Prospects for Regional Integration in Africa Andreas Freytag, Abena D. Oduro, African integration has had a long history dating back to the end of colonization in the 1960s. It has generated enormous interest in recent years not least because the continent has recently taken some bold steps to integrate further such as the Tripartite Free Trade Area or the creation of the African Continental Free Trade Area AfCFTA. With this book we offer an innovative perspective on African integration. By inviting mostly young African scholars from different disciplines in the social sciences and humanities we make African voices audible and start a discussion of the African integration efforts from an African perspective using novel criteria to judge different African integration attempts. In addition to the younger generation's representatives we also invited scholars from Europe and Latin America to bring other continents' perspectives to the fore.

Migration in Southern Africa Pragna Rugunanan, Nomkhosi Xulu-Gama, 2022-05-30. This open access Regional Reader proposes new ways of theorizing migration in Southern Africa by arguing that traditional western forms of theorizing do not adequately fit the South-South migration context. It explores the existing definitions of a migrant with a view to conceptualise a definition which will speak to the complexities envisioning a more inclusive Southern African region. The book investigates the various levels of migration moving from the local rural to urban and urban to rural to cross border migration, middle class versus working class migrant household livelihoods, livelihoods procurement versus wage earning, social capital networks and how they make meaning of their circumstances in a foreign space. It also acknowledges the intertwined issues of gender and class as important in analyzing migration processes and the chapters feature both in varying dimensions. As such the book provides a great resource for students, academics and policy makers.
