Developing Pedagogies Learning The Teaching Of English:

Developing Critical Languaculture Pedagogies in Higher Education Adriana Raquel Díaz, 2013-09-17 Despite widespread agreement about the need to develop interculturally competent graduates there is a lack of agreement about how this goal may be achieved in practice This is significant as universities around the world particularly in English speaking countries have espoused an interculturally aware vision for their future graduates and turned to language education as an inherently intercultural activity to expose students to a world which is linguistically and culturally different from their own This book focuses on narrowing the gap between the often conflicting theoretical and practical imperatives faced by language teachers in an internationalised higher education context It does so by providing comprehensive conceptual discussions of emerging critical intercultural language pedagogies as well as empirical accounts and case studies from the frontline Digital Humanities Pedagogy Brett D. Hirsch, 2012 The essays in this collection offer a timely intervention in digital humanities scholarship bringing together established and emerging scholars from a variety of humanities disciplines across the world The first section offers views on the practical realities of teaching digital humanities at undergraduate and graduate levels presenting case studies and snapshots of the authors experiences alongside models for future courses and reflections on pedagogical successes and failures The next section proposes strategies for teaching foundational digital humanities methods across a variety of scholarly disciplines and the book concludes with wider debates about the place of digital humanities in the academy from the field s cultural assumptions and social obligations to its political visions 4e de couverture

Contemporary Pedagogies in Teacher Education and Development Yehudith Weinberger, Zipora Libman, 2018-08-22 As with most dynamic activities that are based on social and cultural contexts and rely on interactions education is a complex and often ambiguous endeavor Despite this complexity scholars and educators are often required to find ways of defining and explaining what good teaching is and to incorporate these conclusions into teacher education This book contains eight scholarly articles from various countries around the world and offers unique and up to date perspectives on relevant practices and pedagogies for teachers professional education and development In this international book it is argued that there is a significant inspiration and enrichment to be gained by investigating the policies and practices of teacher education systems from all over the world Handbook of Research on Program Development and Assessment Methodologies in K-20 Education Wang, Viktor, 2017-11-30 As the educational system continues to evolve it is essential that educators of today devise innovative and strategic approaches to program development and assessment The Handbook of Research on Program Development and Assessment Methodologies in K 20 Education is an essential reference source for the latest terminology and concepts related to program development Featuring extensive coverage on a broad range of topics such as cognitive diagnostic assessments self directed learning and digital education this publication is ideally designed for educators students program designers and librarians seeking current research on inventive strategies and practices to enhance education in the 21st century      Developing Writers Across the Primary and Secondary Years Honglin Chen, Debra Myhill, Helen Lewis, 2020-03-09 Writing development and pedagogy is a high priority area particularly with standardised testing showing declines in writing across time and through the years of schooling However to date there are relatively few texts for teachers and teacher educators which detail how best to enable the children to become confident autonomous and agentic writers of the future Developing Writers Across the Primary and Secondary Years provides cumulative insights into how writing develops and how it can be taught across years of compulsory schooling This edited collection is a timely and original contribution addressing a significant literacy need for teachers of writing across three key stages of writing development covering early 4 7 years old primary 7 12 years old and secondary years 12 16 years old in Anglophone countries Each section addresses two broader themes becoming a writer with a child oriented focus and writing pedagogy with a teacher oriented focus Together the book brings to bear rigorous research and deep professional understanding of the writing classroom It offers a novel approach conceiving of writing development as a dynamic and multidimensional concept Such an integrated interdisciplinary understanding enables pedagogical thinking and development to address more holistically the complex act of writing      Developing Online Language Teaching Regine Hampel, 2015-03-24 When moving towards teaching online teachers are confronted every day with issues such as online moderation establishing social presence online transitioning learners to online environments giving feedback online This book supports language teaching professionals and researchers who are keen to engage in online teaching and learning      Science Education Shamin Padalkar, Mythili Ramchand, Rafikh Shaikh, Indira Vijaysimha, 2022-07-26 The book presents key perspectives on teaching and learning science in India It offers adaptive expertise to teachers and educators through a pedagogic content knowledge PCK approach Using cases and episodes from Indian science classrooms to contextualise ideas and practices the volume discusses the nature of science and aspects of assessments and evaluations for both process skills and conceptual understanding of the subject It examines the significance of science education at school level and focuses on meaningful learning and development of scientific and technological aptitude The chapters deal with topics from physics chemistry and biology at the middle and secondary school levels and are designed to equip student teachers with theoretical and practical knowledge abilities about science science learning and the abilities to teach these topics along with teaching The book draws extensively from research on science education and teacher education and shifts away from knowledge transmission to the active process of constructivist teaching learning practices The authors use illustrative examples to highlight flexible planning for inclusive classrooms Based on studies on cognitive and developmental psychology pedagogical content knowledge of science socio cultural approaches to learning science and the history and philosophy of science the book promotes an understanding of science characterized by empirical criteria logical arguments and sceptical reviews With its accessible style examples exercises and additional references it will be useful for students and teachers of science science educators BEd and MEd on Blended Learning Pedagogies and Professional Development in Higher Education is a critical research publication that delves into the importance of effective professional development for educators planning and teaching online or blended courses. It also establishes the benefits of technology mediated learning environments over traditional learning methods. Highlighting a wide array of topics such as online learning environments, active learning model, and educational development, this publication explores technology based teaching methods in higher education. This book is targeted toward educators, educational administrators, academicians, researchers, and professionals within the realm of higher education. Pedagogies for Autonomy in Language Teacher Education Manuel Jiménez Raya, Borja Manzano Vázquez, Flávia Vieira, 2024-06-28. This book aims to challenge established teaching cultures to promote teacher autonomy and autonomy oriented pedagogies in language teacher education. Offering a set of inspiring case studies that illustrate language teacher education for autonomy as a space of multiple possibilities, the book fuses theory and practice and gives a holistic view of the changing landscape of language teacher education, accounting for the transformative power of educational practices that help teachers think and act in informed, context specific and learner centred ways. It also demonstrates the importance of autonomy in language teacher education contexts, specifically to foster teachers' professional learning identity and agency, as well as in assessing and reshaping teacher education programmes. This book will be particularly useful to researchers, scholars, and postgraduate students in the fields of teaching and teacher education, modern foreign languages, and teaching and learning language research more broadly. Curriculum designers and language teacher education programme directors may also find the volume of use.

