,2015 Shaping Ceremony offers a fresh approach to ancient Greek architecture using the overlooked subject of monumental steps incorporating biomechanics theory and social context Body, Memory, and Architecture Kent C.

Bloomer,Charles Willard Moore,Robert J. Yudell,Buzz Yudell,1977-01-01 Traces the significance of the human body in architecture from its early place as the divine organizing principle to its present near elimination Function and Meaning in Classic Maya Architecture Stephen D.