Developing Pedagogies of Compassion in Higher Education Kathryn Waddington, Bryan Bonaparte, 2024-09-07. This collection addresses intersections and gaps between practice, theory, and research that both connect and divide compassion and pedagogies. In foregrounding practice, it makes an important contribution to the growing call for universities and educators to adopt inclusive, student centred approaches that challenge us to fundamentally re think what universities do. It celebrates the role of students as co creators of knowledge, locating them at the heart of what pedagogies of compassion in higher education should feel like and look like. It examines how compassion can become both critical and strategic in order to disrupt systems and orthodoxies that are no longer fit for purpose in a post pandemic world. The ultimate goal the book aims to address is the need for humane universities driven by compassion rather than profit, which can help to build fairer and more socially just societies. The book extends the theoretical and practical discussions of compassion as a fundamental organizing principle in higher education. It brings fresh interdisciplinary thinking, theories, and approaches, including the neuroscience of compassion, classical Eastern philosophies, intersectional compassion, sustainability, and environmental stewardship. It also includes critical reflection on experiences, challenges, barriers, and enablers across multiple levels and perspectives. These range from reflections on compassion in the classroom to compassion in the boardroom, as well as in the many other spaces and places where learning occurs. It offers a creative collection of essays on compassionate practices in higher education and appeals to anyone who is concerned about the moral standing of the university For some time now we have been told that universities must be viewed on the business model but this has only discouraged faculty students and staff As the contributors show however the very idea that teaching and educational practices could be more closely linked to compassion is definitely appealing and it gives us a more inspiring way of thinking about the university of the future Richard J White Creighton University Omaha NE USA

Policy Development in TESOL and Multilingualism Kashif Raza,Christine Coombe,Dudley Reynolds,2021-08-22 The book is of interest to scholars of multilingualism language teachers researchers and administrators who are developing policies on teaching English and promoting multilingualism Given its scope this edited collection provides an overview of how multilingualism is transforming the practice of Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages TESOL in diverse contexts around the world It serves as a platform for discussions related to policy enactment where TESOL and multilingualism are viewed as collaborative endeavours and approaches the topic from three different angles The first section of the book provides critical examinations of previous initiatives and accomplishments in the area of language policy development and implementation The second section describes current projects and initiatives intended to expand and strengthen the field of TESOL while providing space for local and indigenous languages to develop The third and last part of the book highlights policy development areas that need special consideration in order to develop a form of TESOL that builds on and contributes to multilingualism

Education in Indonesia Zulfa Sakhiyya,Teguh Wijaya Mulya,2023-07-13 This book offers a critical analysis on Indonesian education by drawing from various critical perspectives and theoretical frameworks to explore persistent challenges and social inequality problems in the education sector Critical perspectives are important to reveal how education is not a neutral mechanistic process of cultivating the knowledge and skills of future generation Instead it is a battleground in which competing visions ideologies discourses religious values and political interests struggle for dominance in a given society In each of the sections contributors draw upon specific case studies and employ critical theories to analyze power relations or to identify and destabilize underlying structures dominant discourses hegemonic knowledge policies or practices Some authors also highlight data evidencing inequities inequalities or injustices in Indonesian education system As a handbook the emphasis on critical perspectives is useful to identify and evaluate the blind spots of dominant policy discourses and their pedagogical consequences The plurality of critical approaches also means that this book is necessarily multidisciplinary A unique feature of this book is the fact that most authors are Indonesian academics who bring with them tacit knowledge of practices and issues Overall this book enriches the literature by bringing together different disciplinary perspectives such as political science psychology international relations economics and linguistics to critically examine important issues related to education in Indonesia
